FLOOD CRESTS HERE AT 42 FEET

PLEASED WITH VOTE. Hancock County school officials are obviously well-pleased with the results of Tuesday's special election in which a levy renewal won by a large margin. The sign tells the story. Called 'Smashing Victory'

Hancock Voters Renew School Levy By Big Edge

The Hancock County Board of Education looked ahead less apprehensively today to its budget-setting session for 1964-65 after a smashing victory for a school levy renewal in a special election Tuesday.

County voters gave overwhelming support to the board's proposal for renewal of a levy commonly called a "100 per cent" school levy on personal property and real estate. In effect since 1959, it provides $1,135,989 annually for operation of the school system.

REQUIRING only a 60 per cent affirmative vote for passage, the levy renewal was approved by 71.5 per cent for another five years. The vote was:

For the levy	3,471
Against	1,381

Rain and swirling flood waters that blocked major highways in the county were blamed for what was described as a "light" turnout at the polls in Chester, Newell, Pughtown, New Cumberland and Weirton.

A total of 4,852 marked ballots at 38 polling sites, representing only a small percentage of the number eligible.

Expressing gratitude at the overwhelming victory for the levy renewal, Supt. Robert H. Hall said the school system is now in "sound" financial shape for the next five years.

—:—

"THE RESULTS are most gratifying," Supt. Hall said after the final tallies were counted at the Board of Education office in New Cumberland Junior High School.

He commented the board expects no difficulty in completing work on the new budget, to be set before March 28.

The levy renewal drew solid support in all but three precincts in the county.

It was defeated, 47-33, at Precinct 12, at the office of Squire John D. Herron, in New Cumberland, where the polling site was surrounded by flood waters long before the voting hours had expired. It split, 36-36, at the New Cumberland School, which is Precinct 13. In Precinct 38 in Weirton, the measure was favored only by a vote of 91-61.

HOWEVER, the levy renewal received support from at least 60 per cent of the overall vote in each of the three magisterial districts of Grant, Clay and Butler.

In Grant, the Chester - Newell area, it was favored by 962 voters, with 361 dissenting, for a turnout of 1,323. The levy, in effect, was supported by 72 per cent of the Grant voters.

Clay District in New Cumberland went for the levy by a vote of 405 to 260, or 60.9 per cent.

In the Butler District area, which embraces Weirton, the levy was favored by 2,104 voters, with 760 against, or 73.4 per cent in support.

Funds derived from the levy will be used for general school expenses, including costs of school buses, transportation, textbooks, pupil equipment and supplies, repairs and maintenance of buildings and salaries.

Passage means continuation for five years of these levy rates on property and real estate: Class I, $2.28 per $1,000 valuation; Class II, $4.59, and Classes III and IV, $9.18.

In campaigning for the issue, Supt. Hall explained passage means a person whose home is assessed at $4,500, the average, will continue to pay $20.65 under the "100 per cent levy," $20.65 for the regular school levy, and $8.73 for the bond issue approved in 1961, or a total of $50.03 each year for schools.

THE county's expenditure per pupil at present, is $322, as compared to the national average of $432, a difference of $110.

Despite the flood, the precinct workers reported to the board office quickly after the polls had closed at 7:30 Tuesday

500 Driven From Low Area Homes

Freezing Spell And High Winds Add To Misery Of Evacuees

The rampaging Ohio River crested early today at an estimated 42 feet at East Liverpool as approximately 500 evacuees in the Tri-State area waited for the worst flood in 10 years to begin receding so they can return to their muddy homes.

Lockmaster Charles Boughner said the crest was reached at 5 a. m. at Montgomery Dam at Ohio View, just about a foot short of the comparable flood stage of 41.9 in 1954. The dam recorded a crest of 40.9 this morning, with an additional foot or so for East Liverpool.

The river remained stationary then started receding slowly, going down only three-tenths of a foot by 11 a. m. He predicted the rate of fall will remain slight through Thursday morning, probably dropping only a foot or more by tomorrow.

He based the forecast on Pittsburgh's expectations that the rivers there will drop only about a foot or more in the next 18 hours. A stage of 29 feet is expected there tomorrow after a crest of 31.4 early today.

The fall should accelerate tomorrow with fair skies removing the danger of any more rain. Over 3.5 inches of rain during the weekend had set the stream rising out of its banks, fed by numerous creeks that overflowed.

City officials had been advised last night in a revised crest prediction that the flooding here might reach 42 to 43 feet, and the actual crest was close to that minimum.

Sub-freezing temperatures overnight helped reduce the rate of rise but added to the misery of flood sufferers evacuated from their homes Tuesday in low-lying communities on both sides of the river.

There was no immediate estimate of possible damage—in dollars and cents — but it apparently will be light as there was no report of any structures swept away.

However, inundated homes will require a cleanup and renovation, while relief agencies such as Red Cross Chapters will spend unestimated amounts in aid to the evacuees.

Rescue crews in Empire, Stratton, New Cumberland and other sections had to battle high winds and snow squalls yesterday afternoon as they trucked furniture and personal possessions in an estimated 125 homes to higher ground.

Rowboats plying the swift current in the business district late Tuesday night — drifting up and down main street beneath a flashing traffic light — made a weird scene.

Residents in the low-lying areas who moved to the second stories of their homes could be seen frequently using flashlights to check the rate of rise in the river.

Squire John D. Herron, Red Cross disaster chairman, estimated 50 or more families had been evacuated by today.

Furniture was hauled to buildings on high ground at Ridge Ave., and one family spent the night in a church.

Families who refused to leave their homes moved upstairs, and later were evacuated reluctantly for lack of heat and food.

Volunteers were on duty the entire night, and Police Chief William Webster and his aides used two-way citizens' band radios to direct evacuations.

The Hancock County Sheriff's office said the river had risen to 45.5 feet this morning. It re-

CONGO TAKES TO BOATS. When the streets disappear, then you get out the oars, as any riverside resident knows, and that's what they were doing in Congo today as the swollen Ohio River invaded the small community near Newell. Residents there as in other lowlying areas will have to wait patiently for the muddy stream to recede enough to get started on the clean-up of their homes. But everything that goes up must come down, and they wished Old Man River would depart soon.

2 Ohio Areas Bracing For More Misery

Southern, Central Areas Threatened; Floods Claim Five

By The Associated Press

Flood - weary residents of Southern and Central Ohio braced for more trouble today as rain - swollen rivers threatened to cause more death and destruction and drive hundreds more families from their homes.

Already the floods had claimed at least five lives in Ohio.

Crests well above flood stage were predicted for numerous points along the Ohio and Hocking rivers and in some low lying regions along the Scioto.

Smaller streams that forced numerous evacuations Monday night and Tuesday generally were receding Tuesday night. But the runoff from Monday's heavy rainfall still was building up in the larger rivers.

The Weather Bureau reported that the Hocking River crested Tuesday at Enterprise in Hocking County at 21.9 feet, 10 feet above flood stage and the highest since 1907.

The Hocking was expected to crest at Athens at noon today. The forecast was for 24 feet, one foot higher than the damaging Athens flood of a year ago.

Athens, cut off by inundated highways, was among several communities that set up temporary shelters Tuesday for evacuated families.

Ohio University ordered the evacuation of at least two dormitories but had other housing available. Much of the Athens campus was inundated during the March 1963 flood.

The Weather Bureau at Port Columbus said the Scioto River should crest at 22-23 feet at noon today at Circleville. That community's flood stage is 14 feet. Predicted crest for Chillicothe was 25-26 feet (16-foot flood stage) at midnight tonight, and for Piketon was 30-30½ feet (16-foot flood stage) early Thursday.

At Logan, on the Hocking River, the sheriff's office reported the evacuation of several dozen families and said the Red Cross was providing shelter. Only one road, Ohio 93, remained open out of Logan.

Paint Creek in Ross County, one of the smaller streams that caused major flooding Tuesday, was among streams that were receding. Alum Creek in the Columbus area also was falling.

The Portsmouth area had only two roads still open, U.S. 23 north to Columbus and U. S. 52 east to Huntington, W. Va., the sheriff's office said.

At Columbus, the Highway Patrol reported dozens of highways closed in central and southern counties but said many of them are secondary routes.

Fleeing Rapid Rise

River Rd. Firms Move Equipment

Business firms along the River Rd. evacuated equipment and rolling stock to higher ground Tuesday afternoon and night, escaping the rapid advance of the Ohio River.

The River Rd. evacuation was more general than in the city's two low-lying residential districts, Jethro in the West End and Little England in the East End.

City trucks and employes evacuated one family and its possessions from Jethro and helped another family move its furniture upstairs. In Little England, one family evacuated its home, but without calling for aid from the city.

AT LEAST six homes in Jethro were surrounded with water this morning as the river crested. One building was covered nearly to the eaves. Although some of the homes in Little England were surrounded by water, the occupants sat tight as they have done through many other floods, waiting for the water to recede. One Little England resident termed the crest the highest since 1946. The last comparable flood was in 1954, however.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said city employes assisted in only one evacuation in Jethro in addition to helping another family move its furniture upstairs. He said the rest of the Jethro residents in the flood area apparently moved their furniture above the river's reach.

THE CITY received no requests to aid in evacuations in Little England, he said.

Along the River Rd., YELP Service, Inc., moved 12 to 15 tractors and trailers to safety, shifting them to the Community Parking Lot and to other spots along E. 2nd St.

YELP's terminal is on the west end of the River Rd. near the Chester Bridge. The evacuation work started about 8:30 or 9 last night. The trucks were moved because the area in which they are kept lies lower than the company's office.

Litten Tire Service, in a building just upstream from YELP, also evacuated much of its equipment yesterday afternoon. The boiler of the heating plant was loaded on a truck and moved to safety. Other equipment was shifted upstairs in the two-floor brick building.

ALTHOUGH the building sits at least six feet above the level of the River Rd., employes said there was 4 to 6 inches of water on the main floor this morning as the river crested.

The water crested just two

Return Of Bomber, Crew Of 3 Asked In Tuesday Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States combined an apology with a protest in asking the Soviet Union to help speed the return of an American reconnaissance bomber and its three-man crew shot down Tuesday over Communist East Germany.

The crewmen parachuted from the plane after the shooting, the Defense Department said, but their fate was not known here. The plane was described as unarmed and on a training flight.

The Air Force identified the three crewmen as Capt. David I. Holland, 35, the pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Holland of Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, instructor navigator, son of Abraham Kessler of Philadelphia; and 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, navigator, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Welch of Detroit.

Holland's wife lives at Toul-Rosieres Air Force Base, France, where the crew is stationed. Kessler's wife and two children reside at Toulaire near the base. Welch is single.

The request for Soviet help was made urgently Tuesday night by Assistant Secretary of State William Tyler to Georgi M. Kornienko, minister counselor of the Soviet Embassy.

The State Department announced that Tyler "delivered a strong oral protest" to the Soviet diplomat against "the precipitous action" by Soviet military forces in shooting down the RB66B.

Tyler "also expressed the U.S. government's regrets that the plane became lost and inadvertently crossed the demarcation line between the Federal Republic (West Germany) and East Germany."

This was the second incident of this kind in six weeks and the wording of the U.S. protest after the Soviet destruction of a U.S. T39 jet trainer on Jan. 28 was much harsher. All three men in the trainer were killed.

At that time Tyler made no apology and denounced the Soviet Union's shooting down of the T39 as "a callous and inexcusably brutal act of violence against an unarmed aircraft."

There was no explanation here of the much softer wording of Tuesday night's statement. There was some suggestion that U.S. officials were puzzled, if not embarrassed, by the fact that the RB66B with a pilot and two navigators aboard had strayed across the dividing line in Germany and gotten over Communist territory.

Lodge Sweeps Hampshire Primary With Write-Ins

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Undeclared and absent, Henry Cabot Lodge swept all the prizes in New Hampshire's leadoff primary today with a write-in vote triumph that shuffled the Republican presidential cards.

Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, said in Saigon he will not resign his diplomatic post despite his upset victory in the year's first polling-place test of Republican sentiment.

His write-in vote rolled over hard-running Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—and Lodge men captured all 14 New Hampshire delegate seats at the Republican National Convention.

Goldwater and Rockefeller—declared candidates who spent wintry weeks hunting votes in New Hampshire — challenged Lodge to come home and fight for the nomination.

The ambassador's answer:

"I do not plan to go to the United States. I do not intend to resign."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, another write-in contender, ranked fourth with New Hampshire Republicans.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen trailed far behind.

Goldwater, claiming victory in advance, said he expected to capture seven to 10 delegates.

Lodge 30,659
Goldwater 20,103
Rockefeller 18,734
Nixon 15,042
Smith 2,721
Stassen 1,249

Lodge had captured about 34 per cent of the Republican vote.

It added up to a New Hampshire mandate to Lodge to challenge President Johnson—his boss as ambassador—for the White House.

There were a scattered few write-in votes for Govs. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan.

Defense Rests Case In Ruby Murder Trial

DALLAS (AP)—The defense in Jack Ruby's murder case rested today in the first moment after the jury filed into the courtroom.

As soon as the jury of eight men and four women was seated, Judge Joe B. Brown asked chief defense counsel Melvin Belli who he was calling as his first witness today.

"The defense rests, your honor," Belli said.

This marked the end of direct testimony. Both the defense and the prosecution have lists of rebuttal witnesses. They may be called later this week, depending on what each side does in the battle over Ruby's guilt or innocence in the slaying Nov. 24 of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The last witness for the defense was Dr. Manfred Guttmacher, Baltimore psychiatrist. Guttmacher was on the stand through most of Tuesday. His testimony, in which he gave the opinion that Ruby was not legally sane when he killed Oswald, formed the keystone of the defense case.

Flood's Fascinating—If You Reside On Dry Land

The coffee - colored boiling stream rolls down the valley with the sinuousness of a snake. It's an awesome sight — providing you didn't have to evacuate your home, then contemplate the cleanup of muddy floors and sagging wallpaper—after the stream recedes.

The spectacle of the highest water in 10 years attracted hundreds of spectators along the river Tuesday night, at the Broadway and Walnut St. crossings, at the Smiths Ferry Bridge in East End, and even from the Chester bridge. Spectators milled silently around the water's edge until darkness and cold drove them away.

A 24-hour vigil maintained by the Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service in Pittsburgh helped alert East Liverpool area communities against the rising Ohio.

Vernon Houghton, chief river forecaster, and his staff made periodic calls to the East Liverpool police department, relaying the latest information on the river's expected crest. The police department then passed on the data to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

The flood forecasting service formerly made telephone calls to several East Liverpool agencies. Under a new setup that went into effect after construction of the Stratton "superdam," it decided to give the alert only to one agency in each community, avoiding a duplication of calls and consequent lost time.

Every four to six hours, the agency received reports at its Pittsburgh office from 125 stations along the Ohio, the Al-

He commented the board expects no difficulty in completing work on the new budget, to be set before March 28.

The levy renewal drew solid support in all but three precincts in the county.

It was defeated, 47-33, at Precinct 12, at the office of Squire John D. Herron, in New Cumberland, where the polling site was surrounded by flood waters long before the voting hours had expired. In Grant, the Chester - Newell area, it was favored by 962 voters, with 361 dissenting, for a turnout of 1,323. The levy, in effect, was supported by 72 per cent of the Grant voters.

Clay District in New Cumberland went for the levy by a vote of 405 to 260, or 60.9 per cent.

In the Butler District area, which embraces Weirton, the levy was favored by 2,104 voters, with 760 against, or 73.4 per cent in support.

Funds derived from the levy will be used for general school expenses, including costs of school buses, transportation, textbooks, pupil equipment and supplies, repairs and maintenance of buildings and salaries.

500 Driven From Low Area Homes

Freezing Spell And High Winds Add To Misery Of Evacuees

The rampaging Ohio River crested early today at an estimated 42 feet at East Liverpool as approximately 500 evacuees in the Tri-State area waited for the worst flood in 10 years to begin receding so they can return to their muddy homes.

2 Ohio Areas Bracing For More Misery

Southern, Central Areas Threatened; Floods Claim Five

By The Associated Press

Flood - weary residents of Southern and Central Ohio braced for more trouble today as rain - swollen rivers threatened to cause more death and destruction and drive hundreds more families from their homes.

Already the floods had claimed at least five lives in Ohio.

Crests well above flood stage were predicted for numerous points along the Ohio and Hocking rivers and in some low lying regions along the Scioto.

Smaller streams that forced numerous evacuations Monday night and Tuesday generally were receding Tuesday night. But the runoff from Monday's heavy rainfall still was building up in the larger rivers.

The Weather Bureau reported that the Hocking River crested Tuesday at Enterprise in Hocking County at 21.9 feet, 10 feet above flood stage and the highest since 1907.

The Hocking was expected to crest at Athens at noon today. The forecast was for 24 feet, one foot higher than the damaging Athens flood of a year ago.

Athens, cut off by inundated highways, was among several communities that set up temporary shelters Tuesday for evacuated families.

Ohio University ordered the evacuation of at least two dormitories but had other housing available. Much of the Athens campus was inundated during the March 1963 flood.

The Weather Bureau at Port Columbus said the Scioto River should crest at 22-23 feet at noon today at Circleville. That community's flood stage is 14 feet. Predicted crest for Chillicothe was 25-26 feet (16-foot flood stage) at midnight tonight, and for Piketon was 30-30½ feet (16-foot flood stage) early Thursday.

At Logan, on the Hocking River, the sheriff's office reported the evacuation of several dozen families and said the Red Cross was providing shelter. Only one road, Ohio 93, remained open out of Logan.

Paint Creek in Ross County, one of the smaller streams that caused major flooding Tuesday, was among streams that were receding. Alum Creek in the Columbus area also was falling.

The Portsmouth area had only two roads still open, U.S. 23 north to Columbus and U. S. 52 east to Huntington, W. Va., the sheriff's office said.

At Columbus, the Highway Patrol reported dozens of highways closed in central and southern counties but said many of them are secondary routes.

Fleeing Rapid Rise

River Rd. Firms Move Equipment

Business firms along the River Rd. evacuated equipment and rolling stock to higher ground Tuesday afternoon and night, escaping the rapid advance of the Ohio River.

The River Rd. evacuation was more general than in the city's two low-lying residential districts, Jethro in the West End and Little England in the East End.

City trucks and employes evacuated one family and its possessions from Jethro and helped another family move its furniture upstairs. In Little England, one family evacuated its home, but without calling for aid from the city.

AT LEAST six homes in Jethro were surrounded with water this morning as the river crested. One building was covered nearly to the eaves. Although some of the homes in Little England were surrounded by water, the occupants sat tight as they have done through many other floods, waiting for the water to recede. One Little England resident termed the crest the highest since 1946. The last comparable flood was in 1954, however.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said city employes assisted in only one evacuation in Jethro in addition to helping another family move its furniture upstairs. He said the rest of the Jethro residents in the flood area apparently moved their furniture above the river's reach.

THE CITY received no requests to aid in evacuations in Little England, he said.

Along the River Rd., YELP Service, Inc., moved 12 to 15 tractors and trailers to safety, shifting them to the Community Parking Lot and to other spots along E. 2nd St.

YELP's terminal is on the west end of the River Rd. near the Chester Bridge. The evacuation work started about 8:30 or 9 last night. The trucks were moved because the area in which they are kept lies lower than the company's office.

Litten Tire Service, in a building just upstream from YELP, also evacuated much of its equipment yesterday afternoon. The boiler of the heating plant was loaded on a truck and moved to safety. Other equipment was shifted upstairs in the two-floor brick building.

ALTHOUGH the building sits at least six feet above the level of the River Rd., employes said there was 4 to 6 inches of water on the main floor this morning as the river crested.

The water crested just two

Return Of Bomber, Crew Of 3 Asked In Tuesday Incident

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States combined an apology with a protest in asking the Soviet Union to help speed the return of an American reconnaissance bomber and its three-man crew shot down Tuesday over Communist East Germany.

The crewmen parachuted from the plane after the shooting, the Defense Department said, but their fate was not known here. The plane was described as unarmed and on a training flight.

The Air Force identified the three crewmen as Capt. David I. Holland, 35, the pilot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Holland of Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, instructor navigator, son of Abraham Kessler of Philadelphia; and 1st Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, navigator, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Welch of Detroit.

Holland's wife lives at Toul-Rosieres Air Force Base, France, where the crew is stationed. Kessler's wife and two children reside at Toulaire near the base. Welch is single.

The request for Soviet help was made urgently Tuesday night by Assistant Secretary of State William Tyler to Georgi M. Kornienko, minister counselor of the Soviet Embassy.

The State Department announced that Tyler "delivered a strong oral protest" to the Soviet diplomat against "the precipitous action" by Soviet military forces in shooting down the RB66B.

Tyler "also expressed the U.S. government's regrets that the plane became lost and inadvertently crossed the demarcation line between the Federal Republic (West Germany) and East Germany."

This was the second incident of this kind in six weeks and the wording of the U.S. protest after the Soviet destruction of a U.S. T39 jet trainer on Jan. 28 was much harsher. All three men in the trainer were killed.

At that time Tyler made no apology and denounced the Soviet Union's shooting down of the T39 as "a callous and inexcusably brutal act of violence against an unarmed aircraft."

There was no explanation here of the much softer wording of Tuesday night's statement. There was some suggestion that U.S. officials were puzzled, if not embarrassed, by the fact that the RB66B with a pilot and two navigators aboard had strayed across the dividing line in Germany and gotten over Communist territory.

Lodge Sweeps Hampshire Primary With Write-Ins

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Undeclared and absent, Henry Cabot Lodge swept all the prizes in New Hampshire's leadoff primary today with a write-in vote triumph that shuffled the Republican presidential cards.

Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, said in Saigon he will not resign his diplomatic post despite his upset victory in the year's first polling-place test of Republican sentiment.

Goldwater and Rockefeller—declared candidates who spent wintry weeks hunting votes in New Hampshire — challenged Lodge to come home and fight for the nomination.

The ambassador's answer:

"I do not plan to go to the United States. I do not intend to resign."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, another write-in contender, ranked fourth with New Hampshire Republicans.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine and former Minnesota Gov. Harold Stassen trailed far behind.

Goldwater, claiming victory in advance, said he expected to capture seven to 10 delegates.

With votes from 288 of New Hampshire's 302 precincts counted, this was the Republican tally:

Lodge 30,659
Goldwater 20,103
Rockefeller 18,734
Nixon 15,042
Smith 2,721
Stassen 1,249

Lodge had captured about 34 per cent of the Republican vote.

It added up to a New Hampshire mandate to Lodge to challenge President Johnson—his boss as ambassador—for the White House.

Defense Rests Case In Ruby Murder Trial

DALLAS (AP)—The defense in Jack Ruby's murder case rested today in the first moment after the jury filed into the courtroom.

As soon as the jury of eight men and four women was seated, Judge Joe B. Brown asked chief defense counsel Melvin Belli who he was calling as his first witness today.

"The defense rests, your honor," Belli said.

This marked the end of direct testimony. Both the defense and the prosecution have lists of rebuttal witnesses. They may be called later this week, depending on what each side does in the battle over Ruby's guilt or innocence in the slaying Nov. 24 of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy.

The last witness for the defense was Dr. Manfred Guttmacher, Baltimore psychiatrist. Guttmacher was on the stand through most of Tuesday. His testimony, in which he gave the opinion that Ruby was not legally sane when he killed Oswald, formed the keystone of the defense case.

River Retrieves Ice

Flood's Fascinating—If You Reside On Dry Land

The coffee - colored boiling stream rolls down the valley with the sinuousness of a snake. It's an awesome sight — providing you didn't have to evacuate your home, then contemplate the cleanup of muddy floors and sagging wallpaper—after the stream recedes.

The spectacle of the highest water in 10 years attracted hundreds of spectators along the river Tuesday night, at the Broadway and Walnut St. crossings, at the Smiths Ferry Bridge in East End, and even from the Chester bridge. Spectators milled silently around the water's edge until darkness and cold drove them away.

A 24-hour vigil maintained by the Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service in Pittsburgh helped alert East Liverpool area communities against the rising Ohio.

Vernon Houghton, chief river forecaster, and his staff made periodic calls to the East Liverpool police department, relaying the latest information on the river's expected crest. The police department then passed on the data to Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey.

The flood forecasting service formerly made telephone calls to several East Liverpool agencies. Under a new setup that went into effect after construction of the Stratton "superdam," it decided to give the alert only to one agency in each community, avoiding a duplication of calls and consequent lost time.

Every four to six hours, the agency received reports at its Pittsburgh office from 125 stations along the Ohio, the Al-night, and the entire results were compiled in about two hours.

First to report was Precinct 13, at New Cumberland School, five minutes after the polls had closed. The last was Precinct 5 at the Chester Grandview School.

Poll workers from at least one site in Grant District were detoured to Paris, Pa., in driving to New Cumberland, because the high water covered Routes 66 and 2 in the upper portion of the county. However, most from Grant District used Hardins Run Rd. in the rural area to reach New Cumberland.

PASSAGE of the school renewal levy marked the climax of one of the most significant weeks in Supt. Hall's long career in the county. The board dedicated its new high school plants at Oak Glen and Weirton over the weekend, and members were all smiles in surveying the overwhelming support of the levy in Tuesday's special election.

Here are the results from each precinct in the county, with the affirmative vote for the levy renewal listed first in each case:

Grant

Precinct 1, 107 and 52; Precinct 2, 132 and 55; Precinct 3, 160 and 42; Precinct 4, 136 and 46; Precinct 5, 66 and 30; Precinct 6, 106 and 32; Precinct 7, 95 and 39; Precinct 8, 121 and 54, and Precinct 9, 39 and 11.

Clay

Precinct 11, 66 and 40; Precinct 12, 33 and 47; Precinct 13, 36 and 36; Precinct 14, 115 and 69, and Precinct 15, 155 and 68.

Butler

Precinct 17, 115 and 39; Precinct 18, 81 and 41; Precinct 19, 70 and 9; Precinct 21, 23 and 8; Precinct 22, 56 and 16; Precinct 23, 68 and 5; Precinct 24, 37 and 16; Precinct 25, 48 and 19.

Precinct 26, 53 and 5; Precinct 27, 70 and 13; Precinct 28, 37 and 7; Precinct 29, 85 and 7; Precinct 30, 130 and 47; Precinct 31, 203 and 23; Precinct 32, 79 and 49; Precinct 33; 79 and 36.

Precinct 34, 123 and 46; Precinct 35, 87 and 47; Precinct 36, 124 and 34; Precinct 37, 115 and 72; Precinct 38, 91 and 61; Precinct 39, 125 and 57; Precinct 40, 105 and 64, and Precinct 41, 96 and 37.

Judge Excuses Jury, Returns Verdict In $14,800 Action

Judge Joel H. Sharp excused a Common Pleas Court jury at Lisbon Tuesday and then handed down a ruling that denied a $14,800 verdict sought in a civil action by Cynthia Winters and her mother, Mrs. Virginia Winters, 1310½ St. Clair Ave., against Betty J. Winters, 2071 Lisbon St., widow of Michael A. Winters Jr., who was an East Liverpool police lieutenant.

But the court ordered that $2,500 be deposited in a savings account out of the estate of the late officer to continue monthly support payments for his child from the time she is 18 until she becomes 21 or marries.

Cynthia Winters and her mother claimed that under a separation agreement made in 1950 they were entitled to various sums, including $2,500 from a life insurance policy; $3,701 in support payments at $50 a month; $3,700 for the right to remain on premises rent free and $4,900 from the proceeds of a West End home sold for a highway right-of-way.

Judge Sharp commented:

"The court has gone over the facts in the presence of the jury and found that there was no dispute in the facts, but found that there was a dispute as to the legal effect of the undisputed facts, and the jury will be dismissed."

The court found that when the state appropriated real estate for highway purposes the parties agreed to the division of the compensation paid them.

Continuing, the court said:

"All provisions of the separation agreement as to the disposition of such real estate and the proceeds from its sale, if sold, were abrogated and were no longer effective. Court finds that Michael Winters carried out his part of the separation agreement as long as he lived except that he did not provide that the proceeds of his Acacia Life Insurance policy should 'be made payable so as to guarantee the monthly payments to his daughter, Cynthia'."

The judge said payments under Social Security, veterans' and police pension payments "amount to about $85 a month and substantially exceed the $50 a month her father agreed in the separation agreement to pay for her support."

The judge said the Social Security, veterans' and police pension benefits will cease when the daughter becomes 18.

The court said that "plaintiff's claims are not supported by evidence and the $14,800 is denied."

"Court further finds that plaintiffs were entitled to have $2,500 proceeds of the life insurance policy set aside to guarantee the support payments until Cynthia becomes 21 or marries. It is therefore ordered that the defendant, out of the estate of Michael Winters, deposit $2,500 in a savings account in a solvent bank to be held and used to pay Cynthia's support after the Social Security, veterans and police benefit payments cease and to continue payment of such support at a rate of $50 per month until she becomes 21 or marries, whichever occurs first, and after the conclusion of said payments the balance shall return to said estate of Michael Winters.

Couldn't Jail Him

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The burglar was caught redhanded, but authorities couldn't haul him into court. The culprit was a squirrel who invaded the home of Jim Stewart while he was on vacation. A neighbor saw movements in the house and called police. By the time they arrived, the squirrel had already pulled down curtains and overturned several small objects.

Two Points About The Super Jet

Two things about that sensational 2,000-mile-an-hour jet developed so secretly that no one knew about it keep looming larger and larger.

First is the fact the plane was developed with Central Intelligence Agency funds. It is estimated the development cost was half a billion dollars. In the light of the fierce skirmishes in Congress over development of other types of airplanes, half a billion dollars appropriated and spent painlessly under CIA auspices must be giving representatives and senators something to think about.

Pretty plainly, the way to get things done in the federal government is to get a CIA imprimatur early in the game, to open all the pocketbooks and hush all the second-guessers.

THIS IS ONE thing that keeps looming larger and larger — the idea of a CIA-developed plane, instead of a Defense Department-developed plane. If the superjet were going to be used to spy on someone, that would be different, but CIA says that isn't the idea at all.

The other thing that looms larger all the time is the revival of interest in titanium, once considered a semi-precious metal. Titanium is used in the superjet. It is conceivable that titanium will be used in all high-speed planes of the future and that the country which knows most about working with it will have an important advantage.

A FEW YEARS ago, titanium was the most talked-about subject in the metal industry. But then the Defense Department swung to missiles instead of superjets, and that killed titanium. But now it's alive again in at least a CIA kind of way.

And for an agency that can spend half a billion dollars to develop a superjet, that's a mighty big way.

Happy Birthday!

East Liverpool remembers him as a businessman and a civic leader, active particularly in church work and the prohibition cause.

There will be a very bright glow if he lights 102 candles on a birthday cake Sunday. Through the flickering lights, he will be able to look back over a life span that began in March 1862, when the Civil War still was in its infancy.

Our best wishes go to Mr. Sample as he prepares to mark another milestone, dimmed but unconquered by the years.

For Spending's Sake

If the U.S. General Accounting Office and the Agency for International Development ever came to a showdown on GAO's accusation that AID piddled away $8.5 million in Turkey and Iran, the rest of us would be millions richer.

The word is out that Congress is going to lower the boom on foreign aid this year. Congress has been lining up more determinedly year by year against the policy of spending money abroad for the sake of spending it.

This has been one kind of foreign aid. U.S. funds have been spent to hold skittish countries in line, to appease governments threatening to make trouble and to buy allies on a year-to-year basis.

Untold millions have been spent on projects that could not be justified on a basis of their economic impact but could be justified on a basis of political expediency.

This kind of foreign aid has been an international pork barrel whose tidbits were dished out in the same cynical fashion as goodies in domestic pork barrels.

No GAO investigator could justify pork barrel aid.

But AID could and has justified it.

If all foreign aid had been administered as if it had to pass GAO muster, millions could have been saved. They weren't saved, the news of waste kept coming home to roost and that is why the 88th Congress, second session, is laying for the next foreign aid bill.

President Johnson has asked for $3.4 billion. The cutting will start from there.

Just Keeps Rollin'

In the Tri - State District, the Ohio River is a "she" or an "it," but like "Old Man River," the Ohio "don't say nothing...just keeps rollin' along."

With the river and its tributaries out of their banks, it's useless to remind everyone of the value of the waters for drinking, transportation and other purposes. It's pointless to recount the effectiveness of locks and dams in preventing more frequent, more serious river rampages.

Men are continuing to reduce the threat of floods. But in this muddy mood, the Ohio remains a wet and costly nuisance to people whose homes are drenched, whose businesses are wrecked, or to motorists cut off by inundated roads.

No use to talk about it—the Ohio "don't say nothing...just keeps rollin' along."

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

Lately it seems that everybody is worried about his "image."

How is your image doing, Twill? Are you getting through to the people you want to reach with the right projection of yourself?

Nowadays all we hear about is a corporate image, or an entertainer changing his or her image, or President Johnson's image, Goldwater's image, Rockefeller's image, Nixon's image, Scranton's image, Romney's image, Hoffa's image, Harry Bridges' image, United States' image, Britain's image, De Gaulle's image, capitalism's image, communism's image, even Castro's image.

That's a right smart amount of images. We have images all over the place.

WITH SUCH a surplus of images, it is inevitable that we also have the image of the image-wrecker, which is one of the most hazardous but at times most envied image of all.

It reminds one of that definition of a friend: "A friend is someone who knows your faults but likes you just the same."

If you ever got a foolproof formula for choosing between image-makers and iconoclasts, call me; don't wait for me to call you.

You have done a lot more thinking on this subject than I have because you are older, and I always respect my elders. Wisdom comes with gray hair, as they say, even when the gray hair is thin and even scarcely discernible.

HOWEVER, in order to try to catch up with you, I started thinking about this image business and as a starting point picked out one of our best-known institutions—the U.S. Supreme Court. There is an image you can really get your teeth into. You bitten any images lately?

To save you the trouble of asking me, here is what I think about the Supreme Court and its image. This exposition is subject to change but as of the moment of this writing here it is:

(Keep in mind these views are what you might call those of a "common man," and you know that is about as fallible as you can get.)

About three decades ago the country was bombarded with the image that the Supreme Court was composed of "nine old men." Just to show you how images can change, the country is now being bombarded with the image that the Supreme Court is too spry, a threat to our security and all we hold dear—such as individual rights and full protection of the law, gerrymandering, religion, racism, trusts and basic freedoms. Hah!

BUT WHEN YOU think about it, all the Supreme Court is doing is judging the constitutionality of laws. It is interpreting the Constitution. Now, isn't that simple? Nothing like rushing in where lawyers fear to tread!

And besides the original Constitution, there now are 24 amendments to worry about. These 24 amendments include the 18th establishing prohibition and the 21st repealing prohibition, two amendments we don't have to worry about for a while.

To get back to the subject of images, what the whole thing boils down to is: "You can convince some of the people all of the time, and all of the people some of the time, but you can't convince all of the people all of the time."

Faithfully yours,
MAX

It's carrying self-reliance pretty far when a cousin of Queen Elizabeth can't get a job in the government because he can't pass a civil service examination, especially when the 22-year-old Briton is taking a postgraduate course in economics at Stanford University in California. Either Stanford or the examiners must be wrong.

I am personally convinced my great good government has stumbled into a bear trap in South Viet Nam — or should it be called a "dragon trap"?

My sense of fair play is wounded when kindly bartenders fail to put two olives in a double martini, this being one of the small indignities that test the composure of us long-suffering citizens with very little dignity in the first place.

There's still a chance, but the first full winter for my snow blower has not come up to expectations. The idea was to amortize the thing at the rate of $20 a blizzard, which was what it would cost to rent a bulldozer to clear out the drifted snow in the Twillery lane. So far there has been only one $20 storm.

I am pulling for Edward Bennett Williams to destroy the U.S. Senate's assumed right to conduct trials of U.S. citizens without indictments and without the right of cross-examination.

A Very Slow Leak

Union Funds Aid Hoffa's Power

By Victor Riesel

If James Hoffa wins his appeal and then has his way, much of his power will be based on control of Teamster pension funds which will add up to more than $5 billion in a decade.

Victor Riesel

To this must be added the influence which will spring from the spending of billions more on welfare and health plans of almost every conceivable type.

Few realize it, but at this moment truck owners are pouring more than half a billion dollars a year into these pools of cash which are regularly invested in real estate — Las Vegas hotels with gambling rooms attached, skyscrapers, motels and hotels, housing projects — corporate bonds and the stock market.

Domination of such funds would give anyone tremendous leverage over the mortgage market and influence in banking and Wall Street houses.

There now are 1,000 different Teamster pension funds with more than a billion dollars in total assets. They cover more than a million Teamsters. A vast number of these funds are expertly administered.

THE WESTERN FUNDS are, for example, carefully handled under an arrangement with the Prudential Insurance Co. But Hoffa's master plan calls for consolidating them under the aegis of his marble-studded national headquarters at Washington, from which he can look out on the nation's Capitol with wistful longing.

Into these pension funds — which must be distinguished from the big welfare money—now goes about a third of a billion dollars a year at the average weekly rate of $7 per teamster (soon to be $8). The money accumulates because pensions are paid out slowly over a long period. Often the would-be pensioner never reaches retirement or switches jobs.

Welfare payments go out more swiftly. The funds are fed by an average payment of $5.30 per teamster per week. The expenditure of such large amounts on health centers and personnel can create a sphere of influence in the medical field.

According to the government Hoffa is mighty influential among the trustees of the pension fund covering his home base, the "Central State." The Central States fund alone now has almost a quarter of a billion dollars.

THE GOVERNMENT, in an indictment brought against Hoffa and seven others last June, has charged him with the misuse of his trusteeship. The Justcie Department says he and the others fraudulently maneuvered loans totaling $20 million and diverted a million dollars for their own use—$100,000 of which Hoffa allegedly used to extricate himself from a Florida land deal.

They go to trial in Chicago in mid-April and this case could move Hoffa right out of the labor movement and all his various union offices for at least five years. He could go to jail for life if convicted on all counts, but even a two-year term in this case would invoke the application of the Labor-Management Reporting and Disclosure Act section which prohibits anyone convicted of such an offense from holding office for five years. Thus he would have to resign not only from his national presidency but from the presidency of Local Union, No. 299.

THE LAW does not apply to his Chattanooga conviction—so it is technically possible for Hoffa to run the Teamsters from a jail cell if his appeal is denied.

Should he go to jail, Hoffa would not want for income. He would still be entitled to a $1,000-a-week union payment such as his predecessor, Dave Beck, is now receiving in the pen.

But Hoffa has not had to wait for the eventual consolidation of the massive pension and welfare funds to have huge sums under his control. The gargantuan Teamsters' Brotherhood national headquarters — complete with private aircraft — takes in about $20 million a year. Its 1963 assets were more than $42 million. It's a going concern with an operation budget of more than $16,795,000.

So there is plenty, for example, to spend on what has been referred to as the union's private bar association. Legal fees and expenses last year totaled $936,534,36—just short of a million. This was more than the union spent on salaries of officers, organizers and auditors.

ALL THIS is prelude. The drama of the master plan was to come when Hoffa felt himself clear of his duel with the courts. He may be free of them yet. If so, he will throw money into far-flung union organizing and political campaigns for national influence on the industrial and law-making fronts.

It doesn't look as though he'll make it, but Jimmy Hoffa still believes he will. We'll see.

Burdened With Cash?

By Andrew Glass

Whenever the prospect of paying your taxes gets you down, just think of the small group of citizens who give their money away to the government.

Under little-known laws, these generous souls — not content to merely satisfy the claims of the Internal Revenue Service—can sometimes even pick the federal program they wish to aid beyond what Congress sees fit to provide.

One such statute, passed in 1957, covers a broad range of "specific defense purposes." Contributions to the Pentagon, while never solicited, will be gratefully received with a personal letter of thanks.

Moreover, they are tax-deductible under the same station of the Tax Code that covers donations to such charitable causes as the Red Cross and the Boy Scouts of America.

PERHAPS you think the Army can use some more tanks or you have a favorite missile that you feel the Air Force has use for.

All you have to do is send the Treasury a check. If you so request, the money will be applied to the defense project you want to help, whether it be the purchase of additional nuclear weapons or the "Food for Peace" program.

"We feel our system of taxes is all that is required of people," a Treasury official explained, "however if they want to give, we'll accept it."

About 25 such checks arrive at the Treasury each month. Most of the gifts have no strings attached and are therefore earmarked for the Treasury's General Fund — the central kitty from which most government expenses are paid.

More than $37 million has been collected for this common pool since the gift plan began in 1862. Contributions in the last fiscal year totaled $162,862.59.

A handful of donors, however, prefer to back specific areas of public spending. Besides the defense effort, Congress permits contributions for such programs as the Space Agency, the National Institutes of Health, the National Park Service, the National Science Foundation, the National Archives and the Library of Congress.

The most recent change in the law clears such gifts for the $31 million John F. Kennedy Cultural Center, to be built in memory of the late President.

Hard Facts

Concern Seen Growing Over Inflation

The average citizen may be thinking of how to spend his tax-cut money or about the political campaign that's coming, but the bankers of the country are deeply concerned about what's going to happen after the full effects of the new tax law have been felt next year, not only in America but abroad.

David Lawrence

The fear of inflation is growing among economists. The First National City Bank of New York, in its monthly letter, doesn't mince words about what it feels may lie ahead unless preventive measures are taken.

The economists of a large bank, with international as well as national problems to deal with every day, are not thinking of politics as they survey the situation, but of the hard facts of economic life. The bank letter says in part:

"The goal of higher growth rates should not divert attention from the fact that the dangers of renewed inflation are drawn closer by the $800 million-a-month tax cut. Alertness on the part of monetary authorities is therefore essential.

"In view of our balance-of-payments situation, it is recognized that monetary policy must remain flexible to guard against inflation or unwarranted movements of capital to foreign money centers.

"The increase in the British bank rate from 4 per cent to 5 per cent at the close of last month served as yet another reminder that other nations are faced once again with signs of overheating in their economies. It also becomes a new factor in international money market relationships."

MANY OBSERVERS of the economic picture are inclined to concentrate on what happens inside the United States and hence give little attention to the impact of international events on this country. Back in 1929 it was the failure of a big Austrian bank which started a chain reaction around the globe that developed into a worldwide upset of the economic equilibrium.

There has been a period of relative stability in the United States during the last three years and business has moved ahead. A large part of the industrial capacity was unused, and increased competition did tend to hold back price increases. The unemployment figure of 5.5 per cent has served to make labor unions reluctant to press for large wage increases. But the next tax cut, which will stimulate consumer business, doubtless will be used as a pretext for a new price-and-wage special.

The National City Bank letter says on this point:

"Since the stimulus to spending will take some time to work its way through the economy, increasing pressures on prices and wages will probably not be strongly felt until late this year and in 1965."

THE BANK'S LETTER declares that the administration's "avowed strategy for dealing with inflation reveals a serious lack of balance," and adds that the present plan is to employ fiscal and monetary policy to push for a rapid business expansion while preparing to tighten money only as a last resort. It's the fear of the inflationary effects that is causing widespread comment among bankers. The bank letter concludes:

"The tax cut promises to fulfill some of the rosy predictions of the 'soaring '60,' so glowingly painted toward the end of the last decade. But in our eagerness to enjoy its benefits, we should not forget the hard lessons about inflation learned from the '50s. At a time when inflationary trends are already evident in the common market, Britain and Japan, these lessons are particularly apt right now. . . .

"The federal government cannot escape its responsibility for stabilization policy. Though it is important that business and labor leaders should recognize the nation's need for stable prices, it is primarily the government's job to establish a fiscal and monetary framework for a sustained expansion without inflation."

THESE ARE words that probably will not be given more than passing consideration, because nobody at this time can prove whether the predictions will be fulfilled. The speculative psychology of 1929 may be pointed to again and again, but it was the failure to deal with interest rates and to keep the price of money down which contributed heavily to the collapse that came a few months later.

Today the situation could be complicated by inflationary pressures that might come from an unstabilized wage and price structure. This, along with somewhat similar problems being encountered abroad, at least should serve as a warning that the benefits expected from the boom in the next several months must be measured against the economic after-effects that will be felt long after the 1964 presidential election has passed into history.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — City Council appropriated $390,330 for municipal expenditures during the year ending Dec. 31, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wollam, formerly of Columbus, moved to a new home in Calcutta on the former Hallie Fitzsimmon farm.

Robert Lippert, organist and choirmaster at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, resigned and was succeeded by E. Ellsworth Giles of Ohio View.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Mrs. Victor Cline was re - elected president of the Neville Home and School Association and Mrs. Bert Davis was named vice president.

About 125 persons attended the 15th anniversary celebration of the Alfred Wedgewood American Legion Post in East End. E. C. Bartley, past commander, was the speaker.

Miss Leona Abrams of Indiana Ave., Chester, attended a beauty operators' convention in New York City.

TEN YEARS AGO—An adult executive committee to supervise the Calcutta Youth Community project was organized with Paul Dailey as president.

Pvt. Jack H. Rogers, husband of Mrs. Shiley Rogers of Ravine St., participated in Exercise Ski Jump at Camp Hale, Colo.

Odd Facts

The motto, "In God We Trust," first appeared on U. S. coins after April 22, 1864, when Congress passed an act authorizing the coinage of a 2-cent piece bearing this motto. Thereafter, Congress extended its use to other coins. On July 30, 1956, this became our national motto.

Letter To Editor

I am writing in regard to some of the comment and questions in Chester concerning Council's refusal to accept money from the two service clubs for the salary of the school guard.

I want to make clear the present school guard will be maintained through the remainder of the school year. There will also be money appropriated for the guard in the next year's budget.

Council is the seat of city government, where we make the laws that govern our society and the place from which the laws are administered.

Therefore, I cannot see how we, as Councilmen, can justify receiving money into the city treasury which is in question. I cannot see how the end justifies the means.

If Council had accepted the money, I think it would typify the things Khrushchev would like us to do, to help our people lose faith in our free form of government — a step toward Communism.

Therefore, we must maintain the basic principles on which this country was founded—truth, honesty and justice.

Two Points About The Super Jet

Two things about that sensational 2,000-mile-an-hour jet developed so secretly that no one knew about it keep looming larger and larger.

First is the fact the plane was developed with Central Intelligence Agency funds. It is estimated the development cost was half a billion dollars. In the light of the fierce skirmishes in Congress over development of other types of airplanes, half a billion dollars appropriated and spent painlessly under CIA auspices must be giving representatives and senators something to think about.

Pretty plainly, the way to get things done in the federal government is to get a CIA imprimatur early in the game, to open all the pocketbooks and hush all the second-guessers.

THIS IS ONE thing that keeps looming larger and larger — the idea of a CIA-developed plane, instead of a Defense Department-developed plane. If the superjet were going to be used to spy on someone, that would be different, but CIA says that isn't the idea at all.

The other thing that looms larger all the time is the revival of interest in titanium, once considered a semi-precious metal. Titanium is used in the superjet. It is conceivable that titanium will be used in all high-speed planes of the future and that the country which knows most about working with it will have an important advantage.

A FEW YEARS ago, titanium was the most talked-about subject in the metal industry. But then the Defense Department swung to missiles instead of superjets, and that killed titanium. But now it's alive again in at least a CIA kind of way.

And for an agency that can spend half a billion dollars to develop a superjet, that's a mighty big way.

Happy Birthday!

East Liverpool remembers him as a businessman and a civic leader, active particularly in church work and the prohibition cause.

There will be a very bright glow if he lights 102 candles on a birthday cake Sunday. Through the flickering lights, he will be able to look back over a life span that began in March 1862, when the Civil War still was in its infancy.

Our best wishes go to Mr. Sample as he prepares to mark another milestone, dimmed but unconquered by the years.

For Spending's Sake

If the U.S. General Accounting Office and the Agency for International Development ever came to a showdown on GAO's accusation that AID piddled away $8.5 million in Turkey and Iran, the rest of us would be millions richer.

The word is out that Congress is going to lower the boom on foreign aid this year. Congress has been lining up more determinedly year by year against the policy of spending money abroad for the sake of spending it.

This has been one kind of foreign aid. U.S. funds have been spent to hold skittish countries in line, to appease governments threatening to make trouble and to buy allies on a year-to-year basis.

Untold millions have been spent on projects that could not be justified on a basis of their economic impact but could be justified on a basis of political expediency.

This kind of foreign aid has been an international pork barrel whose tidbits were dished out in the same cynical fashion as goodies in domestic pork barrels.

No GAO investigator could justify pork barrel aid.

But AID could and has justified it.

If all foreign aid had been administered as if it had to pass GAO muster, millions could have been saved. They weren't saved, the news of waste kept coming home to roost and that is why the 88th Congress, second session, is laying for the next foreign aid bill.

President Johnson has asked for $3.4 billion. The cutting will start from there.

Concern Seen Growing Over Inflation

The average citizen may be thinking of how to spend his tax-cut money or about the political campaign that's coming, but the bankers of the country are deeply concerned about what's going to happen after the full effects of the new tax law have been felt next year, not only in America but abroad.

David Lawrence

The fear of inflation is growing among economists. The First National City Bank of New York, in its monthly letter, doesn't mince words about what it feels may lie ahead unless preventive measures are taken.

The economists of a large bank, with international as well as national problems to deal with every day, are not thinking of politics as they survey the situation, but of the hard facts of economic life. The bank letter says in part:

"The goal of higher growth rates should not divert attention from the fact that the dangers of renewed inflation are drawn closer by the $800 million-a-month tax cut. Alertness on the part of monetary authorities is therefore essential.

"In view of our balance-of-payments situation, it is recognized that monetary policy must remain flexible to guard against inflation or unwarranted movements of capital to foreign money centers.

"The increase in the British bank rate from 4 per cent to 5 per cent at the close of last month served as yet another reminder that other nations are faced once again with signs of overheating in their economies. It also becomes a new factor in international money market relationships."

MANY OBSERVERS of the economic picture are inclined to concentrate on what happens inside the United States and hence give little attention to the impact of international events on this country. Back in 1929 it was the failure of a big Austrian bank which started a chain reaction around the globe that developed into a worldwide upset of the economic equilibrium.

There has been a period of relative stability in the United States during the last three years and business has moved ahead. A large part of the industrial capacity was unused, and increased competition did tend to hold back price increases. The unemployment figure of 5.5 per cent has served to make labor unions reluctant to press for large wage increases. But the next tax cut, which will stimulate consumer business, doubtless will be used as a pretext for a new price-and-wage special.

The National City Bank letter says on this point:

"Since the stimulus to spending will take some time to work its way through the economy, increasing pressures on prices and wages will probably not be strongly felt until late this year and in 1965."

THE BANK'S LETTER declares that the administration's "avowed strategy for dealing with inflation reveals a serious lack of balance," and adds that the present plan is to employ fiscal and monetary policy to push for a rapid business expansion while preparing to tighten money only as a last resort. It's the fear of the inflationary effects that is causing widespread comment among bankers. The bank letter concludes:

"The tax cut promises to fulfill some of the rosy predictions of the 'soaring '60,' so glowingly painted toward the end of the last decade. But in our eagerness to enjoy its benefits, we should not forget the hard lessons about inflation learned from the '50s. At a time when inflationary trends are already evident in the common market, Britain and Japan, these lessons are particularly apt right now. . . .

"The federal government cannot escape its responsibility for stabilization policy. Though it is important that business and labor leaders should recognize the nation's need for stable prices, it is primarily the government's job to establish a fiscal and monetary framework for a sustained expansion without inflation."

THESE ARE words that probably will not be given more than passing consideration, because nobody at this time can prove whether the predictions will be fulfilled. The speculative psychology of 1929 may be pointed to again and again, but it was the failure to deal with interest rates and to keep the price of money down which contributed heavily to the collapse that came a few months later.

Today the situation could be complicated by inflationary pressures that might come from an unstabilized wage and price structure. This, along with somewhat similar problems being encountered abroad, at least should serve as a warning that the benefits expected from the boom in the next several months must be measured against the economic after-effects that will be felt long after the 1964 presidential election has passed into history.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — City Council appropriated $390,330 for municipal expenditures during the year ending Dec. 31, 1934.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wollam, formerly of Columbus, moved to a new home in Calcutta on the former Hallie Fitzsimmon farm.

Robert Lippert, organist and choirmaster at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, resigned and was succeeded by E. Ellsworth Giles of Ohio View.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—Mrs. Victor Cline was re - elected president of the Neville Home and School Association and Mrs. Bert Davis was named vice president.

About 125 persons attended the 15th anniversary celebration of the Alfred Wedgewood American Legion Post in East End. E. C. Bartley, past commander, was the speaker.

Miss Leona Abrams of Indiana Ave., Chester, attended a beauty operators' convention in New York City.

TEN YEARS AGO—An adult executive committee to supervise the Calcutta Youth Community project was organized with Paul Dailey as president.

Pvt. Jack H. Rogers, husband of Mrs. Shiley Rogers of Ravine St., participated in Exercise Ski Jump at Camp Hale, Colo.

Odd Facts

The motto, "In God We Trust," first appeared on U. S. coins after April 22, 1864, when Congress passed an act authorizing the coinage of a 2-cent piece bearing this motto. Thereafter, Congress extended its use to other coins. On July 30, 1956, this became our national motto.

Letter To Editor

I am writing in regard to some of the comment and questions in Chester concerning Council's refusal to accept money from the two service clubs for the salary of the school guard.

I want to make clear the present school guard will be maintained through the remainder of the school year. There will also be money appropriated for the guard in the next year's budget.

Council is the seat of city government, where we make the laws that govern our society and the place from which the laws are administered.

Therefore, I cannot see how we, as Councilmen, can justify receiving money into the city treasury which is in question. I cannot see how the end justifies the means.

If Council had accepted the money, I think it would typify the things Khrushchev would like us to do, to help our people lose faith in our free form of government — a step toward Communism.

Therefore, we must maintain the basic principles on which this country was founded—truth, honesty and justice.

Death Claims Widow At 70

Mrs. Charlotte (Lottie) Mae Owen, 451 Lycia Ave., Chester, widow of John E. Owen, died Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. at home after a long illness. She was 70.

Mrs. Owen was born in Hookstown Oct. 24, 1894, to Lewis Lyons and Sophia McPherson Lyons, and resided in the vicinity her lifetime. She was a member of the Chester Church of Christ. Her husband died in 1958.

She leaves four daughters, Mrs. Harry Nelson of Georgetown, Mrs. Daniel Wright of Hookstown, Miss Neva Owen at home and Mrs. Fred Dailey of East Liverpool; five sons, William Owen, Richard Owen, Edson Owen and Edwin Owen, all of Chester, and John Owen at home; a sister, Mrs. Roy Mayes, and four brothers, Lewis Lyons, Howard Lyons, Abe Lyons and Clyde Lyons, all of Chester, and 22 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel by Evangelist Jesse Nutter of Parkersburg. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the chapel tonight and Thursday.

Dr. R. H. Jewell

Funeral services for Dr. Ralph H. Jewell, superintendent of Midland Public Schools, will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Midland First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. George H. Bohlender, pastor, will officiate and burial will be in Sylvania Hills Cemetery in Rochester. He died suddenly Tuesday.

Friends may call at the Schwerha Funeral Home in Midland today and at the church Thursday from 11 a. m. up to the time of service. Masonic rites will be conducted at the funeral home tonight at 7.

The family requests that material tributes take the form of donations to Dr. Jewell's three favorite charities — The Red Cross, Rochester General Hospital and the United Fund of Beaver County.

Midland schools will close at 11:30 a. m. Thursday for the funeral.

Mrs. Willa Jackson

Mrs. Willa Mae Jackson, 347 Penn Ave., Midland, widow of Garrett Jackson, died suddenly apparently of a heart attack Tuesday at 2:30 a. m. at home.

She resided in Midland for 44 years and was a member of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church and its Deaconess Board.

She leaves a sister, Mrs. Mary Vaughn, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Thelma Perkins, both of Midland, and two nephews and two nieces.

Services will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at the church by the Rev. W. L. Harris. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery, Industry.

Flood

legheny, the Tygart, the Cheat and the Youghiogheny.

Today's flood ended about 8 feet below the record inundation of St. Patrick's Day in 1936, which saw millions of dollars damage in the Ohio Valley when the stream crested at over 50 feet in East Liverpool.

Other crests going back over three-quarters of a century include 1884, 46.3 feet; 1907, 46.4; 1913, 46.6; 1937, 43; 1940, 38.8; 1942, 47.2; 1948, 39; 1950, 37.1; 1952, 40.3; 1954, 42.5; 1956, 34.7; 1959, 40.6; 1960, 36.8; 1962, 35; 1963, 32.2, and last Friday, 35.

The old saying that the river "always goes back for the ice" was proved again by the current flood.

Friday's crest of 35 feet here was accompanied by ice floes pouring out of the tributaries of the Ohio.

They took about four hours to pass here and cakes of ice were carried ashore at many places.

Sure enough, the river rose much higher this morning and the remnants of ice dotting the shoreline were swept away.

U. S. Army Engineers at Pittsburgh have estimated reservoir dams on the tributaries of the Ohio reduced the crest of last Friday's flood by 5 feet and prevented $5,400,000 damage.

They will start anew with their computors to set the amount the reservoir system has saved Ohio Valley communities from the current flood.

After the disastrous 1936 flood, a series of eight dams for flood control were erected on the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers and it was estimated they impounded 137 billion gallons of water last weekend. They can hold an additional 153 million gallons.

City firemen were called at 12:16 a. m. today to partially fill a storage tank with water at the Ohio River Oil Terminal in East End. Flood water was around the tank, which was empty, and officials feared it would float away.

The call for aid was received from George Bloomgren, city engineer. The East End truck was sent to the terminal.

Wellsville schools were not affected by the high water.

McKinley School was closed Tuesday because of surface water in the basement. It remained closed today.

Students who reside outside the floodwall and walk to school were sent home early yesterday. The buses were rerouted to handle other students.

Because his counsel, Atty. Delmar T. O'Hara, was bottled up behind the Wellsville flood wall, Edward Keener, 235 W. Church St., today received a continuance until March 18 in two cases which were scheduled to be heard in Municipal Court.

Keener is accused of reckless driving as an aftermath of a mishap in which his truck sheared off a fire hydrant at 3rd and Market Sts. at 1:05 a.m. Sunday. He also is accused of assault and battery Feb. 24 on his wife, Mrs. Eileen Keener.

O'Hara represents Keener only in the assault case. However, Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said he felt it best to continue both hearings.

The East Liverpool police department answered literally hundreds of calls from anxious millworkers wanting to know if water had climbed onto the Beaver Creek Bridge at Smiths Ferry, shutting off easy access to Midland.

But the pay - off came this morning. An unidentified man telephoned to find if the Chester Bridge was open or water-covered.

Crucible Steel Co. officials at Midland said that the plant is running a regular schedule, with most of the employes able to get to work.

They said, however, that shipment of some orders had been delayed due to the water.

Floods Hit 7 States; 19 Deaths Reported

By The Associated Press

Surging flood waters swirled through portions of seven Midwestern and Eastern states today, forcing thousands of persons to evacuate their homes and leaving death and extensive damage in their murky wake.

At least 19 persons perished as torrential rainstorms, heavy snow and strong winds whipped through hundreds of cities and communities augmenting the flooding.

The American Red Cross rushed disaster workers to Cincinnati, Ohio, and Louisville, Ky. The Ohio River overflowed its banks in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky and threatened to become the fourth worst flood in Ohio Valley history.

Red Cross shelters were established in Pennsylvania as the Allegheny, Susquehanna and Ohio rivers surged into streets and homes.

Betrothal Told Of Connie Riggs For May Nuptial

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Connie Riggs, daughter of Mrs. Elma Riggs, 335 Garfield St., to Walter L. Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elda Freeman of New Cumberland R. D. 1.

Miss Riggs is a member of the Senior Class of East Liverpool High School. Her fiance is employed at the Harker Pottery Co. at Chester.

The wedding will take place in May.

DAR Group Has Program About National Defense

A national defense program was presented by Miss Nell Robinson, chairman, for the meeting of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution Monday night with Mrs. William E. Kaiser of St. Clair Ave.

She spoke on "Education for Patriotism and World Mindedness" and gave a brief history of the McGuffey and Elson Readers and their relationship to patriotism and religion in the schools. She asked the group to write congressmen and representatives insisting that the McCarron-Walters Act be rigidly enforced.

Mrs. Marion Poynter, regent, led the flag salute and read the message of Mrs. Robert V. Duncan of Washington, president-general, which announced the national DAR Society would officially present the main ceremonial flag of the United States to the New York World's Fair.

Mrs. Earl Lones, chaplain, conducted devotions, reading Scripture from Ps. 90 and offered prayer.

Reports were heard from pro-tem officers, Mrs. Kaiser, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Haugh, treasurer.

The chapter voted to give awards for best citizenship to a girl and boy of the graduating class of East Liverpool High School.

Mrs. John A. Fraser, chairman, gave the report of the nominating committee with the election slated for the next session.

Mrs. Arthur Cloran read a letter from James McBride, superintendent of Beaver Local Schools, thanking the group for providing copies of the Constitution for the libraries.

A buffet lunch was served 20 by the hostess, assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Haugh, Mrs. Eugene Hall, Mrs. W. S. Foulks, Mrs. Roy Welch, Mrs. Henry Gruen, Mrs. Clark Bradfield, Mrs. Robert Stewart and Mrs. John E. Hall.

A St. Patrick's Day decoration theme predominated with the use of white pompons and yellow roses in the centerpiece blanked by green tapers. The table was covered with a green cloth. Mrs. Poynter poured at the silver service.

Next session will be April 13 with Mrs. Lones of Fisher Ave. Mrs. R. L. Cawood will present a program on approved schools.

'Nepal' Filmstrip Shown For Women's Fellowship

A filmstrip, "New Day In Nepal," was screened for the quarterly session of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Church of Christ Monday night in the social rooms.

Miss Mildred Rose, president, gave the commentary and Mrs. Juanita Clendenning was projectionist.

Mrs. Paige McKeever conducted worship on "God's Present Care Surprises Us." She read Scripture from Acts. Mrs. Doris Marshall played a medley of songs on the auto harp. The group sang "Jesus, I My Cross Have Taken," with Miss Rose accompanist.

The altar setting featured an open Bible and picture on a table covered with a gold cloth. Mrs. Charlotte Keller was program chairman.

Miss Rose announced events for Easter prayer week. Mrs. Clendenning read a missionary letter and announced a workshop will be held April 29 at Dennison. She is taking reservations.

Mrs. June Jackson read the minutes and Mrs. Agnes McSwegin the financial report.

The nominating committee, Mrs. Clendenning, Mrs. Charlotte Tracy and Mrs. Margaret Barnes, presented a report.

A buffet luncheon was served 26 by members of the Dorcas and Lydia Circles. The table, covered with a gold cloth, featured a floral centerpiece arranged by Mrs. Keller.

Election and installation of officers will be held at the session June 8.

inches short of going onto the floor of the Midway Diner on the River Rd. James Moore, the proprietor, was in the building throughout the night to help guard against damage.

At 8 a. m., after the river crested, he said a rise of two more inches would have put the water on the main floor of the diner. The 1956 flood came three inches short of putting water in the diner, he added.

MOORE HAD moved much of his equipment off the floor, but decided he would not have to evacuate.

Although the road was blocked by high water, some of the concerns were manned this morning by employes who went in through the "back way"—by walking along the higher right-of-way of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. tracks.

Reports that the river had crested brought a steady stream of sight-seers to the downtown riverfront area this morning.

AUTOS MOVED almost like a procession down Broadway and onto the River Rd. The drivers paused briefly to look at the angry, debris-laden river, then headed back via Walnut St. or Broadway.

As the river crested, it covered all of the River Rd. except the short stretch between the foot of Walnut St. and the foot of Broadway. The rise stopped when the water lapped on the River Rd. pavement about 20 feet upstream from the junction of River Rd. and Walnut St.

Even after the water recedes from the road, it probably will remain closed for a time as a safety measure. The city generally inspects the pavement for damage and hoses off the deep accumulation of mud.

1951 Class Reunion To Be Held On Aug. 8

The reunion of the Class of 1951 of East Liverpool High School was set for Aug. 8 at a committee meeting Tuesday night in the Potters Savings & Loan Co. Annex. The affair will be held at the Willows Motel at Industry.

The committee said it lacks the addresses of nine members. They are Oliver Red, Ronald Ross, Gary Guildoo, Delbert Doughtery, JoAnn Gamble, Albert Donahue, Deloris Barber. Mary Erickson and Deborah Krieger. Anyone knowing their whereabouts should call Mrs. Donna Dearth at 386-4169, or Mrs. Verna Thorne at 386-5867. Next meeting will be announced. Co-chairmen are Louie Landfriend and Frank Arcurie.

British Queen Gives Birth To 4th Child

LONDON (AP)—Britain broke out its flags and fired 41-gun salutes today to celebrate the birth of a son to Queen Elizabeth II.

Both the 37-year-old queen and the new prince—her fourth child and third son—were reported doing well. The baby was born Tuesday night at Buckingham Palace, a week earlier than expected. But "it was an easy birth," said Sir John Weir, the royal physician.

"Everything went well; there were no problems," reported the anesthetist, Dr. Vernon Hall.

The baby's weight was not announced.

The names to be given the prince were the subject of much public speculation. The favorite was James, in tribute to Scottish Stuart ancestors of the queen. Robert, Rupert and David also were mentioned.

It was the second British royal birth this year. Princess Alexandra, the queen's first cousin, had a son on Feb. 29. Princess Margaret, the queen's sister, expects her second child next month. The Duchess of Kent, Alexandra's sister-in-law, expects her first baby in May.

The queen's husband, Prince Philip, 42, telephoned the news of his new son to Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and other members of the royal family.

New Kind Of Stamp

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A correspondent who wrote to the Oregon Journal had a nickel but apparently didn't have a stamp. So the writer taped the five-cent piece on to the envelope with a note "Please stamp for me." The letter came right through with the nickel intact but the note canceled by the post office.

Legionnaires To Hear Ex-Ohio Commander

American Legion Post 374 of East End will hold a banquet Saturday at 6:30 p. m., marking the anniversary of the founding of the veterans group.

The speaker will be Mylio S. Kraja of Poland, former Ohio Department commander, who served the 1959-60 term. He now is alternate national executive committeeman.

A Navy veteran, he was the first World War II veteran commander of Youngstown Post 15. He served as commander of the 9th District in 1954. He has served on the Ohio Legion Boy Scout committee and has attended most of the national Legion conventions since 1950. He is a member of the 40 & 8 Society.

He is a director of the Mahoning Boy Scout Council. He is a volunteer fireman at Poland and is vice president of a printing and publishing firm.

MYLIO KRAJA
Speaker For Dinner Saturday.

Plans for the banquet were reviewed at a meeting of the post Monday night. Thirty attended.

Annual Tea Set For Midland's Girl Scout Units

Midland area Girl Scouts will hold their annual Juliet Low Tea Saturday from 1:30 to 4 p. m. in the Western Beaver High School cafetorium at Industry.

The theme will be "New World Friends" and the program will include skits by six troops. All scouts will participate in group singing.

Banks will be made by each troop for gifts for the Juliet Low Fellowship Fund. Scouts are to bring 10 cents and six cookies each.

Five-and 10-year pins will be awarded and craft items will be on display.

Mrs. Charles Jacoby, general chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. William McComb, Mrs. Anthony Manas, Mrs. George Daniels, Mrs. Amedeo Ulizio, Mrs. Ed Fox, Mrs. Anthony Pentoni Jr., Mrs. Amos Walker and Mrs. P. J. Farnan Jr.

The forests in Wisconsin became depleted about 40 years ago, but during recent years have made a phenomenal recovery through reforestration programs.

Needed Warm Place

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP)—Police making a routine check of automatic washer establishments early Tuesday found a young man asleep in a dryer. He explained he needed a warm place to sleep after quarreling at home.

None Injured In 4 Crashes

Two of the crashes were on township roads on which traffic increased yesterday as motorists sought to avoid flood-blocked highways.

June Delores Lonax, 33, of Irondale R. D. 1 was cited for making an improper left turn after her 1959 coach collided with a station wagon driven by Barbara J. Merical, 27, of 1214 Commerce St., Wellsville, on Township Rd. 1002 about three miles north of Route 39.

Officers said the Irondale area woman made a left turn in front of the other vehicle about 6 p. m.

John Earl Hartford, 56, of Wellsville R. D. 1 was cited after a collision on Route 39 near Highlandtown at 6:05 p.m. Officers said he drove from a side street into the path of a station wagon driven by Thomas Schuler, 23, of Toronto.

Hartford was charged with failure to yield the right-of-way.

A car driven by Carl Pucci, 23, of 937 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, skidded sideways and stopped on Township Rd. 1004 just east of Route 45 and was struck by a station wagon driven by Russell Baughman, 54, of 1010 Commerce St., Wellsville, who skidded on the icy roadway.

Wilma Keener, 33, of Wellsville R. D. lost control of her station wagon on County Rd. 424 early yesterday morning, and it struck a fence about a mile northwest of Route 267.

Palestine Kiwanians Hear Farm Manager

EAST PALESTINE — Charles Harper, manager of the Firestone Farms north of here, was guest speaker at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

The farm dates to 1797 when Nicholaus Firestone, grandfather of Harvey Firestone, secured a land grant of 640 acres from Thomas Jefferson, Harper reported. Nicholaus Firestone moved his family to the farm in 1804. The old homestead still stands.

The farm now has 880 acres. It is primarily a dairy farm, but recently branched into soil conservation and beef cattle.

Drivers Urged To Get Title Ready For Tags

LISBON — Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts, reminded Columbiana County motorists today they should check on their car title or memorandum to avoid a last-minute rush when applying for the 1964 license plates.

Sale of the new tags began March 1 and all cars must have them if on the roads April 1.

"You should check now and make sure you have your title and if not then make application at once so you can secure your plates by the deadline March 31," he said.

Kensington Area Man Due Salineville Trial

SALINEVILLE — John Edmond of Kensington R. D. 1 is slated to receive a hearing Thursday at 7:30 before Mayor Stanley Fitch on a charge of reckless operation. He was arrested Saturday night, police said.

William Hill of West End is to receive a hearing on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The charge was signed by his wife.

BEFORE THE COCK CROWS TWICE

After twice denying that he knew Jesus, Peter was approached in the courtyard by a servant of the high priest. The servant happened to be a relative of the man whose ear Peter cut off with his sword in the Garden of Gethsemani.

"Did I not see thee in the garden with Him?" he asked.

Peter began to curse and swear, denying emphatically that he was there or knew Jesus.

"And at that moment, while he was yet speaking, a cock crowed. And the Lord turned and looked upon Peter. And Peter remembered the word of the Lord, how He said, 'Before a cock crows twice, thou wilt deny me thrice.'

"And Peter went out and wept bitterly." (Luke XXII: 60-62)

Woman Driver's Fine Suspended In Traffic Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today decreed a suspended $25 fine for a 34-year-old woman driver cited on a charge of leaving the scene of a Dresden Ave. traffic mishap today, asserting the court could find "no intent not to report the accident."

The judge acted after Mrs. Mary Ann Lineberry of Beacon Rd. pleaded guilty to a charge filed as an aftermath of a mishap on Dresden Ave. 600 feet north of Trentvale St. at 7:14 this morning that involved her 1955 two-door sedan and a parked 1952 two-door sedan owned by Francis E. Dawson, 1948 Dresden Ave.

Mrs. Lineberry, who suffered a knee injury, was to be treated by a physician. She was cited by Patrolman H. W. Bosworth, who said he found her in her parked car in a Substation service station.

Mrs. Lineberry told the court her auto skidded on icy pavement and hit the Dawson car. She said she attempted to flag down passing cars for assistance, but at least 10 drivers ignored her. She said she then drove to the service station to telephone her husband, adding: "I didn't know what else to do; I couldn't get anyone to help me."

"I can understand the circumstances," the judge said. "I find no intent not to report the accident."

Flooded Ohio Crests At 42 Feet In Area

ported the high water has blocked State Route 2 in New Cumberland and Route 66 at Congo, south of Newell.

At 10 last night, the water was within a few inches of entering the first floor of the Pine Glen Restaurant on the main street. Employes of Herche's Drugstore worked hurridly yesterday to remove the stock on the first floor to high shelves.

State Road Commission employes manned detour posts the entire night, moving traffic around New Cumberland by way of Hardins Run Rd. in the rural area.

Deputies from the staff of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny were also on the job aiding the evacuation.

Congo, the small riverfront community near Newell, was also hit hard by the high water. Only three of an estimated 30 families remained in their homes overnight, the others leaving to stay with relatives and friends.

The trailer court along Route 66 was abandoned, and the vehicles hauled to Newell.

The Johnson, Norris and Mercer families in Congo remained in their homes. Mrs. Robert Norris said the flood was worse than the one 20 years ago. She said the flood water had entered the second story of her home.

Empire was the hardest hit of the riverfront villages on the Ohio shore.

Mayor Wendell Reese said this morning that 80 families had been evacuated from their flooded homes during the night.

Moved from their homes in freezing weather, the flood victims were lodged overnight in a flood disaster building on high ground, and many traveled to homes of friends in Toronto and Knoxville and surrounding areas.

The Red Cross and Salvation Army from Steubenville were on the job, providing food and hot coffee. Employes of the State Highway Department, and road crews from Jefferson County and the township pitched in to haul away furniture and belongings in trucks.

Mayor Reese, who managed to catch an hour's sleep during the night, wearily reported that everyone had been evacuated safely and there were no mishaps.

Some families left their homes this morning when their basements were flooded, and they were unable to use their furnaces for heat.

He estimated 10 feet of water covered Route 7 in the village this morning.

One Empire resident termed the flood "plenty rough" but not as bad as the one in 1936.

Mayor Reese moved his flood headquarters to an office to the Union Clay Co. when Empire Village Hall became flooded during the night.

Stratton, to the north of Empire, was not affected nearly as much by the high water.

There was about 3 feet of muddy water over the village streets this morning.

Eight families moved elsewhere when their basements became flooded, but generally speaking, there was no serious flooding of first - floors of dwellings.

Two officers from the State Highway Patrol barracks at Wintersville, near Steubenville, have been stationed at Stratton since 10 a. m. yesterday to handle traffic on Route 7, which is blocked by highway water.

The traffic is being rerouted out through the country, officers said. Sgt. W. C. McCleery said they are being troubled with a heavy flow of sightseers.

Meanwhile, residents in Irondale, Hammondsville and Cream City began mopping up today as Little Yellow Creek receded into its normal channels.

The stream had flooded about a dozen homes in Cream City Tuesday, and reached basements in the other two communities.

But Stanton Local Schools remained closed for the second day in a row, because of high water covering State Route 213 in Huygheville near Yellow Creek and the roads in Empire.

Basements were being pumped today in Irondale, and the roads were generally free of water.

In Huygheville, Mrs. Albert Huyghe said the backwater was very deep and was blocking State Route 213, for a distance of about a mile and one-half.

Wellsville has about 3 feet of water against the main floodwall gate on Wells Ave.—Route 7.

A Civil Defense fire truck from Glenmoor along with three men and some Wellsville firemen were sent to Highland Ave. when the gates were closed Tuesday afternoon. They will remain there until the water recedes to provide protection for the area outside the floodwall.

Most of the homes on Wells Ave. have flooded basements. There is water up to the porches of the homes, but none apparently has any water in the first floor.

There is water in the two ice cream stands at Route 45 and Wells Ave. as well as the laundromat.

Two autos left parked in the area were flooded. The water did not reach Mason's Foodliner, which lies on a higher ground.

Firemen started erecting the gate at 1 p. m. They never stopped until the entire gate was in place at 4:30, according to Asst. Fire Chief Robert Lloyd, because of the rapid rate of rise.

The men started on two small railroad gates at 6 p. m. and had them in place by 10. There is no water against them.

While the men were installing the flood gate, the fire alarm sounded and Lloyd and six men were called to the home of Don Hutchison, 1616 Maple Ave., where a neighbor spotted the reflection of flames in a basement window and thought the house was afire. It was a furnace repairman working in the Hutchison basement, firemen said.

The water went into the yards and basements of about eight homes on lower Nevada St. It also got into the Allied Oil Co. terminal.

Danbury Ave. also was inundated.

At the direction of officials from Conway, a work train was sent out from Wellsville to make the necessary repairs. The crew finished up today.

The main line remained open. A Weirton flagman was hurt slightly when the caboose of one freight jumped track in the area.

The bridge at Smiths Ferry was closed between 4:30 and 5 yesterday afternoon when the water became too deep in a low spot on the side toward East Liverpool to be safe for cars. The bridge itself was not covered until much later.

The last cars that made it through were pushing water ahead of them like towboats. The water swirled up through the floor of the vehicles and poured out the doors after they made it through.

A large van-type truck made it through without any difficulty about 5:15. It was high enough off the roadway that the water did not affect its motor.

Barricades were thrown up and many spectators gathered on both sides to watch. Many walked the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge to get a better view.

Many men en route to work at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland parked their cars along the road beginning at the state line, walked over the railroad bridge and had friends pick them up.

The entire roadway of the bridge was covered with water this morning. The water also blocked the end of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. where it joins Pennsylvania Route 68 near the bridge. Traffic was forced to use an old dirt road cutoff that leads to the state line at Harvey Ave.

About six families in Smiths Ferry residing in the vicinity of the river bank, were forced from their homes.

Most had about six inches of water on the first floor. The residents moved much of their furniture to the second floor, and took shelter with relatives and neighbors in the neighborhood.

Floodwaters rushed into downtown Wheeling today as the Ohio River climbed toward its highest crest in 20 years.

Red Cross units set up shelter stations at the U.S. Naval Reserve Training Center in Warwood as hundreds of families abandoned their lowland homes.

Judging by past floods, Wheeling residents expected about half the business district to be under about 2 feet of water by tonight. Access to the downtown area already was cut off from the west this morning.

Humble Start

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University's School of Engineering and Applied Science, which will celebrate its 100th anniversary Nov. 15, 1964, started life in the cellar rooms of a former deaf and dumb asylum on Columbia's old 49th Street campus. It spent its second academic year in a former broom factory.

Flooded Ohio Crests At 42 Feet In Area

ported the high water has blocked State Route 2 in New Cumberland and Route 66 at Congo, south of Newell.

At 10 last night, the water was within a few inches of entering the first floor of the Pine Glen Restaurant on the main street. Employes of Herche's Drugstore worked hurridly yesterday to remove the stock on the first floor to high shelves.

State Road Commission employes manned detour posts the entire night, moving traffic around New Cumberland by way of Hardins Run Rd. in the rural area.

Deputies from the staff of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny were also on the job aiding the evacuation.

Congo, the small riverfront community near Newell, was also hit hard by the high water. Only three of an estimated 30 families remained in their homes overnight, the others leaving to stay with relatives and friends.

The trailer court along Route 66 was abandoned, and the vehicles hauled to Newell.

The Johnson, Norris and Mercer families in Congo remained in their homes. Mrs. Robert Norris said the flood was worse than the one 20 years ago. She said the flood water had entered the second story of her home.

Empire was the hardest hit of the riverfront villages on the Ohio shore.

Mayor Wendell Reese said this morning that 80 families had been evacuated from their flooded homes during the night.

Moved from their homes in freezing weather, the flood victims were lodged overnight in a flood disaster building on high ground, and many traveled to homes of friends in Toronto and Knoxville and surrounding areas.

The Red Cross and Salvation Army from Steubenville were on the job, providing food and hot coffee. Employes of the State Highway Department, and road crews from Jefferson County and the township pitched in to haul away furniture and belongings in trucks.

Mayor Reese, who managed to catch an hour's sleep during the night, wearily reported that everyone had been evacuated safely and there were no mishaps.

Some families left their homes this morning when their basements were flooded, and they were unable to use their furnaces for heat.

He estimated 10 feet of water covered Route 7 in the village this morning.

One Empire resident termed the flood "plenty rough" but not as bad as the one in 1936.

Mayor Reese moved his flood headquarters to an office to the Union Clay Co. when Empire Village Hall became flooded during the night.

Stratton, to the north of Empire, was not affected nearly as much by the high water.

There was about 3 feet of muddy water over the village streets this morning.

Eight families moved elsewhere when their basements became flooded, but generally speaking, there was no serious flooding of first - floors of dwellings.

Two officers from the State Highway Patrol barracks at Wintersville, near Steubenville, have been stationed at Stratton since 10 a. m. yesterday to handle traffic on Route 7, which is blocked by highway water.

The traffic is being rerouted out through the country, officers said. Sgt. W. C. McCleery said they are being troubled with a heavy flow of sightseers.

Meanwhile, residents in Irondale, Hammondsville and Cream City began mopping up today as Little Yellow Creek receded into its normal channels.

The stream had flooded about a dozen homes in Cream City Tuesday, and reached basements in the other two communities.

But Stanton Local Schools remained closed for the second day in a row, because of high water covering State Route 213 in Huygheville near Yellow Creek and the roads in Empire.

Basements were being pumped today in Irondale, and the roads were generally free of water.

In Huygheville, Mrs. Albert Huyghe said the backwater was very deep and was blocking State Route 213, for a distance of about a mile and one-half.

Wellsville has about 3 feet of water against the main floodwall gate on Wells Ave.—Route 7.

A Civil Defense fire truck from Glenmoor along with three men and some Wellsville firemen were sent to Highland Ave. when the gates were closed Tuesday afternoon. They will remain there until the water recedes to provide protection for the area outside the floodwall.

Most of the homes on Wells Ave. have flooded basements. There is water up to the porches of the homes, but none apparently has any water in the first floor.

There is water in the two ice cream stands at Route 45 and Wells Ave. as well as the laundromat.

Two autos left parked in the area were flooded. The water did not reach Mason's Foodliner, which lies on a higher ground.

Firemen started erecting the gate at 1 p. m. They never stopped until the entire gate was in place at 4:30, according to Asst. Fire Chief Robert Lloyd, because of the rapid rate of rise.

The men started on two small railroad gates at 6 p. m. and had them in place by 10. There is no water against them.

While the men were installing the flood gate, the fire alarm sounded and Lloyd and six men were called to the home of Don Hutchison, 1616 Maple Ave., where a neighbor spotted the reflection of flames in a basement window and thought the house was afire. It was a furnace repairman working in the Hutchison basement, firemen said.

The water went into the yards and basements of about eight homes on lower Nevada St. It also got into the Allied Oil Co. terminal.

Danbury Ave. also was inundated.

At the direction of officials from Conway, a work train was sent out from Wellsville to make the necessary repairs. The crew finished up today.

The main line remained open. A Weirton flagman was hurt slightly when the caboose of one freight jumped track in the area.

The bridge at Smiths Ferry was closed between 4:30 and 5 yesterday afternoon when the water became too deep in a low spot on the side toward East Liverpool to be safe for cars. The bridge itself was not covered until much later.

The last cars that made it through were pushing water ahead of them like towboats. The water swirled up through the floor of the vehicles and poured out the doors after they made it through.

A large van-type truck made it through without any difficulty about 5:15. It was high enough off the roadway that the water did not affect its motor.

Barricades were thrown up and many spectators gathered on both sides to watch. Many walked the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge to get a better view.

Many men en route to work at the Crucible Steel Co. at Midland parked their cars along the road beginning at the state line, walked over the railroad bridge and had friends pick them up.

The entire roadway of the bridge was covered with water this morning. The water also blocked the end of the Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Rd. where it joins Pennsylvania Route 68 near the bridge. Traffic was forced to use an old dirt road cutoff that leads to the state line at Harvey Ave.

About six families in Smiths Ferry residing in the vicinity of the river bank, were forced from their homes.

Most had about six inches of water on the first floor. The residents moved much of their furniture to the second floor, and took shelter with relatives and neighbors in the neighborhood.

Floodwaters rushed into downtown Wheeling today as the Ohio River climbed toward its highest crest in 20 years.

Red Cross units set up shelter stations at the U.S. Naval Reserve Training Center in Warwood as hundreds of families abandoned their lowland homes.

Judging by past floods, Wheeling residents expected about half the business district to be under about 2 feet of water by tonight. Access to the downtown area already was cut off from the west this morning.

House Vote Slated Today On Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House votes today on a bill that would grant $10,000-a-year pay raises to members of Congress.

Nearly everyone else on the federal payroll also would benefit from the bill but the congressional pay raise is the key to the rest of the package.

Having voted to cut taxes and pledged to economize in government many members are reluctant to put $10,000 more in public funds into their own pockets — and then face the voters.

The bill's chances are bright if it can be passed by a voice vote — avoiding the necessity for members to go on record for or against it. But a determined effort to force a roll call is expected to be made and if it succeeds the outcome will be in doubt.

There was a possibility the bill would be withdrawn if a roll call vote is ordered.

A final vote was not expected before late in the day—or maybe even Thursday.

The bill, backed by the administration and by many leaders in private industry, seeks to make government pay comparable with that in private industry up to the middle level.

For Red Cross

Salineville Drive Set

Mrs. Georgia Beckwith, left, and Mrs. Jessie Bolles prepare materials for Salineville's annual Red Cross fund drive slated to begin Monday. The campaign will also include the village of Highlandtown.

Twenty volunteers will solicit homes in the communities during the week, and the proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross Chapter in East Liverpool, which serves Salineville and Highlandtown areas.

Mrs. Beckwith has served as Salineville's Red Cross fund chairman for nine years. Mrs. Bolles is co-chairman for the first time.

Volunteer leaders in Salineville for the house-to-house drive to be held during the week are:

Presbytery's Survey Slated

Plans for a long-range survey to determine areas with population increases and those that need churches and pastors were discussed at the meeting of the Steubenville Presbytery Tuesday at the Island Creek church in Toronto.

The Rev. Gene Toot, associate minister of the Trinity church, and moderator of the Presbytery, was appointed chairman of the survey.

Also discussed was the proposed capital fund drive to be launched in 1965.

The Rev. Frank Hare of Hanoverton, stated clerk, was named chairman of a committee to compile a manual with listings of a committee to compile a manual with listings of churches ministers and the group's bylaws, which is expected to be completed in several months.

The Rev. V. Castle Stewart, pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Steubenville, was guest speaker. He was presented by the race and religion committee.

A card of congratulation was sent to the Rev. Charles Robert Cheeks of Farrell, former pastor in Calcutta and Glenmoor, for the 50th anniversary of his ordination.

Worship was led by the Rev. Russell Shepherd, pastor of the Longs Run church.

Lisbon Ruritans Hear Legislator

LISBON — Education takes 50 per cent of the state budget and welfare 20 per cent, Robert Longsworth, state representative from Carroll County, told the Ruritan Club Tuesday night at the First Christian Church.

He said legislation can be compared to a Board of Directors "carrying out the wishes of the people" and he reminded that the legislature did not raise taxes at the last session.

The Rev. Mark Headland of Trinity Friends Church spoke briefly.

Final plans were discussed for the club's fish fry March 25 and the next meeting will be April 14 at the same location.

Dan Libby of Lisbon was a guest.

2 Autoists Fined

LISBON — Two motorists were fined Tuesday by County Judge James L. MacDonald after being cited by the State Highway Patrol. Goerge F. Harris, 50, of Salem R. D. 3 was fined $2 and costs for ignoring a stop sign and Edward Bryan, 30, of Salineville R. D. 2, $5 and costs for operating a motor vehicle without a muffler.

Guidance Association Hears Juvenile Judge

LISBON — Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin spoke to the County Guidance Association Monday afternoon at the Trinity Episcopal Church.

He discussed problems of juveniles brought into his court and how the group could help the youngsters. Chief Probation Officer Cornelius Csepke of Salem also discussed his work and how he and school officials could help each other.

A questoin and answer period followed.

Heritage Project Of Scouts Explained For Rotary Club

"Our American Heritage," name of a project of the Boy Scouts of America to be used the next three years to promote old-fashioned patriotism in the space age, was explained by Robert S. Hepburn at the Rotary Club's noon luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

Hepburn, who became Cherokee District executive in January, pointed out the Boy Scouts plan to promote patriotism as a means of assuring that action of the Korean War turncoats will not be repeated in the future "to blot our history."

He used a film strip and recording in his presentation. The animated film and narration asserted that "too many are leaving America's heritage to the speechmakers" rather than talking of the county's great deeds and acting themselves.

"If our youth does not cherish our American heritage, what will happen someday when they can sell it cheaply?" the narrator asked. He said Americans can maintain their heritage by living up to the standards expected in Boy Scouting.

The program closed with a recording of the National Anthem. Hepburn, 36, who was employed in a similar post in Ravenna before succeeding Robert Gray as Cherokee District executive, said the patriotic theme will be used at the sixth National Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge.

He attended the University of Miami at Coral Gables for a year and was graduated from the University of Kentucky at Lexington with a degree in marketing and economics. Hepburn has been active in the scout movement for 24 years, professionally for five years. He is a captain in the Army Reserve.

John Thompson was program chairman, subbing for the Rev. Russell Mase, who was unable to attend. Ralph A. Finley, president, presided.

As Trustees Meet

Chamber Backs Road Bond Issue

The Board of Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night voted endorsement of a $500 million road bond issue that will appear on the ballot statewide at the May 5 primary, feeling its enactment would give a big boost to more rapid completion of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway between East Liverpool and Ashtabula.

The board took the action at a dinner meeting at the Travelers Hotel in which new committee chairmen reported on plans for their 1964 programs. Twenty - five attended.

THE PROPOSAL for endorsement of the bond issue was made by Atty. Francis H. Lang, chairman of the highway committee and charter president of the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway Association, a four - county group that has encouraged construction of the new facility.

He reported that State Highway Director P. E. Masheter, in response to a query from the highway association, said approval of the bond issue would assure completion of the lake-river road by 1969 "or shortly thereafter." The increase in available funds would allow the state to program larger segments of the road each year, he added.

The chairman pointed out that since the lake - river road is not part of the interstate highway system the state is required to provide 50 per cent of construction costs, along with 50 per cent from the federal government. When a highway is part of the interstate system, the federal government furnishes 90 per cent for a 10 per cent contribution from the state, he explained.

THE BOND issue already has been endorsed by the Ohio Chamber, the Ohio Automobile Association and similar groups, Lang reported.

City Engineer George S. Bloomgren, also a member of the board, said he feels the availability of additional funds would "assure" a long-sought improvement on State Route 267 from W. 8th St. up the Lisbon St. Hill to the city limits. The city has sought to encourage the state to undertake a project to eliminate some of the curves on the heavily - traveled highway.

The board voted to endorse approval of the bond issue and "lend all possible support" for its enactment.

In other action on highways, E. R. Chandler, executive manager, was asked to write to the West Virginia State Road Commission to enquire as to the status of a plan announced several years ago for widening and improvement of a section of Route 30 in the Chester area.

REPORTS WERE presented by or on behalf of eight other committee chairmen.

Edwin Maloney, head of the public education committee, said the group is planning to conduct its usual spring dinner in honor of students representing the top 10 per cent of the graduating classes of area high schools. He said another traditional committee project — a fall welcome to new teachers at area schools — may be revamped this year with the aid of the local school administration.

Samuel W. Brown, reporting for the safety committee, said it will expand its program for the local observance of National Fire Prevention Week in the fall. The committee will continue to pursue the possibility of working out reciprocity agreements between the East Liverpool fire department and neighboring communities, he added.

The committee will confer with Council on community traffic and safety problems and will seek to encourage more firms to participate in a countywide industrial safety program, he said.

CHANDLER SUBMITTED a report on behalf of Dr. A. A. Turner, chairman of the agriculture and conservation committee. He said the committee will continue to work for better understanding between rural and urban residents. It also will seek continued development of Beaver Creek State Forest Park, he added.

In a report for Richard Emmerling, head of the business relations committee, Chandler said the group is arranging to set up economic discussion groups for some of the senior classes in high school.

H. James Allison, chairman on the civic and community affairs committee, reported his group is working on a summer outing for Chamber members. It also will assist in the annual citywide spring cleanup, he added.

Councilman Donald Hancock and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey have been designated to attend the committee's meetings to help coordinate its activities with the municipal government. Ronald Gibbs heads a sub - committee of the group assigned specifically to work on the West Virginia side, Allison said.

REPORTING FOR the legislative affairs committee, S. C. Porter Jr., co-chairman, said it will continue to attempt to encourage all members to take an interest in state and national legislation, advising them to make their positions clear to their congressmen.

In a report for the membership committee, George A. Shaw, chairman, said the Chamber ended 1963 with 480 members, compared with 498 at the end of 1962. He said the membership represents 293 firms and individuals.

Shaw said the committee "will get busy soon with a concerted drive" for members. If gains in membership do not provide sufficient funds for an adequate budget, the alternative may be an increase in dues, he said.

J. Norman Nicely, head of the transportation committee, said his group is gathering statistics and data for publication in a brochure planned by the Community Improvement Corp.

DAYTON ALLEN, chairman, reported for the East Liverpool Merchants Association. He said its downtown improvement committee is continuing to work on seeking sites for additional off-street parking.

The committee recently gave the city administration a price it had obtained on one property, but has heard nothing further, he said. The committee also is attempting to obtain a price on another business district property it feels would be suitable for parking, he said.

Allen recalled the committee approached the last administration with a plan under which merchants would be able to give parking meter tokens to their patrons, later reimbursing the city. He said the committee is still working on the plan.

Chandler said another proposal has been made under which merchants would validate customers' receipts from the Community Parking Lot, allowing them to park without charge.

CHANDLER ALSO reported for H. J. English, chairman of the new travel and promotion committee. The committee works primarily to encourage touring groups to visit East Liverpool to see the potteries, the Ohio River and the East Liverpool Historical Society Museum, he said. He said two tour groups already have been signed for spring visits.

The board was advised April 5-11 has been designated as Chamber of Commerce Week in proclamations by President Johnson and Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Robert E. Boyce, president, announced a local delegation will attend the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber April 26-29 in Washington.

The board approved membership applications from United Electronics, Inc., of St. Clair Ave. and Farnsworth TV of Broadway.

THE BOARD'S next meeting will be Tuesday, April 14.

As the session ended, a discussion on community development was presented by two representatives of The Review — George A. Shaw, business manager and publisher, and Glenn H. Waight, news editor.

Beaver Polio Vaccine Taken By 143,890

Richard Flusco, executive director of the Beaver County United Fund, said the 23,498 county residents who participated in the K.O. Polio vaccine project Sunday brought the total of those who have taken Type I to 143,890, or 72 per cent of the county residents.

The Beaver County Medical Society administered the vaccine, in co-operation with the United Fund.

The second of three vaccine programs of the K.O. Polio campaign will be held Sunday, April 5, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in all 33 locations. Type III vaccine will be distributed.

Chester Car Damaged In Crash On W. 5th St.

A Chester auto was damaged in a two-way mishap Tuesday at 12:39 p. m. on W. 5th St. 25 feet east of Peach Alley, police reported.

A 1960 four-door sedan driven by Mrs. Ruth Wright, 359 Carolina Ave., Chester, was involved in a collision with a 1961 four-door sedan operated by Hugh D. McCarron, 50, of 1760 Chester Ave., Wellsville, officers said.

Mrs. Wright told police she was driving west on W. 5th and turning into the alley. McCarron reported his auto was in a parking spot and he was backing to get the wheels closer to the curb. The left rear door of the Chester car was damaged, officers said.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Still The Same Henry That Was

Henry Morgan, the iconoclastic wit and prime mover on NBC-TV's "That Was the Week That Was" show, is as much a fixture of the New York scene as the Statue of Liberty.

Hal Humphrey

He also carries a torch for freedom, and when Henry's cynicism doesn't trip him up, he uses that torch to expose phonies.

"What I do is satire, and I'm trying to straighten out America on my terms," says Henry, with that well known believe-me-or-not grin of his. "The trouble is I've become an expert in a field that doesn't exist."

SINCE THE FIRST of the year, when NBC revealed a hitherto well concealed streak of courage by putting "Week That Was" in its schedule, Henry at least has had a kind of bullpen to work in.

"Week That Was" has so far had a ragged in-and-out record of accomplishment. Henry is aware of its shortcomings, but he also is justifiably irritated at those TV columnists and critics who have been yelling for more controversy on TV and now fault "Week That Was" for its flaws instead of encouraging its spirit.

"What have they said in their columns lately to be controversial?" asks Henry, acidly. "I wrote to one New York critic who said we weren't rough enough, and I asked him, 'What do you have in mind, sir?' I want to see him print these things in his column."

NO ONE, with the possible exception of the late Fred Allen, has had more experience than Henry Morgan in trying to bring a little grit and genuine humor into the supersensitive world of advertising and broadcasting.

Henry started his own 15-minute radio show here in 1937 on WOR ("Here's Morgan") and completely upset Madison Avenue protocol by ribbing the sponsor, his product and his wife (if he had one).

One of Henry's classics was the twist he gave a razor manufacturer's slogan — "Push-pull, click-click, tinkle-tinkle — that's the blade falling on the bathroom floor," added Henry, irreverently.

DESPITE the fame and fortune such Morganizing brought to the sponsors, they ultimately decided to forego some of the profit and find emcees who at least publicly pretended to love and respect them.

Since 1953 he has found a weekly home on the CBS-TV "I've Got a Secret" panel. No successor to Garry Moore's emceeing of that show has been announced yet, (Moore is retiring), but Henry feels he should be the logical choice.

"I haven't talked to anyone at CBS about it. I'm very bad in an office, you see, so I let someone else do that for me. I might say the wrong thing," muses Henry.

OVER THE YEARS Henry has learned that most broadcasters and ad agency men are scared to death of him. All will agree that he is an adept and roundly qualified radio-TV personality. But before the conference on whether to hire Henry is over, someone invariably cries out, "Yeah, but we never know what he's going to say on the air!"

"I want to be lovable," says Henry. "But don't forget, I've been reading for 40 years, and one picks up a certain amount of knowledge that way. I guess I can't blame the executives for worrying about me.

"Unfortunately," 'controversial' has become a dirty word in our lexicon. Soon the news may become too controversial for radio and TV. Maybe we will have frozen news. It will be thawed out only after it's safe to broadcast."

TV Highlights

TONIGHT

7:30, KDKA, Young People's Concert: "Jazz in the Concert Hall." A study of a new movement in American music will be the final New York Philharmonic Young People's Concert with Leonard Bernstein.

7:30, WJAC, WTRF, WHC, Virginian: "Walk in Another's Footsteps", with guest star Sheree North. Setting out to capture a bank robber, the Virginian winds up protecting a frontier woman and her small son from Indian raiders.

9, KDKA, WSTV, Beverly Hillbillies: Granny gets her dander up when she confuses a house-to-house insecticides salesman with a "critter doctor" Elly May has called to treat the family's ailing bloodhound.

102nd Birthday Nears For Robert W. Sample

Robert W. Sample of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of East Liverpool, is looking forward to visits from his friends Sunday when he marks his 102nd birthday anniversary.

The former East Liverpool and Wellsville shoe store operator will pass another milestone in the second century of life at his home in St. Petersburg.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. of McKinnon Ave., his son and only close surviving relative, said his father expects visits from St. Petersburg friends, including some from East Liverpool who are wintering in the resort city.

Councilman Sample will be unable to attend the birthday celebration, but expects to visit his father during the summer.

"He still has full possession of all his faculties and gets around well — but not quite so well as a few years ago," the councilman said. "He still is able to write an occasional letter and tell us about life in Florida, especially the weather."

Until a few years ago, the elder Sample traveled with the seasons between East Liverpool and Florida, making his summer home here and going to the southern state for the winter. However, he has made St. Petersburg his year-around home for several years.

Sample purchased a shoe store in Wellsville in 1885 and moved to East Liverpool two years later, the year McKinley was elected President. He operated an East Liverpool shoe business for 33 years, retiring in 1930.

Haul Down, Burn American Flag

Rioting Cambodians Sack U.S., British Embassies

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Rioting Cambodians sacked the American and British embassies in Phnom Penh today and the U.S. Information Service library.

The flag over the U.S. Embassy was hauled down and burned, and the mob ran up the Cambodian flag.

Several cars belonging to members of the British Embassy were burned, and several American Embassy cars were overturned.

The mob shouted such slogans as "U.S. go home," "Down with imperialists and the Free World," and "Perfidious Albion (England)."

In Washington, State Department press officer Martin Cramer said no Americans were reported injured in the riot but several demonstrators were cut by shattered glass from windows stoned by the mob.

Carmer said U.S. charge d'affaires Herbert D. Spivack had protested to the Cambodian government.

The rioters broke through police barriers to sack the U.S. Embassy and the information library. They put a ladder against a wall to bring the American flag down.

Embassy papers were scattered through the streets.

Relations between the United States and Cambodia have deteriorated in recent months, and the government of Prince Norodom Silianouk has moved closer to the Communist camp.

The Cambodian chief of state has recalled his ambassador from Washington and refused to accept further U.S. aid, accusing the United States of supporting Cambodian rebels. Washington has denied this.

Sihanouk criticized the United States Monday night in connection with his proposal that the United States, Thailand and South Viet Nam send representatives here by the end of March to sign an accord recognizing Cambodia's neutrality and territorial integrity.

The 42-year-old prince said the U.S. suggested creating a frontier delimitation committee instead.

"The American counterproposal constitutes an immense drapery — absolutely unacceptable and inadmissible," he said. "The delimitation of the Cambodian frontiers is not to be done over."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1811, the first wedding in the White House took place when Mrs. Lucy Payne Washington was married to Justice Thomas Todd of the U.S. Supreme Court. Mrs. Washington was a sister of Mrs. James Madison and widow of Philip Steptoe Washington, nephew of George Washington.

On this date

In 1794, the U.S. Navy was founded by an act of Congress authorizing construction of six warships.

In 1888, the great blizzard began its three-day rampage in which more than 400 lives were lost in a vast sector of the U.S.

In 1926, Mississippi passed a law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in state supported schools.

In 1941, French Indochina and Siam signed a pact ending their border dispute which had developed into an undeclared war.

In 1952, the first presidential preferential primary in the U.S. was held in New Hampshire.

Ten years ago ... the U. S. Army reported it had been subjected to direct threats by Republican senator Joseph McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, in efforts to gain preferential treatment for Lt. G. David Schine, a former investigator for McCarthy's subcommittee.

Five years ago ... President Eisenhower said the United States would not fight a ground war against Russia in Europe but declined to rule out nuclear war if hostilities resulted from the Berlin crisis.

One year ago ... President Kennedy said achievement of full employment was America's most pressing internal challenge.

Eighty - five attended a "Ladies Night" program of the East Liverpool Shrine Club Monday at the Casting Club, including 49 nobles and 36 wives.

There was a fish fry and W. E. (Pete) Kaiser screened slides of a trip to Nassau and the Bahamas.

Paul E. Taylor, president, presided. It was announced the annual Tri-State Shrine Dance will be held in June at Rock Springs Park in Chester. Ten couples from the club attended the Potentate's Ball in Cleveland over the weekend.

Joe Barrett, vice president, announced the club will visit the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. office. There will be a dance April 18 at the Casting Club for members and friends.

Guests included John T. Wolfenden of the Divan in Cleveland, who extended the invitation to the club for the Imperial session in New York at the World's Fair.

Next meeting will be April 13.

115 Postal Positions Due To Be Eliminated

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A total of 115 postal jobs will be eliminated in Missouri, Arkansas and Iowa, the regional director of the U.S. Post Office, John F. Dee, said Tuesday at St. Louis.

Dee said the job cut was part of a federal economy move. The regional post office director said a data processing center in St. Louis would be consolidated with centers at Cincinnati, Ohio, and Memphis, Tenn. The consolidation, Dee said, is expected to save the Post Office $4 million annually.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Still The Same Henry That Was

Henry Morgan, the iconoclastic wit and prime mover on NBC-TV's "That Was the Week That Was" show, is as much a fixture of the New York scene as the Statue of Liberty.

Hal Humphrey

He also carries a torch for freedom, and when Henry's cynicism doesn't trip him up, he uses that torch to expose phonies.

"What I do is satire, and I'm trying to straighten out America on my terms," says Henry, with that well known believe-me-or-not grin of his. "The trouble is I've become an expert in a field that doesn't exist."

SINCE THE FIRST of the year, when NBC revealed a hitherto well concealed streak of courage by putting "Week That Was" in its schedule, Henry at least has had a kind of bullpen to work in.

"Week That Was" has so far had a ragged in-and-out record of accomplishment. Henry is aware of its shortcomings, but he also is justifiably irritated at those TV columnists and critics who have been yelling for more controversy on TV and now fault "Week That Was" for its flaws instead of encouraging its spirit.

"What have they said in their columns lately to be controversial?" asks Henry, acidly. "I wrote to one New York critic who said we weren't rough enough, and I asked him, 'What do you have in mind, sir?' I want to see him print these things in his column."

NO ONE, with the possible exception of the late Fred Allen, has had more experience than Henry Morgan in trying to bring a little grit and genuine humor into the supersensitive world of advertising and broadcasting.

Henry started his own 15-minute radio show here in 1937 on WOR ("Here's Morgan") and completely upset Madison Avenue protocol by ribbing the sponsor, his product and his wife (if he had one).

One of Henry's classics was the twist he gave a razor manufacturer's slogan — "Push-pull, click-click, tinkle-tinkle — that's the blade falling on the bathroom floor," added Henry, irreverently.

DESPITE the fame and fortune such Morganizing brought to the sponsors, they ultimately decided to forego some of the profit and find emcees who at least publicly pretended to love and respect them.

Since 1953 he has found a weekly home on the CBS-TV "I've Got a Secret" panel. No successor to Garry Moore's emceeing of that show has been announced yet, (Moore is retiring), but Henry feels he should be the logical choice.

"I haven't talked to anyone at CBS about it. I'm very bad in an office, you see, so I let someone else do that for me. I might say the wrong thing," muses Henry.

OVER THE YEARS Henry has learned that most broadcasters and ad agency men are scared to death of him. All will agree that he is an adept and roundly qualified radio-TV personality. But before the conference on whether to hire Henry is over, someone invariably cries out, "Yeah, but we never know what he's going to say on the air!"

"I want to be lovable," says Henry. "But don't forget, I've been reading for 40 years, and one picks up a certain amount of knowledge that way. I guess I can't blame the executives for worrying about me.

"Unfortunately," 'controversial' has become a dirty word in our lexicon. Soon the news may become too controversial for radio and TV. Maybe we will have frozen news. It will be thawed out only after it's safe to broadcast."

TV Highlights

TONIGHT

7:30, KDKA, Young People's Concert: "Jazz in the Concert Hall." A study of a new movement in American music will be the final New York Philharmonic Young People's Concert with Leonard Bernstein.

7:30, WJAC, WTRF, WHC, Virginian: "Walk in Another's Footsteps", with guest star Sheree North. Setting out to capture a bank robber, the Virginian winds up protecting a frontier woman and her small son from Indian raiders.

9, KDKA, WSTV, Beverly Hillbillies: Granny gets her dander up when she confuses a house-to-house insecticides salesman with a "critter doctor" Elly May has called to treat the family's ailing bloodhound.

102nd Birthday Nears For Robert W. Sample

R. W. SAMPLE
To Mark Milestone In Florida.

Robert W. Sample of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of East Liverpool, is looking forward to visits from his friends Sunday when he marks his 102nd birthday anniversary.

The former East Liverpool and Wellsville shoe store operator will pass another milestone in the second century of life at his home in St. Petersburg.

Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. of McKinnon Ave., his son and only close surviving relative, said his father expects visits from St. Petersburg friends, including some from East Liverpool who are wintering in the resort city.

Councilman Sample will be unable to attend the birthday celebration, but expects to visit his father during the summer.

"He still has full possession of all his faculties and gets around well — but not quite so well as a few years ago," the councilman said. "He still is able to write an occasional letter and tell us about life in Florida, especially the weather."

Until a few years ago, the elder Sample traveled with the seasons between East Liverpool and Florida, making his summer home here and going to the southern state for the winter. However, he has made St. Petersburg his year-around home for several years.

Sample purchased a shoe store in Wellsville in 1895 and moved to East Liverpool two years later. The year McKinley was elected President. He operated an East Liverpool shoe business for 33 years, retiring in 1930.

Haul Down, Burn American Flag

Rioting Cambodians Sack U.S., British Embassies

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Rioting Cambodians sacked the American and British embassies in Phnom Penh today and the U.S. Information Service library.

The flag over the U.S. Embassy was hauled down and burned, and the mob ran up the Cambodian flag.

Several cars belonging to members of the British Embassy were burned, and several American Embassy cars were overturned.

The mob shouted such slogans as "U.S. go home," "Down with imperialists and the Free World," and "Perfidious Albion (England)."

In Washington, State Department press officer Martin Cramer said no Americans were reported injured in the riot but several demonstrators were cut by shattered glass from windows stoned by the mob.

Carmer said U.S. charge d'affaires Herbert D. Spivack had protested to the Cambodian government.

The rioters broke through police barriers to sack the U.S. Embassy and the information library. They put a ladder against a wall to bring the American flag down.

Embassy papers were scattered through the streets.

Relations between the United States and Cambodia have deteriorated in recent months, and the government of Prince Norodom Silianouk has moved closer to the Communist camp.

The Cambodian chief of state has recalled his ambassador from Washington and refused to accept further U.S. aid, accusing the United States of supporting Cambodian rebels. Washington has denied this.

Sihanouk criticized the United States Monday night in connection with his proposal that the United States, Thailand and South Viet Nam send representatives here by the end of March to sign an accord recognizing Cambodia's neutrality and territorial integrity.

The 42-year-old prince said the U.S. suggested creating a frontier delimitation committee instead.

"The American counterproposal constitutes an immense duperry absolutely unacceptable and inadmissible," he said. "The delimitation of the Cambodian frontiers is not to be done over."

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, March 11th, the 71st day of 1964. There are 295 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1811, the first wedding in the White House took place when Mrs. Lucy Payne Washington was married to Justice Thomas Todd of the U.S. Supreme Court. Mrs. Washington was a sister of Mrs. James Madison and widow of Philip Steptoe Washington, nephew of George Washington.

On this date

In 1794, the U.S. Navy was founded by an act of Congress authorizing construction of six warships.

In 1888, the great blizzard began its three-day rampage in which more than 400 lives were lost in a vast sector of the U.S.

In 1926, Mississippi passed a law prohibiting the teaching of evolution in state supported schools.

In 1941, French Indochina and Siam signed a pact ending their border dispute which had developed into an undeclared war.

In 1952, the first presidential preferential primary in the U.S. was held in New Hampshire.

Ten years ago ... the U. S. Army reported it had been subjected to direct threats by Republican senator Joseph McCarthy and his chief counsel, Roy Cohn, in efforts to gain preferential treatment for Lt. G. David Schine, a former investigator for McCarthy's subcommittee.

Five years ago ... President Eisenhower said the United States would not fight a ground war against Russia in Europe but declined to rule out nuclear war if hostilities resulted from the Berlin crisis.

One year ago ... President Kennedy said achievement of full employment was America's most pressing internal challenge.

115 Postal Positions Due To Be Eliminated

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A total of 115 postal jobs will be eliminated in Missouri, Arkansas and Iowa, the regional director of the U.S. Post Office, John F. Dee, said Tuesday at St. Louis.

Dee said the job cut was part of a federal economy move. The regional post office director said a data processing center in St. Louis would be consolidated with centers at Cincinnati, Ohio, and Memphis, Tenn. The consolidation, Dee said, is expected to save the Post Office $4 million annually.

$8,000 Approved For 1964 Football Program At ELHS

Basketball Has Profit Of $4,885

A football requisition totaling $8,797.56 was turned down but a budget of $8,000 was approved for the 1964 grid program when the new East Liverpool High School Athletic Board met Tuesday night.

The board also accepted the basketball financial report which showed a profit of $4,885.70 derived from the 1963-64 season.

A LENGTHY two-and-a-half hour discussion followed the initial football request. The requisition was turned down twice on two different motions.

Just when it appeared the requisition would die, Mrs. Nessie Dunlop repeated an earlier motion when she asked that $8,000 be approved or new equipment and the reconditioning of old equipment and that board would act on any additional needs for the football program as the requests were made.

THE ORIGINAL request for $8,797.56 recommended by Principal Carl Pelini showed that $3,988.59 would go for new grid equipment at the high school; $1,145.86 for new equipment at Westgate Junior High and $837.81 for new equipment at East Junior High.

In addition, $2,778.50 was for reconditioning of all equipment at the high school and two junior highs.

PELINI pointed out that the 1964 request was $1,500 higher over last year but cited that more boys are participating in the football program on the high school level and the cost of equipment has gone up.

"Over the last five years the average number of boys reporting for football is 84. There were 87 reporting in 1963 and 65 remained on the squad," Pelini said.

Bob Hedmond, head football coach, was present at the meeting and showed the equipment pointing out safety factors to the board.

PELINI SAID the football requisition was made on three points, including safety, durability and wear of the equipment and care and cleaning.

Harry McConville reminded the board of equipment needed at Patterson Field and board members followed with a discussion on the replacement of lights and new transformers at Patterson Field.

"We must live within a budget or we will be back in the red again like we were a few years ago," McConville reminded the board.

Mrs. Dunlop asked if the requsition could be cut in any areas and Pelini replied: "I feel all of these items are necessary."

THE BOARD has a balance of $2,119.17 on hand with $10,000 in a savings account.

Pelini asked for a motion on the requisition three times. McConville finally made a motion for a budget of $8,000 and said "I think most requisitions of this type are higher than really what is needed."

Pelini said "this is not true in this case."

Along with proposing the $8,000, McConville added that anything spent over the $8,000 would be for safety equipment or something that was necessary.

The motion ended in a tie vote when Brown, Supt. Paul Blair and Charles Deshler, athletic driector, voted "no" while Mrs. Dunlop, McConville and Jack Woomer voted "yes." The tie was broken by Pelini who opposed the issue.

SUPT. BLAIR then made a motion for the $8,797.56 which was asked for and that the Athletic Board approve any additional expenses. His motion did not receive a second and the issue was tabled until later when Mrs. Dunlop's motion was passed by a 5-1 vote. Brown was the only member to oppose the motion.

The $4,885.70 profit in basketball showed $6,363.50 in gate receipts and $3,791 in season ticket sales. Total expenses for the 1963-64 season were $5,130.58 with receipts totaling $10,016.28.

The major expenditures were equipment for $973.13 and employes at $734.60.

THE PRICE of football tickets was raised 25 cents at three levels. The board approved the recommendation by Pelini of a new price scale on football tickets when he pointed out that four of the five schools East Liverpool played away during the 1963 season charged 25 cents more than ELHS. The schools included Steubenville, Martins Ferry, New Philadelphia and Alliance.

The new prices will be $1.50 for reserved adult tickets and $1.25 for adult general admission tickets. Student season tickets will remain the same at 50 cents but the student general admission ticket was raised from 50 cents to 75 cents.

Pelini also announced a committee will begin the advance sale of season football tickets on April 20.

The board also approved a request of $284.11 for baseball equipment and $278.39 for track equipment.

No date was set for the next meeting.

McComas, Flesch On All-District; Stozich, Henderson Lead Mentors

Frank McComas, leading scorer for the Potters this past season and Terry Flesch, Wellsville's point leader were named to the 10-man All-eastern District squad today.

McComas paced the Potters in scoring with 278 points for an average of almost 15 points per game and seemed to hit the higher figures against East Liverpool's tougher opponents.

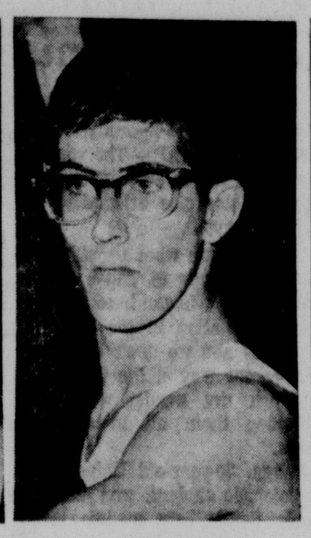
Flesch, a fine pivot man, carried the Tigers on his shoulders all season and wound up with 376 points in 20 games for an average of 19 per contest.

John Stozich of Uhrichsville was named Class AA coach-of-the-year in the Eastern District and Bob Henderson, a former Irondale athlete, now head coach at Brilliant was selected in the Class A ranks.

The two mentors were selected as the area's sports editors of Associated Press newspapers and radio - television stations picked the district's all - star teams in both classes.

Wintersville's Jerry Yoakum, a member of the 10-man Class AA squad, averaged 30 points for the year to lead the list, and the others ranged down to 15 by Marietta's Roger Fulmer.

FRANK MCCOMAS
Top Scorer For Potters.



TERRY FLESCH
Wellsville Star Honored.

In Class A, the leading scorer was Jim Dalrymple of Adena with 26, and on the bottom was Terry Bates of Beverly Fort Frye with 11. Mike Beitzel of New Philadelphia is tallest of the big school squad at 6-foot-5, while Steve Peaytt of Brilliant and Bill Heid of Dover St. Joseph hit the same height in Class A.

Bob Duffy of the East Liverpool Review was chairman of the selection board. Others were Dan Kopp, Dover Reporter John Kirker, Steubenville Herald-Star, and Bud Kaatz, WMOA, Marietta.

The selections:

Class AA

Class A

Bob Archer, Marietta St. Mary; Steve Peaytt, Brilliant; Jim Dalrymple, Adena; Larry Pradelski, Springfield Local (Jefferson County); John Peters, Strasburg; Bill Heid, Dover St. Joseph; Dean DeMattio, Midvale; Terry Bates, Fort Frye; Lyle Fickleson, Lawrence; Jim Montella, Marvern.

The eastern board will join the five other district boards in selecting the All-Ohio teams to be announced next week.

Bob Skinner May 'Swing' As Regular

The lanky outfielder caught Hutch's eye Tuesday when he smashed a 400-foot homer over the center field fence in the club's first spring training intrasquad game. Skinner led the Turners to a 7-4 victory over the Sislers.

"If he can hit .280 or .290 he'll have a starting job sewed up," said Hutchinson of Skinner. "He's swinging that bat this spring like he did a couple of years ago with Pittsburgh when he was recognized as one of the loop's better hitters."

If Skinner can make the starting team, Hutchinson said, he could move Tommy Harper to third base, solving that problem. Harper has been in the outfield but likes to play third base better.

Four rookie pitchers saw service in the six-inning game, with Scott Breeden of Hamilton, Ohio, making the best showing. He hurled three innings for the winners, allowing no runs and giving up only three singles.

Also in the spotlight was Don Pavletich, who knocked in three runs with a pair of doubles for the Turners.

Ohio U. Advances In Overtime Win

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Loyola Ramblers are over their first hurdle in a drive to win the national collegiate basketball championship for the second straight year

Down by 13 points at 21-8 after 14 minutes of play the Ramblers roared from behind Tuesday night to defeat Murray State 101-91 in the NCAA tournament play at Evanston, Ill. The Ohio University Bobcats whipped Louisville 71-69 in overtime in the other Mideast Regional game at Northwestern's McGaw Hall.

Utah State came from behind in the last 85 seconds to defeat Arizona State 92-90 and Seattle, beaten twice by Oregon State during the regular season, surprised the Beavers 61-57 in the Far West Regionals at Eugene, Ore.

Friday's winners meet at the same sites in Saturday's quarter-finals. Saturday's survivors then go to Kansas City for the semifinals and final March 20-21.

The NCAA small college tourney quarter-finals are on tap tonight at Evansville, Ind., where Hofstra meets Akron, Evansville plays Cal Poly of Pomona, Southeast Missouri plays State College of Iowa and Adelphi opposes North Carolina A&T. Pan-American of Texas, the defending champion, heads the second round play today in the NAIA at Kansas City.

Ohio U. trailed most of the second half, but in the last 10 minutes the score see-sawed and the game was sent into overtime when Louisville's Judd Rothman sank a free throw for a 65-65 deadlock. Jerry Jackson's free throw with 40 seconds left in the extra period gave the Bobcats the victory.

Another Ohio college Cedarville, wasn't as fortunate in tournament action Tuesday night. The Yellowjackets were eliminated from the NAIA tourney by losing, 95-40, to Central Oklahoma State.

Liston Arrested On Speed Charge

DENVER (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston was arrested Tuesday night by a traffic officer who said Liston was driving 76 miles an hour in a 30 mile an hour zone.

Patrolman James Snider said after stopping Liston's Cadillac he found in a search of Liston that he was carrying a seven shot .22 caliber pistol with six cartridges and an empty shell.

Snider, alone when he stopped Liston's car, said he had to call another patrol car for help in handcuffing Liston "when he became belligerent." He was taken in handcuffs to police headquarters.

Snider said he charged Liston with reckless and careless driving, speeding, carrying a concealed weapon and driving without a valid Colorado operator's license. Liston was booked at the jail but gained his immediate release by posting $300 bond, Snider said.

The officer, 5-foot-10, 185-pounds, said he didn't know who Liston was "until I got down to headquarters and one of the other officers who knew him, said 'Hello Sonny'."

Snider said another person in Liston's car was not taken into custody and drove his car away. Snider said he didn't know his identity.

The arrest took place on East 17th Avenue within a mile of Liston's residence in East Denver.

Snider said Liston offered no resistance getting into his patrol car but on the trip down to the police station "began to argue and that's when I called for another car. I said I had a customer that was beginning to get pretty rough."

With the help of the other officer, Snider said he put handcuffs on Liston and drove to the headquarters with no other difficulties.

Bouton Seems Set To Sign On Force Play

The 25-year-old pitcher, first major Yankee holdout in a quarter of a century, flew into Miami Tuesday night en route to the Yankees' spring training camp at nearby Fort Lauderdale after making it clear that he had not agreed to the club's $18,500 contract offer and still considers it unsatisfactory.

But, he added, "I may be forced to sign under the conditions now prevailing." Those conditions are what General Manager Ralph Houk says is the final Yankee offer and a threat by Houk to lower the $18,500 figure $100 a day if Bouton is not in camp by midnight Wednesday.

"Since the deadline is Wednesday night," Bouton said before leaving his Ridgewood, N.J., home, "I want to be down there if I do decide to sign. And if I do, it will only be because of the $100-a-day cut, which I can't afford."

$8,000 Approved For 1964 Football Program At ELHS

The board approved the recommendation by Pelini of a new price scale on football tickets when he pointed out that four of the five schools East Liverpool played away during the 1963 season charged 25 cents more than ELHS. The schools included Steubenville, Martins Ferry, New Philadelphia and Alliance.

The new prices will be $1.50 for reserved adult tickets and $1.25 for adult general admission tickets. Student season tickets will remain the same at 50 cents but the student general admission ticket was raised from 50 cents to 75 cents.

Pelini also announced a committee will begin the advance sale of season football tickets on April 20.

The board also approved a request of $284.11 for baseball equipment and $278.39 for track equipment.

No date was set for the next meeting.

McComas, Flesch On All-District; Stozich, Henderson Lead Mentors

Frank McComas, leading scorer for the Potters this past season and Terry Flesch, Wellsville's point leader were named to the 10-man All-eastern District squad today.

McComas paced the Potters in scoring with 278 points for an average of almost 15 points per game and seemed to hit the higher figures against East Liverpool's tougher opponents.

Flesch, a fine pivot man, carried the Tigers on his shoulders all season and wound up with 376 points in 20 games for an average of 19 per contest.

John Stozich of Uhrichsville was named Class AA coach-of-the-year in the Eastern District and Bob Henderson, a former Irondale athlete, now head coach at Brilliant was selected in the Class A ranks.

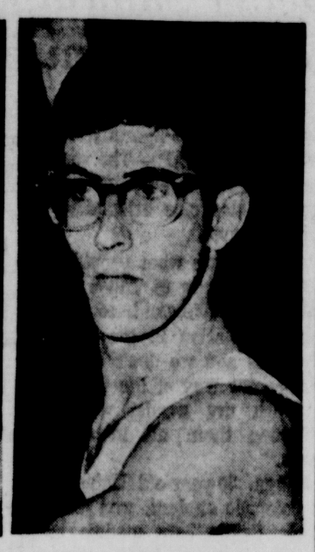
The two mentors were selected as the area's sports editors of Associated Press newspapers and radio - television stations picked the district's all - star teams in both classes.

Wintersville's Jerry Yoakum, a member of the 10-man Class AA squad, averaged 30 points for the year to lead the list, and the others ranged down to 15 by Marietta's Roger Fulmer.

In Class A, the leading scorer was Jim Dalrymple of Adena with 26, and on the bottom was Terry Bates of Beverly Fort Frye with 11. Mike Beitzel of New Philadelphia is tallest of the big school squad at 6-foot-5, while Steve Peaytt of Brilliant and Bill Heid of Dover St. Joseph hit the same height in Class A.

Bob Duffy of the East Liverpool Review was chairman of the selection board. Others were Dan Kopp, Dover Reporter John Kirker, Steubenville Herald-Star, and Bud Kaatz, WMOA, Marietta.

FRANK MCCOMAS
Top Scorer For Potters.



TERRY FLESCH
Wellsville Star Honored.

Class AA

Class A

Bob Archer, Marietta St. Mary; Steve Peaytt, Brilliant; Jim Dalrymple, Adena; Larry Pradelski, Springfield Local (Jefferson County); John Peters, Strasburg; Bill Heid, Dover St. Joseph; Dean DeMattio, Midvale; Terry Bates, Fort Frye; Lyle Fickleson, Lawrence; Jim Montella, Marvern.

The eastern board will join the five other district boards in selecting the All-Ohio teams to be announced next week.

Bob Skinner May 'Swing' As Regular

The lanky outfielder caught Hutch's eye Tuesday when he smashed a 400-foot homer over the center field fence in the club's first spring training intrasquad game. Skinner led the Turners to a 7-4 victory over the Sislers.

"If he can hit .280 or .290 he'll have a starting job sewed up," said Hutchinson of Skinner. "He's swinging that bat this spring like he did a couple of years ago with Pittsburgh when he was recognized as one of the loop's better hitters."

If Skinner can make the starting team, Hutchinson said, he could move Tommy Harper to third base, solving that problem. Harper has been in the outfield but likes to play third base better.

Four rookie pitchers saw service in the six-inning game, with Scott Breeden of Hamilton, Ohio, making the best showing. He hurled three innings for the winners, allowing no runs and giving up only three singles.

Also in the spotlight was Don Pavletich, who knocked in three runs with a pair of doubles for the Turners.

Ohio U. Advances In Overtime Win

The Chicago Loyola Ramblers are over their first hurdle in a drive to win the national collegiate basketball championship for the second straight year

Down by 13 points at 21-8 after 14 minutes of play the Ramblers roared from behind Tuesday night to defeat Murray State 101-91 in the NCAA tournament play at Evanston, Ill. The Ohio University Bobcats whipped Louisville 71-69 in overtime in the other Mideast Regional game at Northwestern's McGaw Hall.

Utah State came from behind in the last 85 seconds to defeat Arizona State 92-90 and Seattle, beaten twice by Oregon State during the regular season, surprised the Beavers 61-57 in the Far West Regionals at Eugene, Ore.

Friday's winners meet at the same sites in Saturday's quarter-finals. Saturday's survivors then go to Kansas City for the semifinals and final March 20-21.

The NCAA small college tourney quarter-finals are on tap tonight at Evansville, Ind., where Hofstra meets Akron, Evansville plays Cal Poly of Pomona, Southeast Missouri plays State College of Iowa and Adelphi opposes North Carolina A&T. Pan-American of Texas, the defending champion, heads the second round play today in the NAIA at Kansas City.

Ohio U. trailed most of the second half, but in the last 10 minutes the score see-sawed and the game was sent into overtime when Louisville's Judd Rothman sank a free throw for a 65-65 deadlock. Jerry Jackson's free throw with 40 seconds left in the extra period gave the Bobcats the victory.

Another Ohio college Cedarville, wasn't as fortunate in tournament action Tuesday night. The Yellowjackets were eliminated from the NAIA tourney by losing, 95-40, to Central Oklahoma State.

Liston Arrested On Speed Charge

DENVER (AP) — Former heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston was arrested Tuesday night by a traffic officer who said Liston was driving 76 miles an hour in a 30 mile an hour zone.

Patrolman James Snider said after stopping Liston's Cadillac he found in a search of Liston that he was carrying a seven shot .22 caliber pistol with six cartridges and an empty shell.

Snider, alone when he stopped Liston's car, said he had to call another patrol car for help in handcuffing Liston "when he became belligerent." He was taken in handcuffs to police headquarters.

Snider said he charged Liston with reckless and careless driving, speeding, carrying a concealed weapon and driving without a valid Colorado operator's license. Liston was booked at the jail but gained his immediate release by posting $300 bond, Snider said.

The officer, 5-foot-10, 185-pounds, said he didn't know who Liston was "until I got down to headquarters and one of the other officers who knew him, said 'Hello Sonny'."

Snider said another person in Liston's car was not taken into custody and drove his car away. Snider said he didn't know his identity.

The arrest took place on East 17th Avenue within a mile of Liston's residence in East Denver.

Snider said Liston offered no resistance getting into his patrol car but on the trip down to the police station "began to argue and that's when I called for another car. I said I had a customer that was beginning to get pretty rough."

With the help of the other officer, Snider said he put handcuffs on Liston and drove to the headquarters with no other difficulties.

Bouton Seems Set To Sign On Force Play

The 25-year-old pitcher, first major Yankee holdout in a quarter of a century, flew into Miami Tuesday night en route to the Yankees' spring training camp at nearby Fort Lauderdale after making it clear that he had not agreed to the club's $18,500 contract offer and still considers it unsatisfactory.

But, he added, "I may be forced to sign under the conditions now prevailing." Those conditions are what General Manager Ralph Houk says is the final Yankee offer and a threat by Houk to lower the $18,500 figure $100 a day if Bouton is not in camp by midnight Wednesday.

"Since the deadline is Wednesday night," Bouton said before leaving his Ridgewood, N.J., home, "I want to be down there if I do decide to sign. And if I do, it will only be because of the $100-a-day cut, which I can't afford."

Post Making Bid With Heavy Bat

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Veteran Wally Post is doing a good job so far in proving that he should play right field for the Cleveland Indians when the season opens.

Post, one of eight right field candidates, swung a hot bat Tuesday as he helped the Tribe to a 9-7 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

The former National League star slammed a 440-foot three-run homer and drove in four runs. He also had a single.

Other hitting stars for Cleveland, now 2-2 in the Cactus League, were shortstop Dick Howser, with a single and double in three at - bats, and Al Smith, who had two singles. The 36-year-old Smith also is a candidate for the right field spot.

None of the four Tribe pitchers who worked showed well. They were Dick Donovan, Jerry Walker, Dick Beres and George Culver. Each was hit hard and the four allowed a total of seven walks.

Donovan, the starter, got credit for the victory. Bill Kelso, second of four Los Angeles hurlers, was the loser.

Donovan, a veteran right-hander, couldn't protect the lead. The Angels scored a run in the second and two more in the third on Jim Fregosi's 400-foot homer over the right field fence.

The Tribe surged ahead in the third, greeting Kelso, a rookie right hander, with a three-run outburst on a hit batsman and back-to-back singles by Fred Whitfield, rookie catcher Jerry Burlison and Larry Brown.

Danny Rivas, another Los Angeles rookie, came on in the sixth and the Tribe hammered him for three more runs when nine men came to the plate. Two walks, an error and hits by Howser and Chico Salmon figured in the Cleveland scoring.

2 Sports Banquets Set By Beaver Local Club

Plans for two sports banquets were made at a meeting of the Beaver Local Boosters Club Tuesday night at the high school.

An all-sports banquet will be held at the Public School April 7 for the seventh and eight grade athletes. Mrs. Frank Copestick Jr. and Mrs. George Gaydos were named co-chairmen.

The spring sports banquet for the senior high school athletes will be held May 12 at the high school.

The club will sponsor a horse show July 26 at the Public School grounds.

George Dunn, president, was in charge.

A partial slate of officers was submitted by the nominating committee. Election will be held at the next meeting March 24.

A policy committee was appointed to restudy and revise the by-laws. It includes James McLaughlin, chairman, Gale Williams, Donald Elliott, Roy Cashdollar, George Dunn and Mrs. Leo Jenkins.

Discussion was held on the club-owned bus, used transporting athletes. Action on whether to sell the vehicle was tabled.

Steve Barborak spoke on the Beaver Creek State Park and improvements there. Refreshments were served to 20 by Mr. and Mrs. Dunn.

Wildness Hits Belinsky In First Outing

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bo Belinsky is as wild as a March hare.

At least he was Tuesday in his first start for the Los Angeles Angels on the spring exhibition baseball schedule.

The southpaw who became a celebrity with a no-hitter in 1962, then slumped and was sent down to Hawaii in the Pacific Coast League last season, gave up only two hits and fanned four in a two-inning stint against Cleveland at Tucson.

In between he issued three bases on balls, made a wild pitch and nearly beaned pitcher Dick Donovan of the Indians. And one of the two hits he yielded was a 450-foot homer by Wally Post with two on in the first innings. The hefty wallop started Cleveland on the way to a 9-7 victory.

Mrs. Player Qualifies As No. 1 Golf Widow

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE

"It's our weekly dose of happiness," explained the 26-year-old brunette whose husband spends nine months of every year chasing the golfing limelight.

"Gary's not much of a letter writer, although he did remember to send me a Valentine card—sometimes even a picture postcard," she said.

Vivienne, former South African swimming champion and daughter of well-known golfer Jock Verwey, considers herself the world's number one golf widow.

"It's pretty tough being parted from Gary month after month," she said, "but it's even tougher on him. Few people realize how tiring the professional golf circuit can be. He'll come home for a week or two dog tired. Then before we get to know each other he's packing bags, saying goodbye to the children and trying to explain to them why he's leaving home again."

Mrs. Player said the toughest part of being the world's premier golf widow is the frequent goodbyes. "They don't come any easier with the years," she said. "He leaves home emotionally torn to pieces—it's heartbreaking for us all.

"Our four children don't make matters any easier. The older ones, Jennifer aged 5 and Mark 3, are constantly asking, 'Where's Daddy?' The other two Wayne aged 2 and two-month-old Michele, are still too young to realize what's happening."

But Vivienne said things are to be changed in the Player household next year.

"We've decided to cut down on professional tournaments," she said. "Six months' golf and six months' rest—and most of the resting period will be spent just getting to know his family again."

Better Showing In Winter Games Promised By Youth

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The young man's dark eyes shot sparks of fire and his voice bristled with fighting tones.

"I don't care what people tell us," Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., said. "We can become the strongest nation in the Winter Olympics and we don't have to change our way of life to do it.

"Mark my words, we'll be whipping them all in a few years."

Heuga, 20-year-old University of Colorado student, won one of Uncle Sam's six medals last month in the Ninth Winter Games at Innsbruck, Austria—a third place bronze in the men's slalom ski race.

He and other members of the U.S. Alpine ski team came to New York Tuesday to look at the films of the big snow and ice carnival.

They sat in a small darkened American Broadcasting Co. studio in mid-Manhattan for almost three hours and watched with wide-eyed interest as their form flashed across the silver screen.

No matter how hard or how long they looked, the result came out the same. The Soviet Union was the big winner — 26 medals.

"We cannot be content with being an eighth place nation, even in sports," Senator Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., said afterward with alarm. "We must do something about it."

"We're not an eighth place nation at all," Heuga said. "I thought we did amazingly well at Innsbruck, especially in skiing, considering the amount of emphasis we give the sport.

"We have a strong, effective skiing program under way in this country — and have had since 1962. Billy Kidd and I almost made it this time. Next time, we will. We'll have a much stronger team, all around in the 1968 games."

Kidd, from Stowe, Vt., finished second and Heuga third behind Pepi Stiegler of Austria in the men's slalom.

Post Making Bid With Heavy Bat

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Veteran Wally Post is doing a good job so far in proving that he should play right field for the Cleveland Indians when the season opens.

Post, one of eight right field candidates, swung a hot bat Tuesday as he helped the Tribe to a 9-7 exhibition victory over the Los Angeles Angels.

The former National League star slammed a 440-foot three-run homer and drove in four runs. He also had a single.

Other hitting stars for Cleveland, now 2-2 in the Cactus League, were shortstop Dick Howser, with a single and double in three at - bats, and Al Smith, who had two singles. The 36-year-old Smith also is a candidate for the right field spot.

None of the four Tribe pitchers who worked showed well. They were Dick Donovan, Jerry Walker, Dick Beres and George Culver. Each was hit hard and the four allowed a total of seven walks.

Donovan, the starter, got credit for the victory. Bill Kelso, second of four Los Angeles hurlers, was the loser.

Donovan, a veteran right-hander, couldn't protect the lead. The Angels scored a run in the second and two more in the third on Jim Fregosi's 400-foot homer over the right field fence.

The Tribe surged ahead in the third, greeting Kelso, a rookie right hander, with a three-run outburst on a hit batsman and back-to-back singles by Fred Whitfield, rookie catcher Jerry Burlison and Larry Brown.

Danny Rivas, another Los Angeles rookie, came on in the sixth and the Tribe hammered him for three more runs when nine men came to the plate. Two walks, an error and hits by Howser and Chico Salmon figured in the Cleveland scoring.

2 Sports Banquets Set By Beaver Local Club

Plans for two sports banquets were made at a meeting of the Beaver Local Boosters Club Tuesday night at the high school.

An all-sports banquet will be held at the Public School April 7 for the seventh and eight grade athletes. Mrs. Frank Copestick Jr. and Mrs. George Gaydos were named co-chairmen.

The spring sports banquet for the senior high school athletes will be held May 12 at the high school.

The club will sponsor a horse show July 26 at the Public School grounds.

George Dunn, president, was in charge.

A partial slate of officers was submitted by the nominating committee. Election will be held at the next meeting March 24.

A policy committee was appointed to restudy and revise the by-laws. It includes James McLaughlin, chairman, Gale Williams, Donald Elliott, Roy Cashdollar, George Dunn and Mrs. Leo Jenkins.

Discussion was held on the club-owned bus, used transporting athletes. Action on whether to sell the vehicle was tabled.

Steve Barborak spoke on the Beaver Creek State Park and improvements there. Refreshments were served to 20 by Mr. and Mrs. Dunn.

Wildness Hits Belinsky In First Outing

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Bo Belinsky is as wild as a March hare.

At least he was Tuesday in his first start for the Los Angeles Angels on the spring exhibition baseball schedule.

The southpaw who became a celebrity with a no-hitter in 1962, then slumped and was sent down to Hawaii in the Pacific Coast League last season, gave up only two hits and fanned four in a two-inning stint against Cleveland at Tucson.

In between he issued three bases on balls, made a wild pitch and nearly beaned pitcher Dick Donovan of the Indians. And one of the two hits he yielded was a 450-foot homer by Wally Post with two on in the first innings. The hefty wallop started Cleveland on the way to a 9-7 victory.

Mrs. Player Qualifies As No. 1 Golf Widow

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE

"It's our weekly dose of happiness," explained the 26-year-old brunette whose husband spends nine months of every year chasing the golfing limelight.

"Gary's not much of a letter writer, although he did remember to send me a Valentine card—sometimes even a picture postcard," she said.

Vivienne, former South African swimming champion and daughter of well-known golfer Jock Verwey, considers herself the world's number one golf widow.

"It's pretty tough being parted from Gary month after month," she said, "but it's even tougher on him. Few people realize how tiring the professional golf circuit can be. He'll come home for a week or two dog tired. Then before we get to know each other he's packing bags, saying goodbye to the children and trying to explain to them why he's leaving home again."

Mrs. Player said the toughest part of being the world's premier golf widow is the frequent goodbyes. "They don't come any easier with the years," she said. "He leaves home emotionally torn to pieces—it's heartbreaking for us all.

"Our four children don't make matters any easier. The older ones, Jennifer aged 5 and Mark 3, are constantly asking, 'Where's Daddy?' The other two Wayne aged 2 and two-month-old Michele, are still too young to realize what's happening."

But Vivienne said things are to be changed in the Player household next year.

"We've decided to cut down on professional tournaments," she said. "Six months' golf and six months' rest—and most of the resting period will be spent just getting to know his family again."

Better Showing In Winter Games Promised By Youth

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The young man's dark eyes shot sparks of fire and his voice bristled with fighting tones.

"I don't care what people tell us," Jim Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., said. "We can become the strongest nation in the Winter Olympics and we don't have to change our way of life to do it.

"Mark my words, we'll be whipping them all in a few years."

Heuga, 20-year-old University of Colorado student, won one of Uncle Sam's six medals last month in the Ninth Winter Games at Innsbruck, Austria—a third place bronze in the men's slalom ski race.

He and other members of the U.S. Alpine ski team came to New York Tuesday to look at the films of the big snow and ice carnival.

They sat in a small darkened American Broadcasting Co. studio in mid-Manhattan for almost three hours and watched with wide-eyed interest as their form flashed across the silver screen.

No matter how hard or how long they looked, the result came out the same. The Soviet Union was the big winner — 26 medals.

"We cannot be content with being an eighth place nation, even in sports," Senator Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., said afterward with alarm. "We must do something about it."

"We're not an eighth place nation at all," Heuga said. "I thought we did amazingly well at Innsbruck, especially in skiing, considering the amount of emphasis we give the sport.

"We have a strong, effective skiing program under way in this country — and have had since 1962. Billy Kidd and I almost made it this time. Next time, we will. We'll have a much stronger team, all around in the 1968 games."

Kidd, from Stowe, Vt., finished second and Heuga third behind Pepi Stiegler of Austria in the men's slalom.

Pistons Pull Surprise On Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

Nobody's as loose as a loser when the string begins to run out on a pennant race. The current National Basketball Association windup is no exception.

The lowly Detroit Pistons, feeling no pain at this stage of their worst NBA season, ambushed Cincinnati 114-103 Tuesday night and wrecked the Royals' Eastern Division title hopes.

The Pistons-turned gremlins thus assured Boston of at least a share of its eighth straight Eastern crown. One more Boston victory or Cincinnati defeat will put the Celtics over the top.

Two other also - rans, Baltimore and New York, had similar sabotage plans for the Western Division leaders. But San Francisco and St. Louis, running 1-2 and a game apart in the West, refused to follow the script.

Ray Scott and Jackie Moreland shot the Pistons ahead to stay early in the third quarter after Cincinnati's 60 per cent first half gunning gave the Royals a 59-56 intermission spread. Bob Ferry's three-point play finished the Royals after they closed to within four points in the final period.

Scott had 27 points for Detroit. Cincy's Oscar Robertson sank all seven of his first half shots and wound up with 33.

San Francisco, with Al Attles leading the way, struck for 41 third quarter points and broke up a close game. Baltimore trailed 51-50 when the Warriors exploded. Wilt Chamberlain scored 32 points for San Francisco one more than the Bullets' Walt Bellamy.

Cliff Hagan got 12 of his 34 points as St. Louis ran a 26-6 third quarter streak into a 93-73 bulge that kept New York out of upset range. Ex-Knick Richie Guerin added 23 points for the Hawks. Al Butler topped the Knicks with 18.

Ted Williams Around For Tips On Hitting

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — The guy with No. 9 on his back, and a few extra pounds up front, reluctantly stopped hitting fungos to the Boston outfield and came over to pose for pictures.

Within a minute he was talking about hitting and four or five players were gathered around, as attentive as unpublished poets at the feet of the Bard.

"Now the first rule of hitting," said Ted Williams, "is to get a good pitch to hit. If the pitcher fools you with a ball that's over, you take until he's got two strikes on you.

"Then you concede that the pitcher is in the driver's seat, and you bring your hands up on that bat."

Among the listeners was Carl Yastrzemski, the American League batting champion. Now you'd figure he needs a lecture on hitting like Frank Howard needs elevator shoes.

But Yastrzemski kept listening. When he was a 2-year-old, the lecturer hit .406. In 1957, the same guy hit .388. Those are the two highest major league batting averages in the last third of a century.

"I'll probably be here a couple of weeks," Williams told a reporter after the picture session. "I'll talk about hitting to anybody who wants to listen.

"Most of the young players like to talk about it because it's the hardest thing to do consistently well in baseball. How often do you hear of an outfielder going into a long fielding slump?

"Now, to do any good here, I've got to be able to talk to a hitter without giving him the idea I'm trying to change his style. I think once a player has developed a style he's just about got to sink or swim with it.

"But it's possible to be a good hitter with any style, short of standing on your head."

Williams, an executive assistant on the Boston staff, joined the club here after a trip to the South Pacific. He was the star in an outdoors promotion sponsored by the New Zealand government tourist bureau.

"First I caught a 600-pound thresher shark," he said. "Then I caught some trout and killed three deer—all in the space of 10½ hours. They had planes to take me from place to place."

Pet Armadillo Saved But Left Out In Cold

RENO (AP) — The Norman Silver family's pet armadillo, a warm climate animal, is out in the cold. The armadillo usually snuggled up at night under an electric blanket in a dog house behind the Silver home.

But the blanket apparently developed an electrical short one night and the house burned down. Firemen arrived in time to save the armadillo from harm.

Astronomers Set Up Leap Year In 1582

NEW YORK (AP) — Where would we be today without Leap Year

Leap Year was set up by astronomers appointed by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582 because the earth takes approximately 365 and one-quarter days to revolve around the sun. Without that day every four years to even things out, the watchmakers say, by now we'd have Christmas as the leaves start to turn color and Labor Day in the spring.

Payment For Delivery Made After 30 Years

LOUISVILLE (AP) — On a cold, rainy night in February 1934, Dr. U. R. Ulferts delivered a baby but made no charge because the family was poor.

Recently, he received this letter from Oklahoma City:

"Inclosed you will find a check for $50 in payment for an old doctor bill of $15. Although we were grateful for the medical care, we were unable to pay. I hope the extra $35 will be enough for the interest."

The letter was signed by that mother of 30 years ago.

Pistons Pull Surprise On Cincinnati

By The Associated Press

Nobody's as loose as a loser when the string begins to run out on a pennant race. The current National Basketball Association windup is no exception.

The lowly Detroit Pistons, feeling no pain at this stage of their worst NBA season, ambushed Cincinnati 114-103 Tuesday night and wrecked the Royals' Eastern Division title hopes.

The Pistons-turned gremlins thus assured Boston of at least a share of its eighth straight Eastern crown. One more Boston victory or Cincinnati defeat will put the Celtics over the top.

Two other also - rans, Baltimore and New York, had similar sabotage plans for the Western Division leaders. But San Francisco and St. Louis, running 1-2 and a game apart in the West, refused to follow the script.

Ray Scott and Jackie Moreland shot the Pistons ahead to stay early in the third quarter after Cincinnati's 60 per cent first half gunning gave the Royals a 59-56 intermission spread. Bob Ferry's three-point play finished the Royals after they closed to within four points in the final period.

Scott had 27 points for Detroit. Cincy's Oscar Robertson sank all seven of his first half shots and wound up with 33.

San Francisco, with Al Attles leading the way, struck for 41 third quarter points and broke up a close game. Baltimore trailed 51-50 when the Warriors exploded. Wilt Chamberlain scored 32 points for San Francisco one more than the Bullets' Walt Bellamy.

Cliff Hagan got 12 of his 34 points as St. Louis ran a 26-6 third quarter streak into a 93-73 bulge that kept New York out of upset range. Ex-Knick Richie Guerin added 23 points for the Hawks. Al Butler topped the Knicks with 18.

Ted Williams Around For Tips On Hitting

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — The guy with No. 9 on his back, and a few extra pounds up front, reluctantly stopped hitting fungos to the Boston outfield and came over to pose for pictures.

Within a minute he was talking about hitting and four or five players were gathered around, as attentive as unpublished poets at the feet of the Bard.

"Now the first rule of hitting," said Ted Williams, "is to get a good pitch to hit. If the pitcher fools you with a ball that's over, you take until he's got two strikes on you.

"Then you concede that the pitcher is in the driver's seat, and you bring your hands up on that bat."

Among the listeners was Carl Yastrzemski, the American League batting champion. Now you'd figure he needs a lecture on hitting like Frank Howard needs elevator shoes.

But Yastrzemski kept listening. When he was a 2-year-old, the lecturer hit .406. In 1957, the same guy hit .388. Those are the two highest major league batting averages in the last third of a century.

"I'll probably be here a couple of weeks," Williams told a reporter after the picture session. "I'll talk about hitting to anybody who wants to listen.

"Most of the young players like to talk about it because it's the hardest thing to do consistently well in baseball. How often do you hear of an outfielder going into a long fielding slump?

"Now, to do any good here, I've got to be able to talk to a hitter without giving him the idea I'm trying to change his style. I think once a player has developed a style he's just about got to sink or swim with it.

"But it's possible to be a good hitter with any style, short of standing on your head."

Williams, an executive assistant on the Boston staff, joined the club here after a trip to the South Pacific. He was the star in an outdoors promotion sponsored by the New Zealand government tourist bureau.

"First I caught a 600-pound thresher shark," he said. "Then I caught some trout and killed three deer—all in the space of 10½ hours. They had planes to take me from place to place."

Pet Armadillo Saved But Left Out In Cold

RENO (AP) — The Norman Silver family's pet armadillo, a warm climate animal, is out in the cold. The armadillo usually snuggled up at night under an electric blanket in a dog house behind the Silver home.

But the blanket apparently developed an electrical short one night and the house burned down. Firemen arrived in time to save the armadillo from harm.

Astronomers Set Up Leap Year In 1582

Leap Year was set up by astronomers appointed by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582 because the earth takes approximately 365 and one-quarter days to revolve around the sun. Without that day every four years to even things out, the watchmakers say, by now we'd have Christmas as the leaves start to turn color and Labor Day in the spring.

Payment For Delivery Made After 30 Years

LOUISVILLE (AP) — On a cold, rainy night in February 1934, Dr. U. R. Ulferts delivered a baby but made no charge because the family was poor.

Recently, he received this letter from Oklahoma City:

"Inclosed you will find a check for $50 in payment for an old doctor bill of $15. Although we were grateful for the medical care, we were unable to pay. I hope the extra $35 will be enough for the interest."

The letter was signed by that mother of 30 years ago.

Seek To Soft-Pedal Talk

Johnson-Kennedy Feud Smoldering, Report Hints

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some administration sources sought today to soft-pedal talk of a smoldering political feud between President Johnson and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

One White House official on close terms with both men insisted that relations between Johnson and Kennedy are excellent.

Others, however, insisted there has long been personal friction between the two and that relations were further strained by organized efforts to garner vice presidential votes for Kennedy in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

Although Johnson outpolled Kennedy in New Hampshire, and the attorney general acted last week to discourage efforts in his behalf, the write-in drive for Kennedy certainly was an embarrassment to both men—and helped inspire talk of a party feud.

In view of this, it seemed likely that some concerted effort would be made by the administration to promote Democratic harmony and scoff at reports of a rift.

In fact, the official who characterized Johnson-Kennedy relations as excellent appeared to be speaking for the White House, although he declined to be quoted by name.

It has often been said that Johnson has been cool to Kennedy for the past three years because Kennedy allegedly opposed selection of the Texan as the 1960 Democratic vice presidential nominee.

One man in a position to know said opinion on the choice of Johnson was sharply divided, but that Robert Kennedy argued for Johnson because of the Southern support he was expected to bring to the ticket headed by John F. Kennedy.

Another insider, while expressing no opinion on this subject, supported the view that there is no warmth in the Johnson-Robert Kennedy relationship. He said the President acted with great reluctance in sending the attorney general on his recent peacemaking mission in Indonesia and Malaysia. He said Johnson apparently did not want to give Kennedy a buildup as a potential running mate.

Kennedy has said nothing about his 1964 political intentions, if any.

He did say Tuesday in a talk at a junior high school, that "I'm not going to remain as attorney general after November." An aide said later that Kennedy did not mean to fix November as a deadline for resigning.

Although there has been Kennedy-for-vice president talk for the past three months, the attorney general said nothing substantive on the subject until last week, when he said he wanted to discourage write-in efforts in his behalf.

Educators Will Hear Juvenile Judge Speak

LISBON — Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin will discuss help for children of low intelligence quotient when chief school administrators meet Friday noon at the Wick Hotel.

County Commissioner James Boyd also will discuss the change of name on the retarded school buses.

Other subjects to be discussed include high school science teachers wanting to organize; control on guidance personnel meetings and recruiting teachers from other school systems in the county.

Industrial Art Teacher Gets Lisbon Post

LISBON—Edward L. Phillips, 27, of Lowellville was hired as industrial arts instructor for Lisbon High School for the balance of the year when the Board of Education met Tuesday night. He succeeds Dean Hancock, who resigned.

Phillips attended Youngstown University and will do his practice teaching in Lisbon while he attends night classes. He also has been a machinist for nine years at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. He is married and has a child.

Mary Spence was hired as school custodian for approximately 30 hours per week at $1 per hour.

Russell Forney was appointed regular bus driver. He has been substituting and recently was graduated from a bus driver's training school held at Salem Senior High School. He will replace Lloyd Riggs, custodian and bus driver, who resigned.

Mrs. Mary Williams requested the board consider blacktopping McKinley Playground as soon as possible.

Mrs. Dorothy Foster, secretary at McKinley School, will be given a year's leave of absence starting Sept. 1.

Purchase of a Sony tape recorder requested for the music department was turned down. The cost was listed at $339, less trade-in of $30 for old tape recorder donated to the schools years ago by a civic organization.

Three possible calendars for the 1964-65 term were discussed but they were tabled until the next meeting.

Supt. Oliver Payne reported the next meeting of five boards, Columbiana, East Palestine, Leetonia, Wellsville and Lisbon, will be held April 30 and it will be Ladies Night.

He also reviewed policy regarding the use of school buildings with requests he now has. The board also discussed the policy in granting approved school groups permission to use school buses. The board agreed that it would be unable to pay the bus driver, as that will be the responsibility of the group using the buses. Supt. Payne said teachers' contracts will come up for consideration at the next meeting April 7.

The board also discussed the appropriation for balance of the year and will try to match expenditures with anticipated income.

Edwin L. Kauffman, vice president, presided as Dr. Wade Bacon, president and Atty. Richard Kennedy were absent.

School Talks Continue For Career Guidance

Career opportunities will be discussed by six speakers Thursday in the third day of the annual Vocational Conference program at East Liverpool High School.

Topics to be covered include auto dealership and service, business practice, ministry and religious education.

Lisbon Juniors Will Sponsor Record Hop Saturday Night

A record hop, sponsored by the Junior Class of David Anderson High School at Lisbon, will be held Saturday evening from 8 to 11 at the high school gym.

George Barry of WHOT at Youngstown will be the disc jockey, spinning popular records.

Business Session Held

Mrs. Byron Albright, president, presided for business and members approved a donation for the restoration of Gaston's Mill by the Columbiana County Forest and Parks Council.

"Fun in Other Countries" was the program presented by Mrs. Walter Cope, which included facts given by members who toured abroad.

Mrs. Frank Admonitis of E. Pine St. will receive the group, March 30 and Miss Grace Todd will be program leader.

Sixteen members of the Loyal Women's Class of the First Christian Church met Monday evening at the Morgan House, with Mrs. George Smith, president, presiding.

Devotion service was led by Mrs. William Loudon, followed by group singing of favorite songs, accompanied by Mrs. Belva Hively.

Social Set June 8

Next social meeting will be June 8, at the Morgan House.

A memorial service was held in honor of Ethel T. Wead founder of the International Order.

Legion Unit Meets

Mrs. Byron Griffith, secretary of the Past Presidents Parley of the American Legion Auxiliary, presided at the meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Ball of Blocksom St.

Mrs. Homer Ferguson, president, was unable to attend.

Members made bandages for the Columbiana County chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Anne Gruber of N. Market St. will be hostess for the next meeting April 13. A silent auction will be held.

Cresting Of Surging Ohio Slated To Begin

CINCINNATI (AP) — The flooding Ohio River was still rising slowly as it continued to spread destruction over three states today. But the U.S. Weather Bureau said the end appears in sight.

The Weather Bureau said the rampaging river should begin cresting at various points along its stretches today, although crests may not be reached until Saturday far downstream.

Thousands of persons have been forced from their homes in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, and the high waters have been blamed for at least five deaths in Ohio.

Refugees were being cared for in emergency Red Cross shelters set up in the inundated river towns and by relatives.

The Weather Bureau said the river at Cincinnati should crest at 66½ feet at noon Thursday, which would make it the fourth highest in history and the highest since 1945.

It was at 65.3 feet late Tuesday night, meaning that it will rise only 1.2 more feet if the Weather Bureau's crest prediction holds.

The heavy rains which sent the Ohio and its tributaries plunging over their banks began over the weekend and ended Tuesday.

Hiring Experienced

OLIVE HILL, Ky. (AP) — A garment factory planning to open in Olive Hill advertised for workers over 40. Generally the industry hires younger people but Chamber of Commerce officials said there were at least 100 persons over 40 in this Northeast Kentucky area who are experienced in sewing and machine work.

Seek To Soft-Pedal Talk

Johnson-Kennedy Feud Smoldering, Report Hints

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some administration sources sought today to soft-pedal talk of a smoldering political feud between President Johnson and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

One White House official on close terms with both men insisted that relations between Johnson and Kennedy are excellent.

Others, however, insisted there has long been personal friction between the two and that relations were further strained by organized efforts to garner vice presidential votes for Kennedy in Tuesday's New Hampshire primary.

Although Johnson outpolled Kennedy in New Hampshire, and the attorney general acted last week to discourage efforts in his behalf, the write-in drive for Kennedy certainly was an embarrassment to both men—and helped inspire talk of a party feud.

In view of this, it seemed likely that some concerted effort would be made by the administration to promote Democratic harmony and scoff at reports of a rift.

In fact, the official who characterized Johnson-Kennedy relations as excellent appeared to be speaking for the White House, although he declined to be quoted by name.

It has often been said that Johnson has been cool to Kennedy for the past three years because Kennedy allegedly opposed selection of the Texan as the 1960 Democratic vice presidential nominee.

One man in a position to know said opinion on the choice of Johnson was sharply divided, but that Robert Kennedy argued for Johnson because of the Southern support he was expected to bring to the ticket headed by John F. Kennedy.

Another insider, while expressing no opinion on this subject, supported the view that there is no warmth in the Johnson-Robert Kennedy relationship. He said the President acted with great reluctance in sending the attorney general on his recent peacemaking mission in Indonesia and Malaysia. He said Johnson apparently did not want to give Kennedy a buildup as a potential running mate.

Kennedy has said nothing about his 1964 political intentions, if any.

He did say Tuesday in a talk at a junior high school, that "I'm not going to remain as attorney general after November." An aide said later that Kennedy did not mean to fix November as a deadline for resigning.

Although there has been Kennedy-for-vice president talk for the past three months, the attorney general said nothing substantive on the subject until last week, when he said he wanted to discourage write-in efforts in his behalf.

Educators Will Hear Juvenile Judge Speak

LISBON — Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin will discuss help for children of low intelligence quotient when chief school administrators meet Friday noon at the Wick Hotel.

County Commissioner James Boyd also will discuss the change of name on the retarded school buses.

Other subjects to be discussed include high school science teachers wanting to organize; control on guidance personnel meetings and recruiting teachers from other school systems in the county.

Industrial Art Teacher Gets Lisbon Post

LISBON—Edward L. Phillips, 27, of Lowellville was hired as industrial arts instructor for Lisbon High School for the balance of the year when the Board of Education met Tuesday night. He succeeds Dean Hancock, who resigned.

Phillips attended Youngstown University and will do his practice teaching in Lisbon while he attends night classes. He also has been a machinist for nine years at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. He is married and has a child.

Mary Spence was hired as school custodian for approximately 30 hours per week at $1 per hour.

Russell Forney was appointed regular bus driver. He has been substituting and recently was graduated from a bus driver's training school held at Salem Senior High School. He will replace Lloyd Riggs, custodian and bus driver, who resigned.

Mrs. Mary Williams requested the board consider blacktopping McKinley Playground as soon as possible.

Mrs. Dorothy Foster, secretary at McKinley School, will be given a year's leave of absence starting Sept. 1.

Purchase of a Sony tape recorder requested for the music department was turned down. The cost was listed at $339, less trade-in of $30 for old tape recorder donated to the schools years ago by a civic organization.

Three possible calendars for the 1964-65 term were discussed but they were tabled until the next meeting.

Supt. Oliver Payne reported the next meeting of five boards, Columbiana, East Palestine, Leetonia, Wellsville and Lisbon, will be held April 30 and it will be Ladies Night.

He also reviewed policy regarding the use of school buildings with requests he now has. The board also discussed the policy in granting approved school groups permission to use school buses. The board agreed that it would be unable to pay the bus driver, as that will be the responsibility of the group using the buses. Supt. Payne said teachers' contracts will come up for consideration at the next meeting April 7.

The board also discussed the appropriation for balance of the year and will try to match expenditures with anticipated income.

Edwin L. Kauffman, vice president, presided as Dr. Wade Bacon, president and Atty. Richard Kennedy were absent.

School Talks Continue For Career Guidance

Career opportunities will be discussed by six speakers Thursday in the third day of the annual Vocational Conference program at East Liverpool High School.

Topics to be covered include auto dealership and service, business practice, ministry and religious education.

Lisbon Juniors Will Sponsor Record Hop Saturday Night

A record hop, sponsored by the Junior Class of David Anderson High School at Lisbon, will be held Saturday evening from 8 to 11 at the high school gym.

George Barry of WHOT at Youngstown will be the disc jockey, spinning popular records.

Business Session Held

Mrs. Byron Albright, president, presided for business and members approved a donation for the restoration of Gaston's Mill by the Columbiana County Forest and Parks Council.

"Fun in Other Countries" was the program presented by Mrs. Walter Cope, which included facts given by members who toured abroad.

Mrs. Frank Admonitis of E. Pine St. will receive the group, March 30 and Miss Grace Todd will be program leader.

Sixteen members of the Loyal Women's Class of the First Christian Church met Monday evening at the Morgan House, with Mrs. George Smith, president, presiding.

Devotion service was led by Mrs. William Loudon, followed by group singing of favorite songs, accompanied by Mrs. Belva Hively.

Social Set June 8

Next social meeting will be June 8, at the Morgan House.

A memorial service was held in honor of Ethel T. Wead founder of the International Order.

Legion Unit Meets

Mrs. Byron Griffith, secretary of the Past Presidents Parley of the American Legion Auxiliary, presided at the meeting Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Ball of Blocksom St.

Mrs. Homer Ferguson, president, was unable to attend.

Members made bandages for the Columbiana County chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Anne Gruber of N. Market St. will be hostess for the next meeting April 13. A silent auction will be held.

Cresting Of Surging Ohio Slated To Begin

CINCINNATI (AP) — The flooding Ohio River was still rising slowly as it continued to spread destruction over three states today. But the U.S. Weather Bureau said the end appears in sight.

The Weather Bureau said the rampaging river should begin cresting at various points along its stretches today, although crests may not be reached until Saturday far downstream.

Thousands of persons have been forced from their homes in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, and the high waters have been blamed for at least five deaths in Ohio.

Refugees were being cared for in emergency Red Cross shelters set up in the inundated river towns and by relatives.

The Weather Bureau said the river at Cincinnati should crest at 66½ feet at noon Thursday, which would make it the fourth highest in history and the highest since 1945.

It was at 65.3 feet late Tuesday night, meaning that it will rise only 1.2 more feet if the Weather Bureau's crest prediction holds.

The heavy rains which sent the Ohio and its tributaries plunging over their banks began over the weekend and ended Tuesday.

Hiring Experienced

OLIVE HILL, Ky. (AP) — A garment factory planning to open in Olive Hill advertised for workers over 40. Generally the industry hires younger people but Chamber of Commerce officials said there were at least 100 persons over 40 in this Northeast Kentucky area who are experienced in sewing and machine work.

Quartet Unit To Donate For Scholarships

A plan to contribute 50 per cent of the net profit of the forthcoming parade of quartets to the Citizens Scholarship Foundation was approved at the meeting of the East Liverpool SPEBSQSA Chapter Monday night at the Elks Club ballroom.

Don Schussler explained the work of the foundation and said the scholarships are designated for district students also.

The 15th annual barbershop singing event is scheduled April 11 and 12 at Westgate School with Dick Smith general chairman. Quartets to be featured are the Pittsburghers, international champs with Tom O'Malley as spokesman, and the Four Rascals of Marblehead, Mass., fourth place international medalists.

Bob Moore, ticket chairman, reviewed the patron lists, and announced tickets may be purchased from members. Other reports were heard from Charles Beaver, program; Jim Maloney, stage; Schussler, advertising, and Dean Manning, treasurer.

The afterglow with Sam Wolfe, president, as chairman, will follow the Saturday night performance and will be held at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall with women of the church catering.

Bill Osborne was reinstated into membership. Minutes were read by Moore, secretary.

Next session will be Monday.

Brown Proposes Withholding Aid To Red-Leaners

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ted W. Brown advocated withholding foreign aid funds from Communistic-leaning countries — those "which are not our friends and bear no evidence of wishing to be."

"When the chips are down in our fight for our own freedom and for a free world and the dignity of man," Secretary of State Brown said Tuesday night, "there should be no such thing as a neutral nation."

Brown, seeking the Republican nomination for U.S. senator, reiterated his view that the United States should get out of the United Nations if Red China is admitted.

"It is high time" that the United States makes its position clear in the community of nations, Brown told an audience in suburban Euclid.

"It does not make sense that the people of the United States, as interested as we are in any instrumentality for peace, should be saddled with such a disproportionate share of the U.N. costs.

Area Entries Invited In Bellevue Art Show

East Liverpool area entries are being sought for an art show which the North Boro Junior Women's Club of Pittsburgh will stage May 1-5 at the Bellevue Borough Hall.

Open to all artists 18 and over, the show will be divided into three sections — ceramics and other crafts and oil and water color paintings. Prizes of $25, $10 and $5 will be offered in each category.

Friday is the deadline for obtaining entry blanks from Mrs. Thomas Loch, 523 Madison Ave., Pittsburgh, 2. Entries will be received at the Borough Hall on Thursday, April 30, from 8 a. m. to 2 p. m.

Explosion Kills Wife And Burns Husband

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An explosion that apparently resulted from spilled gasoline has killed a Franklin County housewife and left her husband seriously burned.

Police said the blast occurred Tuesday night after Mrs. Reno Cameruca drove the family car into the garage. At the time, her husband was trying to clean up gasoline he spilled while cleaning paint brushes, officers said.

Cameruca was quoted as saying it happened when his wife stepped out of the car. Fire that followed the blast was quickly extinguished.

Police were continuing their investigation.

Glenn Aides Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The John H. Glenn Jr. for Senate Committee today announced the names of two county chairman for the candidate for the Democratic U. S. senatoral nomination. They are Jerry R. Graham of Springfield and Robert Flohr of Crestline. Each will name other members of his committee.

Young Aviator

BETHPAGE, N. Y. (AP) — Robert Mazzara, 12, not only plays football and baseball, but he can fly a plane too. He has been taking flying instruction for six months, paying for the lessons with his allowance and money earned mowing lawns and shoveling snow. However, Bobby won't be able to solo for four more years as the minimum age for a student license is 16.

NEUROSIS AND PSYCHOSIS
WHAT DO THEY MEAN?

Neurosis is defined as a mild emotional disorder in which you might experience feelings of anxiety, make compulsive acts and usually have physical complaints without specific evidence of disease. Psychosis is any major, severe form of mental illness.

Most everybody has a neurosis occasionally and sometimes a mild tranquilizer is prescribed to help ease the stress. With a psychosis, treatment calls for strong medication in many cases. There are hundreds of drugs available for mild or severe mental problems. We carry them all in our prescription stocks.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

The Middle Measurement Cramps Your Style

Women who take measures to prevent a gain in weight watch the fit of the waistband as much as they watch the pointer on the scales.

Ida Jean Kain

The day the waistband feels tight, and the skirt pulls across the abdomen, slimming measures are taken promptly.

To tell the truth, it's not the waist that spreads first, it's the abdomen. But the gain is felt first at the waist because that is where clothes are fitted. At any rate, refusing to give the waist an inch is a proven way to prevent the middle spread.

IF YOU ARE aiming toward a smaller size dress, concentrate on slimming the middle measurements. It will help you to know the waist and abdominal measurements in dress sizes.

Size 10: Waist 24½, abdomen 31; size 12: waist 25½, abdomen 32½; size 14: waist 27, abdomen 34½; size 16: waist 28½, abdomen 36; size 18: waist 30½, abdomen 38.

In women's sizes there is a difference of two inches in the waistline from one size to the next, and two inches through the abdominal measurement. In a perfect 36, the waist measurement is 31 inches, abdominal extension, 38¾ inches. You can figure up or down from there.

The fastest way to streamline is to restore tone to the oblique muscles that span the side-front of the abdomen. Here are two excellent exercises:

Action: Bring head and left shoulder off floor, slide hands down toward knee. Hold. Holding the muscle contraction tones the obliques. Repeat exercise three times, holding to slow count of six each time. Then place left hand over right and put hands on right thigh, and repeat exercise.

POSITION: "Stand" on knees, then sit back on heels. Have arms straight out at shoulder level.

Action: Pull up and in strongly with abdominal muscles and hold this contraction. Bend slowly sidewards toward right, trying to touch right hand to floor. Don't strain. At the same time, reach out with left fingertips. Hold this stretch-bend for a slow count of six, then come back to position, bend sidewards to the left and again stretch and bend.

Do these two exercises daily. In two weeks' time you'll see a noticeable improvement in the fit of your skirt.

County GOP Opposes Hike For Congress

LISBON — The Columbiana County Republican Advisory Council has gone on record as being opposed to a salary increase for Congress, and a wire was sent to the chairman of the Ohio Republican delegation in Washington, where the house was expected to hear the salary bill Tuesday.

Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon, county chairman, presided for the luncheon meeting Monday in the Wick Hotel with 40 attending. He was aided by Miss Gladys DeBolt of East Liverpool, county chairwoman, and Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth, vice chairman.

Mrs. Florence Dornon of East Palestine presented a special report.

Candidates for the May primary who spoke briefly were: Allen J. Dalrymple of Wellsville, for 18th District congressman; Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, seeking a new term; Dean Rose of Lisbon, for clerk of courts, and Galen Greenisen of Salem; Walter Hunston of East Palestine, Wilbur Stratton of Columbiana and Samuel Webber of East Liverpool, for commissioners.

Meetings announced included the Columbiana Republican Club Thursday at 8 p.m. at Joshua Dixon School with Atty. Pike and Miss DeBolt speakers; Salineville Republican Club Monday at 8 p. m. and the East Palestine GOP Women's Club sponsorship of a public card party at the New Waterford Fish and Game Club.

Next Advisory Council session will be at noon March 23 at the hotel.

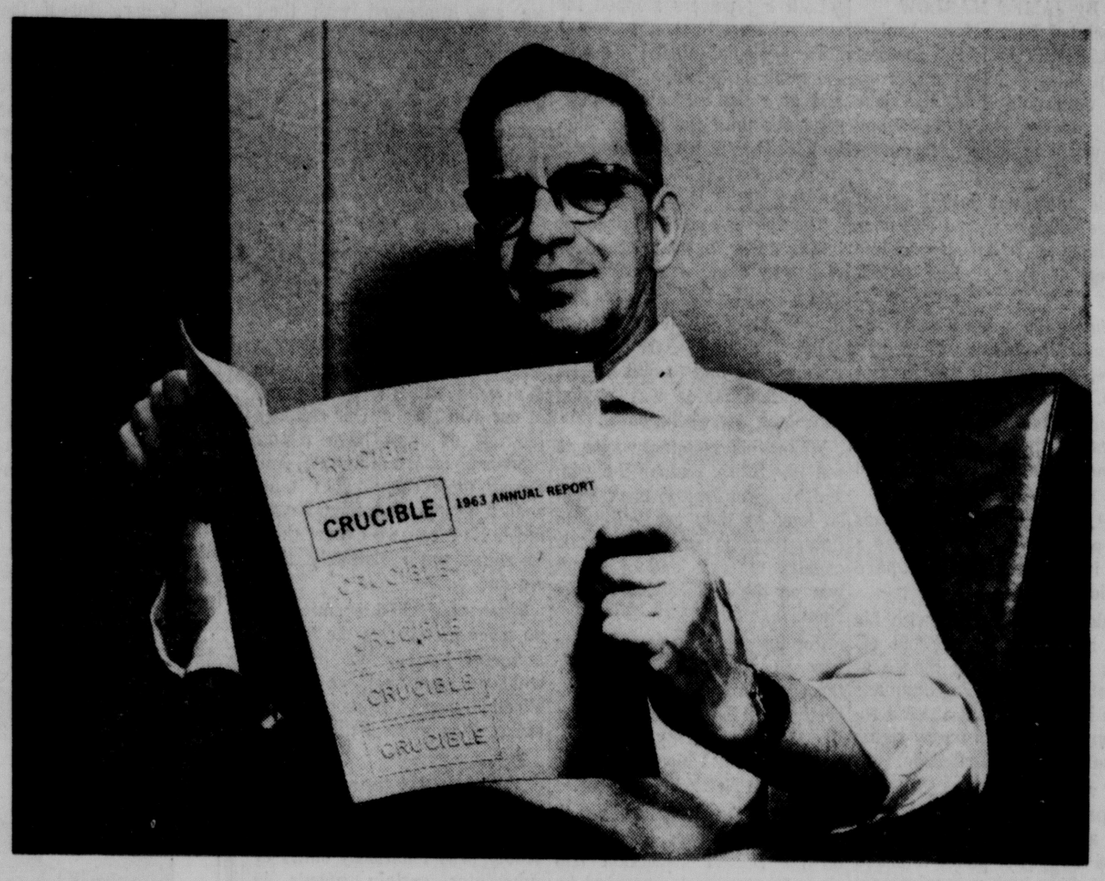
Sergeant Of Chester Gets Air Force Medal

S. Sgt. Daniel R. Seevers of Chester has been awarded the Air Force commendation medal for meritorious service at the Wright Patterson Base at Dayton.

Sgt. Seevers was presented the medal by Gen. Mark E. Bradley Jr., commander of the Logistics Command at Wright Patterson. Seevers is in his 13th year of service.

He made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allison of Carolina Ave., Chester, after the death of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Seevers, of Newell several years ago.

The Dominican Republic was established in 1844 when the Dominicans revolted against Haitian rule.



A TWO-WAY BENEFIT

Company earnings in 1963 amounted to $9 million. Of this, Crucible stockholders were paid $3.6 million as dividends for money they provided the company. As a stockholder, John will share in this with more than 18,000 other stockholders.

The balance of the company's earnings was "reinvested in the business" to modernize facilities, to buy equipment, to make better products . . . all the things necessary to keep Crucible growing. As an employe, John benefits also because only a growing company can provide real employe security.

Chester Legion Donates $25 To Lawrenceville Firemen

The post voted to purchase $25 worth of dinner tickets from the Central Park committee for the fish dinner to be held April 11.

The post also approved payment of annual dues of $40 to the American Legion Press Association for the editors of the Post 121 News.

Lloyd Mansfield, Jack Huff and Harold Dickey were appointed to a committee to investigate sponsorship of Sea Scout Troop 8.

Sayre Graham, chairman, reported Charles Miller, principal of Chester Junior High, will participate in forming a schoolboy patrol with the AAA furnishing the equipment.

Charles Morris, oratorical chairman, announced that Karen Conklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Conklin, 301 Indiana Ave., won first place in the recent contest at Oak Glen High School and will receive $25 and a gold medal.

Charles Picklesimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Picklesimer of Chester R. D. 1, was second and Alyce DeLong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy DeLong, 513 Florida Ave., placed third. They will receive awards of $15 and $10 with silver and bronze medals.

A dinner dance celebrating the Legion's 45th anniversary will be held March 21. The monthly social meeting will be held Friday night.

William Mountjoy, commander, presided. Refreshments were served by Ed Huff and John Strum. Next meeting will be March 23 at 7:30 p. m.

Johnson's Problems Hint World Tensions Diminish

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the problems taking up President Johnson's time, like jobs and poverty, bear testimony that world tensions have diminished a bit.

This may not last long, of course, since mankind still does not have enough sense to live in peace, more or less, indefinitely.

Johnson does have some unpeaceful problems to worry about, like how to win in Viet Nam. But to many Americans largely concerned with themselves, at the moment the war against Communist guerrillas in Asia must seem far off.

It was in the midst of this comparative quietude that Johnson announced Monday a national manpower policy intended to cut down high unemployment which, he noted, averaged 4.2 million last year.

He will soon send Congress a message about eliminating poverty, or trying to. Some advisers recommend the draft registration be lowered to give his war on poverty an early start on rehabilitating needy youth.

All this—plus Americans' preoccupation with the presidential primary in New Hampshire today or with getting ready for fishing, baseball or Easter—makes this seem an almost tranquil time.

But not quite, even though the dirty little war in Viet Nam is far away. It is not only far from finished but the South Vietnamese, despite American backing, have been losing their shirts steadily.

The United States isn't fighting the war itself. The South Vietnamese are doing it with the help of American money, supplies, weapons and military men to teach them how to do it.

In a general way the American approach to this war is similar to that of the French who fought the Communists there themselves for eight years with their own troops, plus Vietnamese troops.

They never sent their draftees into that war. In the later stages of it they didn't even pay their own way. The United States had to bail them out for years.

By the time they were crushed and had to quit in 1954 the United States was paying three-quarters of the costs.

While this country wants to see the South Vietnamese win, and has promised to back them so long as they are willing to fight, there is no mood in this country for any kind of all-out war on the Reds of North Viet Nam.

For instance: by carrying the war to North Viet Nam or throwing American troops directly into the battle. Anything like that might bring Red China or the Soviet Union in on the side of the North Vietnamese.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is over there now, on his second inspection trip since December, to see what he thinks needs to be done to reverse the defeats being inflicted on the South Vietnamese.

One of the big troubles, no matter how Americans might wish they could get out of South Viet Nam altogether, is that American prestige is at stake. This country went in there to crush the Red guerrillas.

If it quits or withdraws all of Southeast Asia looks like a push-over for communism. Yet, Johnson and McNamara have to wonder: how long can the United States keep this up if the South Vietnamese themselves won't do a better job of fighting?

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Learns Bad Speech From Others

When we hear great actors on the stage, movie screen or TV we are impressed with their clear, distinct enunciation. We also are impressed with similar speech proficiency in some of our friends. But if we heard our own daily utterances in the family from a recording made when we didn't know it was being taken, we might be distressed with the slovenliness of our own speech. Our children hearing us may have poor models of speech to imitate. And during their early years, our speech is the one they hear most. How can we expect them to speak more distinctly than we do?

Dr. Garry Myers

When your child or mine, or an older member of the family, indicates he has not heard what we have said, we are inclined to repeat it more loudly rather than more distinctly.

AT VARIOUS times in this column I have discussed the child, especially when he enters school, who habitually omits or substitutes certain sounds in words as "wove" for "love," "halt" for "salt," "wif" for "with," "thwing" for "thing," "only" for "only."

And I have suggested ways to help say these words correctly. We know how the child may be handicapped at school, how he may be treated as much younger than he is, until he does overcome these specific difficulties.

But many children at school, in kindergarten, first or higher grades, even in high school, who speak indistinctly, may often mouth their words. Others in their class may often fail to hear what they say. The teacher may then shout at them to speak louder. But if they do speak louder, what they say may not be distinctly heard.

The teacher herself, trying to make all her children hear her, may merely speak loudly and not emphasize clearness and distincness in her speech. If you have visited many classrooms, you must have been impressed by a few teachers who, when there is most noise, speak most softly but most distinctly.

Some teachers of speech at the junior and senior high levels make recordings of each student's speech and play them back to him so he can hear his own speech and discover what he needs to do to improve it.

AT SOME future time practically every classroom from the kindergarten up will be provided with a recording machine. Each child, even the teacher, will then be able to hear his or her own speech.

Consider how valuable such recordings might be in the home. Occasionally, a parent does make recordings of samples of what the youngster says from the time he begins conventional speech. The purpose usually is to have such recordings which the family might enjoy listening to years later.

While this purpose may be worthy, it would have so much greater value if it aimed at helping the parents discover in the child's speech and their own, the need for more distinct enunciation of sounds and words.

My bulletins, "The Young Child's Speech" and "Helping Your Child Succeed at School," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some of the problems taking up President Johnson's time, like jobs and poverty, bear testimony that world tensions have diminished a bit.

This may not last long, of course, since mankind still does not have enough sense to live in peace, more or less, indefinitely.

Johnson does have some unpeaceful problems to worry about, like how to win in Viet Nam. But to many Americans largely concerned with themselves, at the moment the war against Communist guerrillas in Asia must seem far off.

Yet, even some of the crises that poured over Johnson like a tide in his first 100 days have subsided.

It was in the midst of this comparative quietude that Johnson announced Monday a national manpower policy intended to cut down high unemployment which, he noted, averaged 4.2 million last year.

He will soon send Congress a message about eliminating poverty, or trying to. Some advisers recommend the draft registration be lowered to give his war on poverty an early start on rehabilitating needy youth.

All this—plus Americans' preoccupation with the presidential primary in New Hampshire today or with getting ready for fishing, baseball or Easter—makes this seem an almost tranquil time.

But not quite, even though the dirty little war in Viet Nam is far away. It is not only far from finished but the South Vietnamese, despite American backing, have been losing their shirts steadily.

The United States isn't fighting the war itself. The South Vietnamese are doing it with the help of American money, supplies, weapons and military men to teach them how to do it.

In a general way the American approach to this war is similar to that of the French who fought the Communists there themselves for eight years with their own troops, plus Vietnamese troops.

Both big powers stopped far short of an all-out effort.

The colonial-minded French, too stubborn to look at the clock and give the Vietnamese independence until the last minute, fought the North Vietnamese Reds with one hand behind their backs.

They never sent their draftees into that war. In the later stages of it they didn't even pay their own way. The United States had to bail them out for years.

By the time they were crushed and had to quit in 1954 the United States was paying three-quarters of the costs.

While this country wants to see the South Vietnamese win, and has promised to back them so long as they are willing to fight, there is no mood in this country for any kind of all-out war on the Reds of North Viet Nam.

For instance: by carrying the war to North Viet Nam or throwing American troops directly into the battle. Anything like that might bring Red China or the Soviet Union in on the side of the North Vietnamese.

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara is over there now, on his second inspection trip since December, to see what he thinks needs to be done to reverse the defeats being inflicted on the South Vietnamese.

One of the big troubles, no matter how Americans might wish they could get out of South Viet Nam altogether, is that American prestige is at stake. This country went in there to crush the Red guerrillas.

If it quits or withdraws all of Southeast Asia looks like a pushover for communism. Yet, Johnson and McNamara have to wonder: how long can the United States keep this up if the South Vietnamese themselves won't do a better job of fighting?

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Child Learns Bad Speech From Others

When we hear great actors on the stage, movie screen or TV we are impressed with their clear, distinct enunciation. We also are impressed with similar speech proficiency in some of our friends. But if we heard our own daily utterances in the family from a recording made when we didn't know it was being taken, we might be distressed with the slovenliness of our own speech. Our children hearing us may have poor models of speech to imitate. And during their early years, our speech is the one they hear most. How can we expect them to speak more distinctly than we do?

Dr. Garry Myers

When your child or mine, or an older member of the family, indicates he has not heard what we have said, we are inclined to repeat it more loudly rather than more distinctly.

AT VARIOUS times in this column I have discussed the child, especially when he enters school, who habitually omits or substitutes certain sounds in words as "wove" for "love," "halt" for "salt," "wif" for "with," "thwing" for "thing," "only" for "only."

And I have suggested ways to help say these words correctly. We know how the child may be handicapped at school, how he may be treated as much younger than he is, until he does overcome these specific difficulties.

But many children at school, in kindergarten, first or higher grades, even in high school, who speak indistinctly, may often mouth their words. Others in their class may often fail to hear what they say. The teacher may then shout at them to speak louder. But if they do speak louder, what they say may not be distinctly heard.

The teacher herself, trying to make all her children hear her, may merely speak loudly and not emphasize clearness and distincness in her speech. If you have visited many classrooms, you must have been impressed by a few teachers who, when there is most noise, speak most softly but most distinctly.

Some teachers of speech at the junior and senior high levels make recordings of each student's speech and play them back to him so he can hear his own speech and discover what he needs to do to improve it.

AT SOME future time practically every classroom from the kindergarten up will be provided with a recording machine. Each child, even the teacher, will then be able to hear his or her own speech.

Consider how valuable such recordings might be in the home. Occasionally, a parent does make recordings of samples of what the youngster says from the time he begins conventional speech. The purpose usually is to have such recordings which the family might enjoy listening to years later.

While this purpose may be worthy, it would have so much greater value if it aimed at helping the parents discover in the child's speech and their own, the need for more distinct enunciation of sounds and words.

My bulletins, "The Young Child's Speech" and "Helping Your Child Succeed at School," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Jaycee Board Endorses Levies Of 2 Area Schools

Proposed levies for two school districts were endorsed by the Board of Directors of the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce Monday night at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The board voted to back the renewal of the 11-mill general operating levy and 1-mill repair and maintenance levy for the East Liverpool district and a new 5-mill levy for Beaver Local district.

In other business, the board heard a report on the annual Home Show April 15-18. Vincent Laneve, chairman said it will be in the Ken Buckley Cartage Co. building on Pennsylvania Ave. in East End. It is the former Valley Motor Transit Co. carbarn.

Various added attractions are to be offered this year, Laneve said. The booths will be erected by an outside firm.

Larry Walton, chairman of the post - prom party, said a meeting will be held next Monday with the Junior Class of East Liverpool High School to discuss plans for the event.

A nominating committee has been named for election of officers. Any one interested in seeking an office should contact the committee.

A community dinner dance has been re-scheduled for sometime in the fall. It had been planned for this spring.

The March All-State meeting will be this weekend at Columbus. Rocco Corbisello was named chairman of the sale of hammers, a fund project. Guests were Paul Grafton and Keith Goodman.

Next board meeting will be April 13.

Document Need Cited In Seeking Social Security

Area directors of the Social Security administration reminded that persons who will be applying for benefits should remember to bring with them certain documents which may very likely speed up processing of their claims.

They said a person can reduce the processing time on a claim by bringing the following things when filing: (1) Proof of age, such as birth certificate, baptismal certificate or old life insurance policy; (2) copy of 1963 tax return if claimant is self - employed; (3) 1963 W-2 form (the statement of wages from employer); (4) a list of employers during the year, amounts each paid and their addresses, if one has had several employers during the year.

It will also help if one has the following dates in mind or written down: Date of birth, wife or husband's date of birth, date of marriage, and dates of prior marriages and divorce (or date of death) of each. Bring birth certificates of any children.

It was explained that the person who brings these items on the first visit enables the Social Security office to start his claim without undue loss of time and gets his checks coming sooner.

Ohio Watershed Plan To Get Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rush Creek watershed project in Fairfield, Hocking and Perry counties, Ohio, is scheduled to receive federal financial and technical assistance.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman authorized the Soil Conservation Service Tuesday to give aid to the Rush Creek project and 10 other locally sponsored watershed projects across the nation. Project cost figures were not announced.

Negotiations Stalled In Strike Peace Bid

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—No progress was reported Tuesday night after two hours of negotiations between representatives of the strikebound Molded Fiber Glass Body Co. in Ashtabula and United Auto Workers Local 1169.

The plant was struck last Oct. 17 in a contract dispute and some 800 on the payroll then were idled. No date was set for the next negotiating sessions.

PTA Federation Guest Talks On Care Of Children's Eyes

Dr. Stephen G. Sinclair discussed care of children's eyes at a meeting of the City PTA Federation Monday night, with 30 attending at the library of Westgate Junior High School.

The city physician explained that a number of years ago, newborns, especially premature infants, developed total blindness after a month or so in incubators. Research led to discovery of the cause — improper control of oxygen — and this has since been practically eliminated, he said.

He emphasized that eye tests should be given youngsters by age 4, since some defects can be corrected if spotted early. Stumbling, closing of one eye, blinking, disinterest in television or reading, watching TV from up close, and squinting and watering of the eyes are general indication of eye defects, he said.

Supt. Paul Blair reminded members of the school levy renewals to be decided in the May primary. The Board of Education is seeking renewal of an 11-mill levy for general operating expense and 1-mill for repair and maintenance costs.

Supt. Blair urged each school to send representatives to the next meeting April 13 for further discussion on the levy renewals.

The group accepted a slate of officers presented by the nominating committee, with John Parsons to be president, Jack Woomer, vice president, Mrs. William Sutherland, secretary, and Mrs. Paul Seckman, treasurer. Tom Doland is retiring president.

H. A. Dawson Re-Elected President Of Explorer Club

H. A. Dawson was returned as president for the eighth consecutive term at a meeting of the Aboriginal Explorers Club Monday night at his home on Boring Ln.

Other officers re-elected were Richard S. Thompson, secretary; Harry M. Cline, treasurer, and Harry R. Cline, librarian.

New membership cards were distributed and J. F. Matthias was enrolled.

Plans were made for a survey and excavation program in the Ohio Valley during the year. The area to be covered will be the main water streams feeding into the Ohio River.

The members will talk to local artifact collectors, record sites and materials, prepare reports and make recommendations for excavations if findings warrant additional work.

Anyone who has found any artifact can have them recorded by contacting Thompson at FU. 5-1377.

Russell Blystone of East Liverpool was honored for having made a valuable find the past year. James Woodrow and Harry R. Cline were recognized for uncovering of eight burials in a prehistoric Indian village, estimated to be between 500 and 1,500 years old.

He reported on two Indian rock shelters he recently located. Neither has been excavated.

Wisconsin Unit Set To Promote Kennedy

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A committee to promote the candidacy of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy for vice president was incorporated in Wisconsin Tuesday.

Papers were filed with the secretary of state by Percy Silver of Milwaukee. Silver, a Milwaukee insurance man, identified himself as chairman and the committee as: "Draft Robert F. Kennedy for Vice-President of the United States, Grass Roots, Ground Swell Committee."

Announces Dividend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Nationwide Corp., which decided last year to abandon regular annual dividends in favor of a plan to declare them when feasible, has announced a 2 per cent dividend payable April 24. The dividend payable to shareholders of record March 26 is the first one by the firm since July 1962.

Hancock Young GOP Club Names Speaker Group

A committee of two members was named to arrange for speakers for future programs at a meeting of the Hancock County Young Republicans' Club Monday night at Chester City Hall.

Mrs. Basil Mangano and Roy Cashdollar were named to plan the programs until after the general election this fall.

Charles Sole, president, announced a workshop will be held for precinct pollworkers in April, with the date and place to be announced later.

There are 70 members in the club. Tickets for a "Candidate's Dance" April 18 at Newell Central Service were distributed.

Candidates in the May 12 primary who attended were Albert Hall, for county commissioner; Ralph Patrick, for sheriff; Basil J. Mangano and John Owens, for member of the House of Delegates; Wayne Hutton, candidate for mayor of Chester in the April primary, and Roy Cashdollar, a non-partisan candidate for the Board of Education.

Next meeting will be in April in the Weirton area, with the date to be set later.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: For those who live close to a neighbor and want to frost a front door, bathroom window or kitchen window, here is the method I have tried and found most satisfactory:

I dissolve one tablespoon of epsom salts in a small amount of beer and apply the mixture with a brush to the inside of my windowpanes. It is the best frosting I have ever seen.

I used one cup of beer, adding the epsom salts to suit myself. (I used four heaping tablespoons.)

I applied the mixture with a two-inch-wide paint brush. It not only covered the window but looked like Jack Frost himself! It dries beautifully, lasts a long time, and when washed off is easily re-applied. It's amazing how it crystalizes.

Ah, ladies. . .

Try it! We tried the brush method and also the dabbing method, and got prettier Jack Frosts and crystallization by dipping a facial tissue (or a piece of terry cloth) in the mixture and instead of wiping we just went dab, dab, dab.

After pouring the crystals into a little bowl, put the liquid in and stir a few minutes — all of the crystals will NOT dissolve—then just dab away. Real perk, I'd say.

New Rug Tests

DEAR HELOISE: You have been running a number of items recently on rug and carpet care. I'm a retired carpet salesman and would like to give your readers a few hints on how to go about the purchase of new carpeting.

Most people, I find, are very confused when they start out to buy a new rug because of the exaggerated claims and overly ambitious salesmen. Please tell your housewives to:

Be sure a bargain IS a bargain.

Have him demonstrate all hard-to-believe claims of spot removal, fast dyes, and fuzzing of the carpet. (If he'll let her, she can test each color with some detergent solution and a white handkerchief to see if any transfer occurs — and fuzzing by brushing the wet area.)

Most important of all is to have him write down on the sales slip all the claims he makes for the particular carpet and if he won't do this, BEWARE.

WARREN W. MALLIN.

And, dear folks, after sending this letter to the National Institute of Rug Cleaning, here is their answer:

"We sincerely believe this information will be of help to prospective rug buyers.

If people would actually do some of these things, we know they would be much happier with their rug purchase, not only after cleaning, but before."

RICHARD N. HOPPER.
Technical Director
National Institute of
Rug Cleaning, Inc.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: I have a question. What would you do if you had a husband who was such a fanatic about cleanliness that he made even picture-book housekeepers look sloppy? He could find fault with a hospital!

CURIOUS.

Don't trade him off yet. The next one may be worse! Any more answers? Write to Heloise in care of this paper. Letters do not have to be signed to appear.

HELOISE.

Cypriot Students Riot Against U.S. And Britain

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—About 10,000 Greek Cypriot students surged through Nicosia today shouting slogans against Britain and the United States.

The youths converged on the passing car of the British high commissioner, Sir Arthur Clarke and banged on the doors. Older students and police stepped in and cleared a path for the car.

Turkish naval units steamed out of Iskenderun Tuesday, destination unknown. Turkish authorities did not say how many vessels left, nor whether any of the troops massed in the area about 100 miles from Cyprus were aboard.

Similar moves by the Turkish fleet since fighting erupted between the two Cypriot factions last December have been described as "routine exercises."

Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish Cypriot minority, appealed to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to dispatch a U.N. peace force quickly to Cyprus to save his people from "annihilation" by Greek Cypriots.

Kuchuk also wired appeals to the foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey—the three nations that guarantee the independence of Cyprus under the 1962 treaty.

After a three-day battle in the west coast town of Ktima, the Makarios government announced its forces had overwhelmed Turkish Cypriots after a day-long battle in the southwest village of Mallia.

Makarios replied Tuesday night to an appeal by Thant for an end to bloodshed with assurances that "every effort is being made to exercise maximum restraint to avoid any act which might worsen the situation in Cyprus."

"It is regrettable, however," Markarios added, "that Turkish extremists are deliberately creating incidents by armed action, endangering public safety and causing friction."

Southern Senators Finding Rights Slowdown 'Easier'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators are finding it easier than they apparently expected to keep up the flow of talk necessary to prevent a quick vote on the motion to take up the civil rights bill.

In the first two days of debate they had to deliver only three of their planned initial round of speeches. So others are still in reserve.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., for example, sent to newsmen Tuesday a copy of a speech he planned to make today. But later his office advised he could not even get the floor until Friday.

Supporters of the bill are trying to hold their remarks to a minimum. As usual in the Senate, there are a number of speeches on extraneous subjects.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., prepared a speech for delivery today on the war in Southeast Asia.

The Dixie senators are organized into the three six-member teams which have served them so well in previous civil rights battles.

Tuesday, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., captain of another team, and one of his associates, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., used up all the available time.

The third team, headed by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was ready to take up the speaking chores today.

Despite the smoothly functioning Southern performance, leaders of both sides remained confident the foes of the bill would permit the motion to take up the bill to be adopted by the middle of next week.

Khrushchev, Arauzos Discuss Cyprus Crisis

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev received acting Foreign Minister Andrias Arauzos of Cyprus Tuesday and discussed the Cyprus crisis with him.

This was announced by the government news agency Tass, which said the conference took place at Khrushchev's vacation villa on the Black Sea. It was the first public announcement that Khrushchev is vacationing.

New Highway Group Sets Headquarters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Committee for Highway Progress, a recently formed organization that will work for passage of the proposed $500 million state highway bond issue, has established headquarters here.

Neil McElroy, chairman of the board of Procter & Gamble Co. of Cincinnati, and Thomas A. Burke, former Cleveland mayor and U. S. senator from Ohio, are co-chairmen of the committee.

Find Emperor's Villa

ROME (AP) — The suburban villa where Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius is believed to have been born in 12 A.D. has been discovered in excavations for a hospital.

People In News

Fay, who died in 1961, had willed his estate to a hospital and a church. The estate was estimated at $216,869, but taxes, debts and legal expenses reduced it to $93,153.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Mel Torme has sued singer Judy Garland for $22,500.

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Moses, director of the New York World's Fair, asked a grocery chain to remove a huge sign advertising its bakery wares because, he said, it was so close to the fairgrounds it looked like a part of the fair.

So Moses ordered a frame, 70 feet high and 150 feet long, erected alongside a highway at the edge of the fairgrounds. It will be strung with pennants.

And, it'll hide the grocery sign.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quote of the day: Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges, asked by reporters to comment on a Republican claim that the new tax cut might boost the economy in 1964, an election year, but would bring a "bust" in 1965: "Well, I'd rather have it in 1965 than in 1964."

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average three to five degrees above normal,. Normal high 43-44, normal low 25 - 29. Rising temperatures through Friday, cooler Saturday, warmer Sunday and Monday. Precipitation will average about one-fourth inch as scattered showers or snow flurries Friday night, again Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average three to six degrees above normal. Normal high 47 56, normal low 29-34. Mild. Precipitation will average around one-tenth inch west to half an inch east tonight and near end of week.

Tass Makes Report On Hampshire Voting

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass sent its subscribers a 450-word report on New Hampshire's "so-called primary elections" Tuesday.

Tass explained the presidential primaries do not settle who will be nominated by "the two principal bourgeois parties" but "give an idea about the influence exerted on the voters by different Democratic and Republican candidates."

Nab 49 Suspects

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Police were reported today to have arrested 49 suspected Communists in Thailand's strategic northeastern provinces, where Communist infiltration has long been a problem.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: For those who live close to a neighbor and want to frost a front door, bathroom window or kitchen window, here is the method I have tried and found most satisfactory:

I dissolve one tablespoon of epsom salts in a small amount of beer and apply the mixture with a brush to the inside of my windowpanes. It is the best frosting I have ever seen.

I used one cup of beer, adding the epsom salts to suit myself. (I used four heaping tablespoons.)

I applied the mixture with a two-inch-wide paint brush. It not only covered the window but looked like Jack Frost himself! It dries beautifully, lasts a long time, and when washed off is easily re-applied. It's amazing how it crystalizes.

Ah, ladies...

Try it! We tried the brush method and also the dabbing method, and got prettier Jack Frosts and crystallization by dipping a facial tissue (or a piece of terry cloth) in the mixture and instead of wiping we just went dab, dab, dab.

After pouring the crystals into a little bowl, put the liquid in and stir a few minutes — all of the crystals will NOT dissolve—then just dab away. Real perk, I'd say.

And the second day it's even more beautiful. More crystals, more opaque and prettier.

HELOISE.

New Rug Tests

DEAR HELOISE: You have been running a number of items recently on rug and carpet care. I'm a retired carpet salesman and would like to give your readers a few hints on how to go about the purchase of new carpeting.

Most people, I find, are very confused when they start out to buy a new rug because of the exaggerated claims and overly ambitious salesmen. Please tell your housewives to:

Be sure a bargain IS a bargain.

Put the salesman to some tests, such as:

Have him demonstrate all hard-to-believe claims of spot removal, fast dyes, and fuzzing of the carpet. (If he'll let her, she can test each color with some detergent solution and a white handkerchief to see if any transfer occurs — and fuzzing by brushing the wet area.)

Most important of all is to have him write down on the sales slip all the claims he makes for the particular carpet and if he won't do this, BEWARE.

WARREN W. MALLIN.

And, dear folks, after sending this letter to the National Institute of Rug Cleaning, here is their answer:

"We sincerely believe this information will be of help to prospective rug buyers.

RICHARD N. HOPPER.
Technical Director
National Institute of
Rug Cleaning, Inc.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: I have a question. What would you do if you had a husband who was such a fanatic about cleanliness that he made even picture-book housekeepers look sloppy? He could find fault with a hospital!

CURIOUS.

Don't trade him off yet. The next one may be worse! Any more answers? Write to Heloise in care of this paper. Letters do not have to be signed to appear.

HELOISE.

Shout Slogans Against Both

Cypriot Students Riot Against U.S. And Britain

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—About 10,000 Greek Cypriot students surged through Nicosia today shouting slogans against Britain and the United States.

The youths converged on the passing car of the British high commissioner, Sir Arthur Clarke and banged on the doors. Older students and police stepped in and cleared a path for the car.

Turkish warships took to the seas north of Cyprus as the Greek Cypriot government of President Makarios kept up pressure on the Turkish Cypriot minority in this island republic.

Turkish naval units steamed out of Iskenderun Tuesday, destination unknown. Turkish authorities did not say how many vessels left, nor whether any of the troops massed in the area about 100 miles from Cyprus were aboard.

Similar moves by the Turkish fleet since fighting erupted between the two Cypriot factions last December have been described as "routine exercises."

Vice President Fazil Kuchuk, leader of the Turkish Cypriot minority, appealed to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to dispatch a U.N. peace force quickly to Cyprus to save his people from "annihilation" by Greek Cypriots.

Kuchuk also wired appeals to the foreign ministers of Britain, Greece and Turkey—the three nations that guarantee the independence of Cyprus under the 1962 treaty.

After a three-day battle in the west coast town of Ktima, the Makarios government announced its forces had overwhelmed Turkish Cypriots after a day-long battle in the southwest village of Mallia.

Makarios replied Tuesday night to an appeal by Thant for an end to bloodshed with assurances that "every effort is being made to exercise maximum restraint to avoid any act which might worsen the situation in Cyprus."

"It is regrettable, however," Markarios added, "that Turkish extremists are deliberately creating incidents by armed action, endangering public safety and causing friction."

Southern Senators Finding Rights Slowdown 'Easier'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators are finding it easier than they apparently expected to keep up the flow of talk necessary to prevent a quick vote on the motion to take up the civil rights bill.

In the first two days of debate they had to deliver only three of their planned initial round of speeches. So others are still in reserve.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., for example, sent to newsmen Tuesday a copy of a speech he planned to make today. But later his office advised he could not even get the floor until Friday.

Supporters of the bill are trying to hold their remarks to a minimum. As usual in the Senate, there are a number of speeches on extraneous subjects.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., prepared a speech for delivery today on the war in Southeast Asia.

The Dixie senators are organized into the three six-member teams which have served them so well in previous civil rights battles.

On the opening day of debate Monday, Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., captain of one team, was the only member of that group who had to speak.

Tuesday, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., captain of another team, and one of his associates, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., used up all the available time.

The third team, headed by Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., was ready to take up the speaking chores today.

Despite the smoothly functioning Southern performance, leaders of both sides remained confident the foes of the bill would permit the motion to take up the bill to be adopted by the middle of next week.

Khrushchev, Arauzos Discuss Cyprus Crisis

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev received acting Foreign Minister Andrias Arauzos of Cyprus Tuesday and discussed the Cyprus crisis with him.

This was announced by the government news agency Tass, which said the conference took place at Khrushchev's vacation villa on the Black Sea. It was the first public announcement that Khrushchev is vacationing.

New Highway Group Sets Headquarters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Committee for Highway Progress, a recently formed organization that will work for passage of the proposed $500 million state highway bond issue, has established headquarters here.

Neil McElroy, chairman of the board of Procter & Gamble Co. of Cincinnati, and Thomas A. Burke, former Cleveland mayor and U. S. senator from Ohio, are co-chairmen of the committee.

Find Emperor's Villa

ROME (AP) — The suburban villa where Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius is believed to have been born in 12 A.D. has been discovered in excavations for a hospital.

People In News

Fay, who died in 1961, had willed his estate to a hospital and a church. The estate was estimated at $216,869, but taxes, debts and legal expenses reduced it to $93,153.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Singer Mel Torme has sued singer Judy Garland for $22,500.

His complaint, filed in Los Angeles, said she owes him that much on his contract as vocal arranger of her television show.

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert Moses, director of the New York World's Fair, asked a grocery chain to remove a huge sign advertising its bakery wares because, he said, it was so close to the fairgrounds it looked like a part of the fair.

The company refused.

So Moses ordered a frame, 70 feet high and 150 feet long, erected alongside a highway at the edge of the fairgrounds. It will be strung with pennants.

And, it'll hide the grocery sign.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Quote of the day: Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges, asked by reporters to comment on a Republican claim that the new tax cut might boost the economy in 1964, an election year, but would bring a "bust" in 1965: "Well, I'd rather have it in 1965 than in 1964."

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average three to five degrees above normal,. Normal high 43-44, normal low 25 - 29. Rising temperatures through Friday, cooler Saturday, warmer Sunday and Monday. Precipitation will average about one-fourth inch as scattered showers or snow flurries Friday night, again Monday.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average three to six degrees above normal. Normal high 47 56, normal low 29-34. Mild. Precipitation will average around one-tenth inch west to half an inch east tonight and near end of week.

Tass Makes Report On Hampshire Voting

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass sent its subscribers a 450-word report on New Hampshire's "so-called primary elections" Tuesday.

Tass explained the presidential primaries do not settle who will be nominated by "the two principal bourgeois parties" but "give an idea about the influence exerted on the voters by different Democratic and Republican candidates."

Nab 49 Suspects

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Police were reported today to have arrested 49 suspected Communists in Thailand's strategic northeastern provinces, where Communist infiltration has long been a problem.

Now MAYTAG offers you the worlds first Electronic Control Dryer in the low price field

New MAYTAG Highlander Dryer with Electronic Control

This is America's most advanced dryer! A totally different kind of dryer that won't overdry, won't bake in wrinkles. No matter what the load, clothes come out fluffy and soft, needing far less ironing.

Push the button that describes the results you want. The new Highlander Electronic Control Dryer has buttons for Regular Fabrics, Wash 'n Wears — even a button for Damp Dry. And, if you have drapes or pillows to be dusted or fluffed out, push the button marked "Air Fluff."

72 electronic "fingers" on the baffles in the drum measure the moisture in your clothes. When they're dried exactly right, off goes the heat! This means softer clothes with less wrinkles and makes ironing easier and faster.

MODEL DE-500

you can own a dependable MAYTAG
Multi-Temp•Pushbutton DRYER

- Fast Drying at Safe, Low Temperatures • Big Capacity Zinc Coated Cabinet defies rust
- Safety Door • Disc Lint Filter
- Ends "Hot Spots" • Economical operation

Now MAYTAG offers you the worlds first Electronic Control Dryer in the low price field

New MAYTAG Highlander Dryer with Electronic Control

This is America's most advanced dryer! A totally different kind of dryer that won't overdry, won't bake in wrinkles. No matter what the load, clothes come out fluffy and soft, needing far less ironing.

Push the button that describes the results you want. The new Highlander Electronic Control Dryer has buttons for Regular Fabrics, Wash 'n Wears—even a button for Damp Dry. And, if you have drapes or pillows to be dusted or fluffed out, push the button marked "Air Fluff."

MODEL DE-500

you can own a dependable MAYTAG Multi-Temp•Pushbutton DRYER

- Fast Drying at Safe, Low Temperatures
- Big Capacity Zinc Coated Cabinet defies rust
- Safety Door
- Disc Lint Filter
- Ends "Hot Spots"
- Economical operation

A Look
Will Tell You

912 WATSON STREET. At the nicer part of the Thompson-Vine section, a two story home with two large bedrooms, hardwood floors, newly remodeled bath, nice basement and Janitrol gas furnace, modern kitchen—plus a separate attached room fitted for beauty shop and operating now. One beauty unit included. A buy at $7,800.

2305 ST. CLAIR AVENUE. Story and a half older home, three bedrooms, hardwood floors, nice stone fireplace, full basement, nice kitchen and bath, large lot 53 x 140, single garage. Only one short block to Taft School. Everyone loves it except that the bedrooms are a little small. Let's look at $9,800.

1720 IDAHO AVENUE. A long time since you have seen a two story home so new as this one, and so modern. The ceilings are low, the plaster is excellent, has small dining room, nice bath and kitchen, full basement (divided), new York gas furnace, breezeway, patio and attached modern garage, big yard with a view. $10,500 is a fair price for it.

GLENMOOR. Red brick ranch home, enclosed breezeway and double attached garage with about an acre of level accessible ground, set back from the highway for privacy. It's not very old, nicely kept, full basement, oil furnace, nice kitchen and bath, plastered, real nice living room, some carpeting included, two bedrooms now, and you can easily heat the enclosed breezeway for a third one. $14,800.

912 WATSON STREET. At the nicer part of the Thompson-Vine section, a two story home with two large bedrooms, hardwood floors, newly remodeled bath, nice basement and Janitrol gas furnace, modern kitchen—plus a separate attached room fitted for beauty shop and operating now. One beauty unit included. A buy at $7,800.

2305 ST. CLAIR AVENUE. Story and a half older home, three bedrooms, hardwood floors, nice stone fireplace, full basement, nice kitchen and bath, large lot 53 x 140, single garage. Only one short block to Taft School. Everyone loves it except that the bedrooms are a little small. Let's look at $9,800.

1720 IDAHO AVENUE. A long time since you have seen a two story home so new as this one, and so modern. The ceilings are low, the plaster is excellent, has small dining room, nice bath and kitchen, full basement (divided), new York gas furnace, breezeway, patio and attached modern garage, big yard with a view. $10,500 is a fair price for it.

GLENMOOR. Red brick ranch home, enclosed breezeway and double attached garage with about an acre of level accessible ground, set back from the highway for privacy. It's not very old, nicely kept, full basement, oil furnace, nice kitchen and bath, plastered, real nice living room, some carpeting included, two bedrooms now, and you can easily heat the enclosed breezeway for a third one. $14,800.

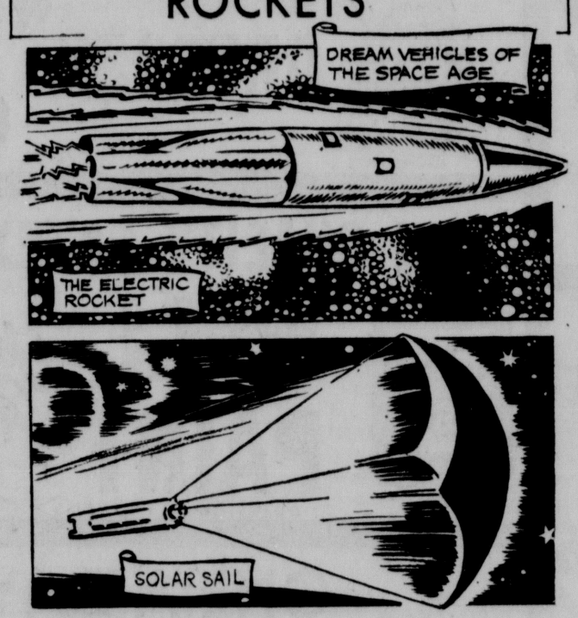
Junior Editors Quiz on ROCKETS



QUESTION: What would be the value of a plasma rocket?

ANSWER: The great problem which confronts our space engineer as they try to work out what kind of space craft could be designed to voyage beyond our solar system is that of speed. To escape from the earth's gravity, a rocket must travel at 25,000 miles an hour. At this speed, it would take two days to reach the moon, four months to reach Venus and eight months to reach Mars. Also, it would take a little matter of a thousand years to reach the nearest star, and that's too much! To make interstellar space travel possible, space scientists are dreaming of building ships which could travel close to the speed of light, which is 186,282 miles per second.

This is where the plasma rocket comes in. Plasma is a fourth state of matter where gas is "ionized", meaning its particles are given an electric charge. It is thought that by producing plasmas inside a rocket, it could then travel by jets of electric particles shooting out behind, and such travel could go on for a long time. Another bold space conception is the "solar sail" which would utilize solar energy, shot out into space by that new invention, the laser beam.

Junior Editors Quiz on ROCKETS

QUESTION: What would be the value of a plasma rocket?

ANSWER: The great problem which confronts our space engineer as they try to work out what kind of space craft could be designed to voyage beyond our solar system is that of speed. To escape from the earth's gravity, a rocket must travel at 25,000 miles an hour. At this speed, it would take two days to reach the moon, four months to reach Venus and eight months to reach Mars. Also, it would take a little matter of a thousand years to reach the nearest star, and that's too much! To make interstellar space travel possible, space scientists are dreaming of building ships which could travel close to the speed of light, which is 186,282 miles per second.

This is where the plasma rocket comes in. Plasma is a fourth state of matter where gas is "ionized", meaning its particles are given an electric charge. It is thought that by producing plasmas inside a rocket, it could then travel by jets of electric particles shooting out behind, and such travel could go on for a long time. Another bold space conception is the "solar sail" which would utilize solar energy, shot out into space by that new invention, the laser beam.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: We moved into a large new home several months ago and were able to entertain 40 friends at a sitdown supper New Year's Eve.

We went to considerable expense and invested a great deal of time and energy in the party plans. After the last guest had left my husband and I agreed the party was a huge success. We felt sure everyone had a wonderful time.

Of the 20 couples, only one called to say "thank you." Two wrote notes. I have seen almost all the others at one time or another since New Year's and not even one person has mentioned the party. We are beginning to wonder if we only imagined they had a good time.

Are we overly sensitive? — COLORADO READER.

Dear Reader: It isn't essential to phone or write to the hostess following a party, but it is indeed a hallmark of good manners. Don't be too hard on the lazy or socially imperfect. The test of a party is not how many people wrote or called to say "thank you," but how they responded when they were there.

Separate Vacations

Dear Ann: There is trouble in our family. Mom took a 10-day vacation with two married women who work in the same office with her. (Their husbands could not get away). Dad wanted to go but Mom said he would be out of place with three women.

Now Dad wants to go on a fishing trip with three of his buddies and Mom wants to go along. He says, "Nothing doing." Mom is making a fuss; it's a mess. What should be done? — TROUBLED SON.

Dear Son: Your Mom owes your Dad one fishing trip. They should have an agreement, however, that from now on all vacations are taken together.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Future Of Ohio Lies In Jobs For All, Rhodes Says

HURON, Ohio (AP)—The only answer for the future of our state in the long run is employment for all," Gov. James A. Rhodes told an industry appreciation audience Tuesday night.

Unemployment is "the greatest blight there is on the dignity and decency of man," said Rhodes in once again calling on Ohioans to join in an all-out war on joblessness.

"The only cure for unemployment is jobs."

He stressed the importance of creating an industrial climate in Ohio that will produce new jobs. Present industry must be encouraged to expand and new industry attracted to the state, he said.

Rhodes discussed the same topic at a similar session earlier in the day at Fremont.

Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, speaking in the same vein in Tiffin, said, "the enemies of a favorable economic climate in Ohio are beginning to work again."

Rapping critics of the State Development Department, Brown said they are "deliberately avoiding the facts," which, he said, are that Ohio has begun an economic recovery that indicates "a sharp increase in jobs from new and expanded industry."

13 Cars Derailed

EATON, Ohio (AP)—Thirteen cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train were derailed Tuesday night in an accident at Camden, nine miles south of here. No injuries were reported and authorities made no damage estimate immediately.

Hospital Unit Due

CLEVELAND (AP) — Construction of a $4 million addition that will double the capacity of Fairview Park Hospital is scheduled to begin this summer. Included in the addition will be an ambulatory care center, an intensive-care psychiatric unit, a 35-bed chronic illness unit, 23 additional private rooms and expanded maternal and surgical sections.

Cleveland Seeks Extradition Of Convicted Thief

CLEVELAND (AP) — Authorities here say they will fight to extradite from Louisiana a convicted burglar with six wives who faces deportation to his native Denmark.

The man, Hans Jorgen Otto, 37, finishes a two-year prison term for burglary in Louisiana this week, and Southern authorities have said they want to deport him.

Cleveland's police department is among 12 in various states seeking Otto. The situation is further complicated because New York state authorities claim prior jurisdiction to Otto on charges of bigamy and also say they want to deport him.

Cleveland officials said Otto returned to this country after being deported to Copenhagen in 1948.

They said Otto left behind two women he married in New York when he came to Cleveland in 1960 and married another woman. They said he fled Cleveland shortly after his marriage and married three more women during a 12-state burglary spree.

Otto is accused of a $5,000 burglary at the El Dorado, a Euclid Avenue night spot where he was working in April 1960. He also took the wardrobe of Herman Pirchner, owner of the club, detectives said.

Murder And Suicide Ruled In Death Of 2

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Carolyn Jones, 29, of Columbus and her former boy friend died Tuesday night in what city police said was a murder and suicide.

The Jones woman was shot in the head two times after a quarrel at her home with Wallace Lindsay, 40. Officers later spotted Lindsay's car at the home of his former wife. As they approached, they heard a shot. Lindsay's body was found inside the home. They said he died of a self-inflicted head wound.

Youngster, 9, Drowns In Rain-Swollen Creek

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Terry Lee Blackburn, 9, drowned in rain-swollen Cross Creek Tuesday at Broadacre, a half mile from his home and 10 miles west of Steubenville.
